

23 REPEAL BILLS DEFOUSTED, IS PLAN

Champ Clark Would Ostracize Party Members Who Let Cannon Succeed.

SCHEME IS FREELY TALKED

If Despotism Is Carried Out, Exiled Members Must Seek Organization With Republicans or Form New Party.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—(Special.)—By way of a contribution to the general anxiety of the event, the House Democratic organization is planning to read out of the party all members of the minority who made it possible for the Cannon forces to re-enact despotism. Minority leader Champ Clark's friends are taking steps already to shut the ignominious 23 out of the House caucus which is proposed to hold at the opening of Congress to outline the policy of legislative action, with special reference to campaigns next year and thereafter. It became known today that the movement indicated has taken serious shape. Incoming Democrats are being urged to discuss the subject in more or less open, and it is intimated that letters bearing on the subject have been exchanged between leaders during the Fall weeks.

A deep purpose is understood to be involved, and the emphatic declarations of Champ Clark in the West that the next House will have 100 Democratic majority may reflect the hopes that have been built partially on the plans of action under consideration. Political ostracism is not a new effort, but it most frequently fails lamentably in practice. The Democrats, however, have as fine a chance, according to what a few of the Clark disciples have let drop, to accomplish something in that line that will attract the attention of the country. If the plan of shutting the 23 Cannon Democrats out of the House caucus goes through, the 23 in question will have to seek consolation where they gave it when they went to the Speaker's rescue last March, or else get along without any political status, so far as the House organization is concerned.

Taft Outlines Plans

The issue of stocks and bonds by interstate corporations as the next step. It is worth while to point out, however, to the friends of corporations who are already beginning to quake over the Winter prospect, that although he is determined to go ahead in his declared purpose of "clenching the Roosevelt policies," Mr. Taft is far from being an enemy of the corporations. The President's chief difficulty, in fact, in pressing the extreme side of his party, has been in the fact that he would not go as far as either side wants him to go. He has always been for the regular side, but he has not wanted the radicals to insist upon, but he wants it "with the least disturbance possible," and with the greatest possible regard for the interests of the property. Moreover, he is firmly a believer in the advantages of the corporate form of enterprise. He really desires to protect the corporate form at the same time he wants to compel them all to submit to what he regards as a proper and legitimate measure of governmental supervision and control. Whether the measure will be the factory law or the wing of the President's party cannot be foretold with certainty—but perhaps it will not suit either. The ultra-conservative side is prone to see in it an assault upon a status that they would like to let alone; the radicals will not believe, perhaps, that it goes far enough. Some of the more important of the radicals, in fact, have already made up their minds that the real design of some of the proposals is to help the corporations out of their present difficulties with governmental control.

The details of the bills by which the President hopes to effect the reforms he will propose have not been worked out. There are several methods by which the control of the issues of the country can be effected. The first and fundamental question to be determined by his advisers is whether it shall be attempted as a measure of taxation or through the commerce clause of the Constitution. As a taxation measure there would be no question of its constitutionality. Nor, for that matter, is the right to tax evoked. But that is certain in any event. If attempted under the commerce clause of the Constitution, the bill is likely to meet another kind of opposition and be certain as to its operation until it has stood the test of the Supreme Court several years after enactment. Under that clause it would have to be some form of registration or license. Attorney-General Wickersham and Secretary Nagel have been at work on the proposition all Summer, and the result of their labors is about to be submitted to other lawyers of the Cabinet and to Senators Root and Cummins for suggestion and criticism.

FRENCH STARTLES IDAHO

Opposes Cannon Rule and Says He Will Run for Congress.

BOISE Idaho, Nov. 14.—(Special.)—With Congressman Homer canvassing Idaho endorsing Cannonism in the lower house of Congress, the massive being which is still at large, the measure of the last session, political circles were jarred here today by a public statement made by ex-Congressman French, of Blitzen. He placed himself on record as bitterly opposed to Cannon and his principles and admitted that he would probably present his name at the primaries next Fall as a candidate for Congress against the present incumbent.

MANUEL OFF FOR ENGLAND

Portugal's King Boards Edward's Yacht, Which Sails Today.

CHERBOURG, Nov. 14.—King Manuel of Portugal, arrived today from Bordeaux and was greeted by a representative of President Fallieres. The British royal yacht Victoria and Albert was in waiting, and the King boarded her. He will sail tomorrow for England, where he is to visit King Edward.

Taft will recommend that the general prohibition of the present law against all combinations and contracts in restraint of trade be limited to such as constitute conspiracies with intent to restrain trade. He means to inject the word "intent" into the law, and the radicals are already on the warpath about it, declaring that it will result in opening the door to any and every sort of violation of the trust law, owing to the practical impossibility of proving the criminal intention of the trade restrainers.

Champ Clark, Minority Leader of House, Who Would Ostracize Democrats Who Aided Cannon.

Mr. Taft will also recommend the establishment of a postal savings bank, and there, also, he is in difficulty, chiefly because some of the men who want most to support him on the proposition can not see their way clear to doing so constitutionally. They fear that the postal savings bank would interfere with the control now exercised over property by the states, so that, for instance, a man might deposit his savings in the Government bank and avoid process for collection of debt in his state.

MONTREAL LOSES WHEAT

CANADIAN SHIPMENTS GO OUT OTHER WAYS.

With Much Greater Crop Than Last Year, Receipts at St. Lawrence Port Are Smaller.

MONTREAL, Nov. 14.—(Special.)—A somewhat extraordinary situation has developed in the shipments of wheat from Canadian ports, and the prevailing condition seriously affects the Port of Montreal. While the wheat crop in the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta is about 25,000,000 bushels greater than that of last year, the shipments by way of Montreal since the movement of the new crop began up to the present time are actually less than a year ago.

HOVENDEN-SOULE PIANO CO.

Now is the time to buy a piano, and ours is the place. We have no $400 pianos we are closing out at $268; neither have we a lot of pianos that supposedly have taken grand prizes recently for their superior merits, that we are sacrificing, but we have the best piano for $225.00 that can be found in the city. The fact we are Northwest representatives of a number of the best Eastern factories makes it possible for us to sell you a good piano for less than you can obtain the same grade elsewhere. So do not think of buying a piano until you have seen us. An inspection of our pianos will imply no obligation whatever to purchase. Remember, we sell the great APOLLO, the king of all player-pianos.
