

ILLINOIS WOMEN TO TALK SUFFRAGE

Convention This Week Will Bring Out Prominent Workers of State.

FIVE SESSIONS TO BE HELD

Man Who Made Votes for Women Possible in Colorado Is Also to Take Leading Part in Discussions in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—(Special).—Dr. Barton O. Ayres, president of the Colorado Agricultural College, of Fort Collins, Colo., and one of the founders who made woman suffrage possible in that state, will be one of the principal speakers at the Illinois Equal Suffrage Association's convention, which will be opened here next Friday morning.

Three sessions will be held Friday and two Saturday. The sessions of the first day will be at the North Side Church, and of the second at the state headquarters in the Fine Arts building and at the Auditorium Hotel.

Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCulloch, Evanston's Justice of the Peace, will open the afternoon session with a report on the legislative work of the past year in regard to woman's suffrage.

Mrs. Iva G. Wooden will report on the press work and Mrs. Jessie Hardy Stubbs will address the convention on "The Suffrage Booth at the State Fair."

College Women to Speak.

The work of college women in aiding to get the ballot for their sex will be discussed by Miss Frances Weston, president of the Illinois branch College Equal Suffrage Association, and light will be shed upon "The Great Congressional Petition" by Mrs. Minnie B. Watkins.

The other addresses will be by Miss Mary McDowell, Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout and Josephine Casey. The subjects will be "The Ten-Hour Day," "Why I Believe in Woman Suffrage," and "Reasons Why the Woman Who Works Wants to Vote."

It is possible that some of the most prominent of the English workers for suffrage, now in this country—Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst and Miss Mary W. Chapman—may be present at the Illinois convention.

Most Eloquent Woman in World.

America has just welcomed Mrs. Philip Snowden, the most beautiful of the English suffragettes. She is only 27 years old and is credited with being the most eloquent woman in the world. Her first appearance in public was at a meeting held in the church of Dr. Aked, then in charge of an English congregation but now the pastor of a New York church. It was during the Boer war and Dr. Aked had spoken frequently and firmly denouncing the position of England toward the Boers.

Mrs. Snowden was moved to rise and make a lecture tour of the United States, the object of which is to raise funds for the English campaign.

Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch, president of the League of Self-Supporting Women, was one of the prominent suffragettes to meet Mrs. Pankhurst on her arrival. Mrs. Blatch has been very conspicuous in the suffragette question for some years.

and the two girls and Mitchell were carried into a nearby residence, where they were cared for as best they could be in the absence of instruments or medicine until the arrival of Drs. A. W. and J. S. Moore, who were called by telephone together with the Holman motor ambulance. Mitchell was sent immediately to St. Vincent's Hospital. He did not regain consciousness until late last night and was unable to make a statement of the affair.

Both the girls were sent to Good Samaritan Hospital in an automobile from the Lloyd Auto Livery Company, 225 Washington street, by which Mitchell is employed, and which owns the wrecked car. Their injuries were temporarily attended by Dr. Charles L. Ryke, of the hospital staff, until the arrival of Dr. James C. Zan.

Both girls at first denied they had been drinking. Miss Brown later admitted to Sheriff Stevens that she had two cocktails, served in cups, at the Twelve-Mile House, and she said Miss Platt had made that statement of how the accident occurred. All either knew was that they were riding along as a terrific crash when the car was sharply swerved so quickly and at such a sharp angle that both were thrown out.

"We got out at the Twelve-Mile House and drank some hot chocolate, that was all, and sat in front of the fire for about an hour. Probably longer," both declared, when first interviewed.

This statement is supported by Merrill, who said nothing stronger than chocolate was drunk.

"I did not sell a drop of liquor all day yesterday, and personally locked it all up Saturday night," said Merrill. "Not a cocktail has been dispensed in my house in a month, and no liquor was ever sold there in a cup."

Girls Had Been Drinking.

That the young women had been drinking, however, was evident from their actions, and there was a pronounced odor of liquor on their breath when they talked of the accident.

his attorney, Ray Sullivan, took the papers to Justice Court in a fit suit against her for automobile hire. When she was notified by Constable Wagner of the impending suit, she replied over the telephone, "I will go out and dig up the money. Tell them to hold it off." The account was later paid.

GRAND JURY TO TAKE UP CASE

Merrill's Activity in Selling Liquor Will Be Probed.

After making a thorough investigation of the case Sheriff Stevens last night declared as soon as Mitchell regains consciousness he will place him under arrest charged with criminal carelessness.

"In addition to this," said Sheriff Stevens, "Fred Merrill's case will be laid before the District Attorney's office tomorrow morning. I was confident all along they had been drinking and Miss Brown admitted it to me at the Good Samaritan Hospital last night."

The grand jury now in session will probably commence an investigation of the case this morning.

GRIDIRON HURTS FATAL

ARCHER CHRISTIAN, VIRGINIA'S HALFBACK, DEAD.

Coroner's Jury Asked to Recommend Modification of Football's Rough Plays—Police Laxity Blamed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Football claimed another victim when Archer Christian, 18 years old, left halfback of the University of Virginia team, who was injured in the game with Georgetown University Saturday, died at Georgetown University Hospital this morning. An autopsy disclosed that death was due to cerebral hemorrhage following concussion of the brain.

The coroner has sworn a jury of prominent citizens whose duty it will be to suggest some modification of the rougher features of football and to look into the question of alleged police laxity and indifference following the accident.

In addition to the alleged indifference of the police, following the accident, it is charged that Andrew Christian, a brother of the dead man, died in a football suit, endeavoring to accompany the patrol wagon in which his brother had been laid, was roughly mistreated by a policeman, the latter striking him and shoving him off the rear steps.

The death of Christian has put an end to all football playing by Georgetown and Virginia this season. Today President Joseph Himmell, of Georgetown, sent his regrets to Dr. Albarton, president of the University of Virginia.

"I regret exceedingly the sad misfortune that occurred here yesterday, an earnest of our sympathy we have canceled all football engagements."

Virginia has also cancelled other games and disbanded her team. It was said today that the mother of the dead player was fearful regarding the fate of her boy, having had a premonition that he would be injured. Though in Washington she did not go to yesterday's game, she telephoned the hospital to learn if her boy had been injured.

HOUSEBREAKERS GET BUSY

Residence, Cigar Store and Pharmacy Entered Early in Evening.

In the early hours of last night the residence of James Bockenstos, East Twentieth and Sandy Road, was burglarized and a number of articles of jewelry, together with a violin and leather music roll carried away.

Chewing gum was secured by the persons who entered the cigar store of S. D. Niles, at 26th and street some time during the evening. Four dollars' worth was taken. Entrance was secured through a transom.

At the Portsmouth drug store and Albert's millinery store, 919 and 808 Dawson street, the pilferers detached and carried away the aluminum letters forming the window signs.

Police officers were detailed on all the cases.

PULPITS 'O. K.' MOB

Recent Lynchings Upheld by Cairo Preachers.

CAIRO, Ill., Nov. 14.—Cairo was in the grasp of a firm authority today and it was the quietest Sunday that has been its lot in years. Saloons were not open and the few attempts to evade the order of Governor Deussen in this respect met with quick detection, several arrests being made by the militia.

STRANDED STEAMER SAFE

Lake Vessel in No Danger of Going to Pieces at Once.

DULUTH, Minn., Nov. 14.—The steamer James J. Hoyt, which is stranded on a reef two miles northeast of Otter Island, one of the Apostle group, is in comparative safety, according to the officers of the steamer J. H. Harlow, which arrived in Duluth tonight.

The heavy storm of Friday night was safely weathered by the grounded vessel, and unless the wind veers, she will be comparatively safe.

KINGSTON NOT INJURED

STORM IN JAMAICA REPORTED TO HAVE SPENT ITS FURY.

Property Loss Immense by Heavy Floods That Inundate One Town Three Feet.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Nov. 14.—After torrential rains lasting many days, normal weather conditions prevail, but it is difficult to ascertain the extent of the damage done by one of the worst storms in Jamaica's history. Practically all telegraph lines are down and railroads have been badly washed out. While the entire eastern portion of the island was swept by winds and rains, no earth shocks occurred and damage to crops and property is largely from floods.

Reports from St. Mary, an independent banana center, say that within a radius of ten miles of Port Maria, banana fields were entirely laid waste. The town of Anello Bay for a time was three feet under water. Grave fears were entertained for several days regarding the safety of inhabitants of that section, but the floods now are subsiding. So far as can be learned, no lives were lost.
