POSIES OF WORLD TO BE TRIED HERE

Festival Chiefs Plan to Make Portland Bud Hothouse of Universe.

EVERY KNOWN ROSE SOUGHT

Celebration Committee to Ask Government to Aid Portland in Its Quest-Hoyt to Begin

Plan Soon.

It is planned by the Portland Rose Festival to undertake the propagation In this city of every variety of rose that grows and thrives under the sun. By this means President Hoyt hopes that the Festival idea will be perpetu-ated more than by any form of celebraated more than by any form of celebra-tion or expenditure of money that may be devised. The plan will be set in motion immediately to secure either "slips" or bushes of every kind of rose that grows on the face of the earth. The United States Department of Agri-mition directly through Secretary Wilculture directly through Secretary Wil-son will be asked to lend the influence of his department to the development of this idea. It is also to be furthered of this idea. It is also to be furthered through correspondence with the com-mercial agents (Consuls and Vice-Con-suls) of the United States Government wherever they may be stationed. Portland has claimed the credit of being the foremost "city of roses" in the world the world.

'And now let's make this boast good,' declared President Hoyt yesterday.

Boast to Be Verified.

The first step in this line was taken yesterday when Secretary Wilson was thanked for his promise to send a repthanked for his promise to send a rep-resentative of the Agricultural Depart-ment here for "Röge Planting Day," February 22. Secretary Wilson had suggested in reply to the invitation to be nore in person that the far-famed Bohemian rose, which is known the world over for its production of the "ättar of rose" perfume, has been ex-perimented with in the United States, and that it should be sent to Portland and Styen a chance in this favoring and given a chance in this favoring climate, ideal soil and other generally atractive conditions.

In response thereto, request was made for a number of the "attar" roses which will come from their native soll and be delivered here under the patronage of the Agricultural Department for propagation. Rose Festival officials feel that by turn-ing these samples over to some of the expert rosarians of this city results, equal to those obtained in the old country, may be obtained in Portland.

Portland to Try Perfume.

Although the rose has been the queen of flowers in this city for more than half a century no attempt has been made to see what can be done to produce the ex-see what can be done to produce the ex-quisite perfume known the world over as the "attar of roses." It is believed, how-seer that conditions here are such that Portland may eventually become a po-ducing center for this wonderfully at-tractive article of commerce. According to President Hoyt, of the Festival, Portland has already been able to show the world that it is the greatest rose-producing city in the United States, if not in the world, and his purpose now is to ask all the Consuls of the United States to furnish reports regarding the culture of this flower in the countries and cities where they are stationed and and cities where they are stationed and from them secure busics for planting and experimentation here. liis may see

WARD STEALS AWAY M. French, M. R. Lewis, V. Jones, Smith & Everett, Al Vincen Jones, Smith & Everett. Almost all these applications resulted directly from the enthusiastic meeting in con-nection with the board dinner carly in the month. The campaign for new members will be continued. A committee was appointed by Presi-dent Fries to take charge of the ar-rangement for the December dinner, which will be held on the first Friday evening of the month. At this meet-ing the members of the board and their guests will be given a talk on the Almost al guests will be given a talk on the work the O. R. & N. is doing in Oregon. Resolutions relative to the death of R. M. Wilbur, a pioneer real estate man, who was a member of the board, were adopted. They read in part:

"Be it resolved, that in the death of R. M. Wilbur we have lost a business associate whose business integrity was unquestioned, whose sense of honor was the highest, whose nicely balanced judgment in business affairs was ac-knowledged by all with whom he came in contact, and whose kindness of heart, affability and innate courtesy made him a pleasant companion, and a pleasing associate at all times." The resolutions were signed by H. P. Palmer, George Dekum, E. J. Daly, Allan Slausen, J. O. Rountree.

DETECTIVE HITS

JOE DAY SCORES JURIST IN PO-LICE SCANDAL.

Responsibility of Delay Placed on Shoulders of Captain Moore. Welcomes Investigation.

Joe Day, in whose hands the work of clearing the city of bunco men and like crooks had been placed and who admittodly is the object of Judge Bennett's attack, retaliates by saying that Judge Bennett has motives which ought to be made clear. He throws the responsibility of the delay upon the shoulders of Cap-tain Moore and accuses A. K. Bentley, who has been in the City Council for two erms, of having been behind the activity of Judge Bennett, insinuating that Bentley had a deal with the crocks and that an endeavor was made to "fix" Day by the offer of money if he would protect certain men.

sertain men. Detective Day began his remarks by saying that he had never taken a dis-nonest dollar in his life. "With my right hand in the air and before my God I can truthfully say that."

said he. "There may be something in this, but I welcome any investigation. I have no favors to show to any thieves. have no isvors to show to any uneves. I fear not the consequences of an inves-tigation. I will be glad to have it run down and the real truth made known, I will tell what I know about it. When McSherry and Abbott and their gang were run out of town it was done be-cause they came to me and made me an fraction scales them. Kid Harel who cause they came to me and made me an offer to protect them. Kid Hazel, who goes out fishing with Bentley, and Bent-ley you know has his office with Ben-nett, came to me on the street and of-fered me $250 per week if I would let them work here. I marched that gang of men down to the police station at the point of my gun and told the Chief all that had transpired. They had defied me and said that they would work in spite of me, and that was the climax to it. "Now here is the trouble with it. Some epite of me, and that was the triank to ft. "Now here is the trouble with it. Some one had approached me in behalf of these men, and I think I can prove that Mr. Bentley was to come to me and make an offer, a proposition for crooked work. Hazel had approached me on the street and told me that a prominent man who had been in the City Council twice would see me in their behalf and that they "fixed all and got their suckers out of town. A man afterwards called me on the phone and told me not to be a fool, but to listen to his talk. He requested that McSherry, Kid Hazel, Kid Abbott, Smithy Watson and Yorky work in this town.

"When I demanded his name he said that he wouldn't tell. In two or three hours more another man called me on According to Genesis "blissful Eden" does not appear till sometime after creation was finished, and vegetable the phone and wanted to make me a proposition. He said that there were a few people in town that wanted to do think on the testimony of geological history, thousands, of years. Be the time what it may, science cannot take husiness here. I knew what he was after and I tried to lead him on, so I kept asking him questions, "I wanted to know his name again and us back to origins-to the first dawn of life and of creation. All life was "perfect" in its own domain, whether "I wanted to know his name again and he said that when we got through with the proposition, if it were agreeably fixed up he would tell me his name. "There will be a good sum in it every week for you, Day," he said. When he said that I said T am very much obliged to you, Mr. Bentley, but there will be nothing—" and with that he hung up the none the life of a spore, of a rhizapod or of a man. It is a question still open, yet I be-live, whether the present forms of life are improving in the way of perfection, physical or moral. "There never was any 'fall of man,' but there has been the phone. continuous rise from low beginnings." "I don't claim to be infallible. All that I can say is that the charges directed I know this is the echo of the trumpet of science today, standing upon the high eminences of its wonderful ac-complisiments. But of what value is the echo when the original shout is gainst me are wrong. Every crook that against me are wrong. Every crook that I knew who entered this town has been taken down to the Chief's office, as it is done in every big city in the country. It is quite possible that a bunch of men unknown to me, whom I have never seen before, might get into this city and work a little before they would be found out, but the comments before here work before. based on testimony that would not stand in court? There may have never been any "fall of man," as The Oregonian says, but can it prove the state-ment is false by the rules of evidence but that any gang has been at work here under protection from me is absurd. No in earthly courts. "No person of respectable standing in the world of science doubts that human under protection from the 19 addrd. No one man nor no dozen men could protect a gang like that spoken of. The city government would have to be corrupt in order to accomplish a thing like that. I hope the investigation is immediate, for I will tell all I know. "I am glad that I made the statement beings and the apes had a common an-cestor." There is such a thing as be-ing cock-sure aid being mistaken at Grandmother Says Father Kidnaped Him at Troutdale.

BOY FLEES AS SHE SLEEPS

Henry Proctor, of Vancouver, Accused by Mrs. Tillison-Lad's Visits His Guardian School for Clews.

GRESHAM, Or., Nov. 16 .- (Special.)-Threats of a criminal prosecution against Henry Proctor, of Vancouver, Wash., was made today by Mrs. Tillison, of Troutdale, who accuses Proctor of kidnaping her son. The boy, it seems, went away voluntarily last Friday night, going home with his father; but Mrs. Tillison, who declares she is the boy's legal guardian, asserts that the departure of the boy was unknown to her and against her will.

Proctor, it is said, told schoolmates of the lad, of the Terry school, that he is the grandson of Mrs. Tillison on his mother's side, but was not accorded the treatment due him and was dissatisfied with his home. Proctor is also quoted as saying that the youngster wrote to his father last week with the result that Proctor went to Troutdale Friday. Father and son, Mrs. Tillison says, made a night trip to Vancouver

Before she knew her ward had gone. George is about 15 years old and has lived with Mrs. Tillison for the last five years. She says the boy's mother died when he was two years old and that he was inistreated by his stepmother, resulting in his father giving consent to a legal adoption, and that she took the boy to rear. A talk between father and son at the schoolhouse Friday resulted in a meeting late that night after the boy had gone to bed and had stolen out of the house, when his grandmother was asleep. When she found him gone Saturday morning she gave an alarm but was informed by some of the boy's companions whom he had confided in that he had fled. Mrs. Tillison visited the Terry school yesterday in an effort to secure evidence needed to file a complaint against Proctor, accusing him of kidnaping

ANENT THAT MISSING LINK. Some Doubt Whether Man and the Ape Had a Common Ancestor.

SALEM. Or., Nov. 16 .- (To the Editor.)—In The Oregonian of October 12, an article tells us something about "The Missing Link" that from time to time comes to the surface in the maga-zines and newspapers. A few days ago in Texas, by the reports, the scientists have uncarthed one or more specimens. As The Oregonian truly says such "links" are numerous below us though undiscovered. The beautiful continu ity of Nature represented in its animal and vegatal forms is a vast vital chain composed, not only of adjacent but of connecting links as well. This is perhaps more true of the chain above ground and around us than of the broken fossil one below. The writer continues: "Geological history offers no warrant for the belief that life was originally created perfect in a blissful Eden.' I am not aware that anybody thinks it does nor that any sort of history does. Certainly Bible history does not

Both Ways It's Good

HEN you pick up the beautiful big December number of THE DELINEATOR you may like to exercise a woman's prerogative of turning to the last page "just to see how it comes out."

If you do, you will find there a most artistic appeal to every sweet tooth in America.

Then if you turn backward past the quaint little Eskimo eating his Christmas-tree candles,-past Aunt Betty's cheery letter,-past Sir Launcelot's Christmas fun for boys, -past Donakin's wonderful adventures with his "Wild-West" book,-past Mammy Possum, and the Jenny Wren Club, you will run into the last end of Eugene Wood's magnetically human fact story, "Attending to His Drop." Among all the interesting, amusing, and necessary things that fill each month's Delineator there is always something that insists on being read first. This is one of them.

If you start at the front end, after you have enjoyed the lovely painting by Gardner Soper, run through the pages where the last word in fashions is illustrated so charmingly in color. Pause for a moment at page 494; don't overlook its message. Read how a great group of readers can be of help to the editors, and how simple it is for the same readers to be of service to others. Now look at the story of the Pope's gentle life,-at the charming tale by the author of "Wee MacGreegor,"-guess "What a Home with Forty Daughters" is about, and fall haphazard on the new Kipling story-there again you are treed, and it may be hours, perhaps days, before you will ever strike the heart of the magazine with its four full-page wonder-paintings of NEW YORK, that took nearly a year in the making, and that would look so cheerful on the nursery walls.

said he last night thing to accomplish,' "but Secretary Wilson's letter, received several days ago, is sufficient evidence of the fact that Portalnel stands at the head of 'rose cities' in the country, and that is why we feel that we have a right to ask the Government to assist us in gathering every variety of rose that is grown the world over so that we may try them here.

Help of All Sought.

"This is a line of endeavor that so far as we know has never been undertaken as we know has never been untertaken anywhere and we hope to make this echeme a distinctive Portland idea." The co-operation of the leading rosar-lans and nurserymen of Portland will be asked in furtherance of this plan for mak-ing Portland not only the "rose city" but also the "rose garden" of the world. Cor-computing the the Gaverneent and respondence with the Government and with American Consulates will be undertaken at once with a hope of securing re-sults if possible for "Rose. Planting day" next February and if not, in time for considerable development during the rose season next Summer.

MAYOR CHAFES AT DELAY

Early Letting of Contract for Garbage Crematory Simon's Wish.

Mayer Simon is determined that there shall be no more delay in regard to awarding a contract for the garbage crematory, and when bids are opened December 20, by the Board of Health, it is his intention to ask the members to refer them to a committee, which will make a quick investigation and report back, if necessary at a special session of the Board, at which he dealres that a contract be let. "I am very desirous of having the crematery proposition off my hands," said the Mayor yesterday. "While we are getting along well now with the garbage at the present crematory, we need a new one very much, and I hope that it will be possible for us to build it not later than the first of build it not later than the first of next year." Councilman Lombard is visiting throughout the East, and is sending in data from various places regarding crematories, but he is finding that it is a difficult problem for a isyman to earn much from a casual visit to the incinerators. It is an engineering problem, and it is probable that the Board of Health will leave the selection of the new crematory largely to Superin-tendent Napler, of the crematory, and City Engineer Morris, both of whom

Seventeen New Members Added to Portland Association.

At a special meeting of the Portland Realty Board yesterday afternoon, 17 firms were admitted to membership. These firms are: Keasey, Humason & Jeffery, Wilson & Pageler, C. F. Bunker. and fire plugs.

W. J. Smith. Murphy & Caswell, C. L. Bamberger, Weldon Darling, Souther-Albertson Co., Goddard & Wiedrick, J. W. J. Smith. Murphy & Caswell, C. L. Bamberger, Weldon Darling, Souther-Albertson Co., Goddard & Wiedrick, J. Fred Larsen, F. L. Purse, Fruhauff Restly Co., D. Parker Bryon & Co., J. would carry passengers.

I am gian that I must be belind the Rich-ardson prosecution before Judge Bennett, for I may be able to prove it. The first delay in the work on the Waison case was caused by Captain Moore. He said that he had all the evidence and that no other work was necessary. The case other work was necessary. The case was never turned over to the detective department until days afterwards."

EAST ST. JOHN SEEKS CARS

Plans Laid Looking Toward Kenton Line Extension.

At the meeting of the University Board of Trade Monday hight at the office of Sibray & Hart, resolutions way, Light & Power Company and urge the importance of this branch line.

The meeting also went on record as opposed to making streets out of the boulevards on the Peninsula, which are now in the hands of the county. In the matter of sewage, 11 was the opin-ion of the meeting that it was too soon have considerable knowledge of the to start to build a sewer system on the northwestern half of the Peninsula, as the district is not yet sufficiently sottled and the cost would be too heavy at present. Councilman Ellis was present and addressed the meeting on improvements on the Peninsula. He said that he would act against the expressed wishe of the people in regard to the boule vards, if they wanted them to continuwishes as county roads, although he thought some portions ought to be taken over so street crossings could be made. He spoke of plans for providing hose ing cock-sure aid being mistaken at the same time, and here is one of the instances. Wonder if The Oregonian writer ever heard of Sir J. W. Dawson? Did he ever read Dawson's "Modern Ideas of Evolution," a comparatively modern book if ho has not I would advise him to. Sir William was cer-tainly a scientist of no mean repute-an authority on geology author of an authority on geology, author of several scientific books and papers. He did assuredly "doubt that human beings and apes had a common ancestor." Also the late Professor Rudolph Vir-chow, the foremost physiologist of his day in Europe, and his day was only two or three decades ago. Also the celebrated Louis Agassiz, of Harvard. In 1877 Virchow stood up in a congress of distinguished scientists at Munich and declared it was not a proved propo-sition of science, that man had de-scended from apes nor from any other animal. And Agassiz is well known to have disavowed the development hypothesis, at least as to man. And the lamented Hugh Miller, the famous Scottish geologist, and A. R. Wallace, co-promulgator of the doctrine of mat-ural selection with Darwin taught that the rational and spiritual nature of man was not derived from his apof man was not derived from his ape ancestors but were the gifts of the Almighty. These were all men of "re-spectable standing in the world of science." I may also mention Jas. D. Dana, the famous teacher of geology in Harvard, and Professor Arnold Guyot. These, too, were "respectable" scien-tists much doubting their similar origin. tists, much doubting their simian origin

The Oregonian ought to modify some of its statements. It is quite likely the "missing link," one of which would be but one among thousands, according to the theory, will never be found. So

ROBBER SUSPECT FIGHTS

Tackle it from either end, front or back, it makes little difference; it's a fine, big, inspiring, sumptuous number of THE DELINEATOR, and you need it.

BETTER GET IT NOW

THE BUTTERICK PUBLISHING CO.,

Grove, Or., and turned over to the Fed- Town Marshal, who succeeded in landcounty Jall awaiting arraignment in counter. Several sheets of stamps and

Alleged Postoffice Thief Bearing Stamps Is Caught. Robert Plegg an alleged postoffice day by Marshal Snodr~ss, of Cottage

Cuban campaigns.

Butterick Building, NEW YORK Sounds good

Jigprune

docan't 11? Castes better. Why shouldn't it? It's made from fruit and grain-as pure as old mother nature. Children brought up to drink this will be free from all stomach troubles. All grocers served throughout the Philippines and

Alleged Postoffice Thief Bearing

to the theory, with the better give up trying. N. J. BOWERS.