Eastern and Foreign Dealers Hammer the Market.

STIFLE BREWERY DEMAND

Prices Are Several Cents Lower Than They Should Be-All Grains Strong-Poultry Trade Is Heavy.

Trade in the local hop market has been reduced to very small proportions. A few lots changed hands yesterday at about 22 cents, but the inquiry was slack in all quarters. With the subsidence of the demand in Oregon and Washington prices have worked back, until 23 cents is now quoted as the top of the market for the best goods.

This recession, however, has not had the effect of bringing many hops on the market, and the larger growers and speculators still refuse to part with their heldings at

The technical position of the market is as strong as it ever was, and but for the forces at work to keep it down, prices would be much higher than they are now. With Straus, of London, advising the English brewers to defer their purchases, and Fox, of New York, telling the American hrewers to do the same, the demand has been effectually stitled. This accounts for the sasier feeling in all the American markets. Whether the hears can continue long to hammer the market remains to be seen, out just now they are baving their inning. The tide may turn any day, however, and the shorts be driven to cover on a rising

A very large portion of the 1909 growth of English hope has passed into consumers' bands, but the demand is still brisk, although prices gradually advance. Yearling hops are in better demand at very full values, while some attention is also paid to older growths, the supply of which is extremely limited. Continental markets have somewhat recovered, and show a decidedly firmer tendency. American markets are firm, but without a great quantity of business for export.

COUNTRY WHEAT MARKETS STRONG. Extreme Prices Are Still Being Offered by

Extreme Prices are still being offered in the country wheat markets by millers and other grain men who must have wheat. The larger buyers are not following the lead set by the smaller firms, and the business under way is, consequently, of small proportions. Farmers, as a rule, small proportions. Farmers, as a rule, are holding stiffly and those who do let go get the prices asked. Business in the local market has been light for some time past. A sale of bluestem was reported yesterday at $1.07 in and a lot was sold for Seattle account at $1.08. Club was quoted at 96

There is a strong demand for cats in the country and very few are now coming this way. Only one car strived yesterday. There were hids on the local market at $29.50, but most holders ask $30. Barley was firm and quoted at $27.50@28.

THE FEATURE COPPERS

Uncertain State of the Merger Project Has Effect on the Market. Money Conditions Are Relaxing.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The confusion in the movement of prices in today's stock market was due principally to the after-effects of yesterday's excitement over the reported copper consoldiation. The positiveness of yesterday's assertions on that subject forced some recognition and led to more candid admissions. From these is appeared that the definite accomplishment of the plans in view was not to be looked for until a considerable time had elapsed-perhaps many months. That actual consoldations are intended was admitted, although important exceptions among the copper producers were mentioned. This uncertain state of the project threw some heafiation into the speculative movements based on it itation into the speculative movements based on it

Amaigamated Copper itself seemed to be pressed consistently on the market and the obstacles it encountered to any further advance over last night's final price took the edge off its effect on the rest of the list. Some other stocks concerned in the consolidation made further advances.

The announcement that the American Telephone & Telegraph Company had acquired an influential holding in the Western Union was calculated to confirm the confidence that important financial transformations were at work, leading to reaction on profit-taking when the formal announcement tame.

The success realized for the Pennsylvania stock subscriptions revived the stock, the proceeds of the subscriptions running over the estimates by reason of the large amount of convertible bonds turned in for the purpose of securing the subscription privilege. This removed a ground for considerable vague uneastness, which has overhung the market since Pennsylvania started on a downward course, after the new stock was determined upon.

Discounts abroad were easier and the market since Fennsylvania started on downward course, after the new stock was determined upon.

Discounts abroad were easier and the international mency conditions apparently relaxed all around. New York exchange at Chicago held at par, relieving the pressure on New York from that point. Call loans ruled below 5 per cent and reflected an easing tendency. That quiet speculation is a requisite to the continuance of the condition was a prevalent view still and this had its effect as a restraint on the stock market.

The publication of the Compiroller's call for reports of the condition of the National Banks is momentarily expected and it is surmised that the banks have been engaged in some 'window-dressing' for the occasion. For that reason it is expected funds will be supplied more liberally by lenders after the condition of the call has been complied with.

Honds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $5.315,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16 -After pronounced ad vances in the early trading, grain in all the pits here today sank steadily and closed at r slightly below yesterday's final figures Provisions, particularly park, took a plum-net course from the start. When the wheat market opened with a sharp advance, December going up a full cent in the first hour, with May a close second, conditions seemed ripe for a repetition of yesterday's strength. The back-bone of the market, however, was quickly bone of the market, however, was quickly broken by numerous profit-taking sales, in which big elevator interests were credited with the lion's share. At the close of the trading, December stood at $1.07%, unchanged from resterday's final quotations, with May %c below yesterday, at $1.05%. The corn pit duplicated the performance in the wheat trade, and, after a spectacular advance on the opening, induced by unexpected wet weather in the corn belt, prices sagged under the hall of profit-taking sales, December closing %% be lower than yes-

SEATTLE, Wash, Nov. 16. - (Special.) — Several local flour millers today advanced the price of patent flour 20 cents per barrel, making the price $5.35 in less than car lots, and $5.25 in car lots. This price is not yet general, as several of the large mills are still quoting at 40 cents a barrel less than the new price.

Wheat jumped another cent today, going to $1.08 for bluestem. The market is active. Heceipts were 51 carloads, the most since the new rates went into effect.

The apple market drags on common fruit:
Splizenberss are now offered and are held at as high as $2 for the best stock.

Celery is a drug and cabbage is a slow seller. Sweet potatoes are in vigorous oemand and it is reported light stock are in transit to meet the holiday demand. Local warehouses are filling up with potatoes.
Growers prefer to put stock into storage than cut the price on track. This accounts for the apparent strength of the market.

Some butter men believe butter is on the verge of a collapse. Two more straight carloads of Eastern arrived today and more california stock will come on the next steamer.

Profit-taking sales, which changed an initial advance to a steady decline, were also a feature of the day's trading in oats. Primary receipts as in corn, showed an unusual deficit. The range of prices was less in oats than in wheat or corn, December closing % % ic lower, at 39% $30% c. In provisions pork ranged from 20 to 62%; lard, 20 to 22% c. and ribs, 17% $20c lower than Monday's final figures.
