

PLACE KICK WINS FOR HOLLADAYS

Shattuck School Team Goes Down to Defeat by 3-to-0 Score.

ED M'ALLEN STAR OF GAME

Trusty Right Leg Brings Only Score in Contest Which is Replete With Brilliant Plays. Punting Consistent.

In a game replete with brilliant playing by both teams, Holladay school won from Shattuck yesterday afternoon on Multnomah field by the close score of 3 to 0. This result gave Holladay the first of the two wins out of three which will be necessary to obtain the championship cup of the light weight section of the league.

The game was the best that has been played this season among the grammar schools. In every department the work of both teams was exceptionally classy. The punting was consistent, the tackling of the defense clever, and the plays well executed. Both teams played with ginger that would do credit to a college contest.

McAllen Is Star.

It was Eddie McAllen's trusty right toe that brought the only score of the game. He place-kicked the ball squarely between the posts from the 15-yard line, after his team had marched down the field on spectacular shift plays and plunges through the Shattuck line. This was the only attempt made by either team to score during the game.

Holladay showed great ability in advancing the ball, and the Shattuck team generally found the Holladay line impregnable and resorted to punting. Holladay lads persisted in playing off-side and holding, however, and much of the time their advantages were offset by the heavy penalties. The Shattuck team, on the other hand, was penalized but once or twice and for small amounts.

Forward Pass Works Well.

McAllen and Gordon, for Holladay, pulled off a pretty forward pass in the first inning which netted about eight yards. The Holladay team a few minutes later marched into Shattuck territory and then on a shift formation Hink Hall carried the ball five yards to the Shattuck 15-yard line, and from this point McAllen kicked the ball between the posts in placement for the only score in the game.

Holladay made 15 yards on an outside kick in the middle of the second half, and almost immediately after Shattuck got the ball and made 14 yards on a spectacular forward pass from Baird to Jones.

Shattuck Fails to Score.

The game ended in time to keep Shattuck from scoring, however. The line-ups:

Holladay	Position	Shattuck

INDIAN SQUAD ON GROUND

Chemawa Eleven at Forest Grove to Meet Varsity There.

PACIFIC UNIVERSITY, Forest Grove, Or., Nov. 16.—(Special.)—Accompanied by a large number of rooters, the Chemawa football team arrived on a special car over the Oregon Electric tonight for the game with the locals tomorrow. The Indians downed the varsity last year and are confident of again being able to turn the trick. Their team is in fine condition and made up of almost the same players as represented that institution last year.

The students held a monster rally in the college chapel tonight. Speeches were made by Coach Sherman, President Perrin and several members of the team. Headed by the college band, the students marched through the principal streets of the city, giving vent to their enthusiasm. Business houses will close during the game, and Manager Koch is making extensive preparations for handling the large crowd.

The local lineup will be considerably weakened by the absence of Ward, half-back, and Robinson, end, who have not recovered from injuries received in the game with the Catholic Young Men's Club. Ward is suffering from a badly sprained foot and is barely able to get around without crutches, while Robinson will be compelled to stay out of the game for the remainder of the season on account of a wrenched knee. McCoy, line-man for the last two seasons, has also been relegated to the side lines for the rest of the games. He is a strong player and his absence will make a big hole in the line.

The last game of the schedule will be played with Willamette University at Salem on Thanksgiving Day.

LIGHT BOXERS FAVORED

ROSE CITY ATHLETIC CLUB MAKES UP PROGRAMME.

Gene Sullivan and Freddie Couture Training With Tracey—Date Chosen December 2.

Preparations for the smoker of the Rose City Athletic Club, to be given December 2, are progressing, and the boxing card selected promises to be one of the best ever held in this city. The original date was December 28, but it was thought that this would be too close to Thanksgiving day.

The boxers who are to appear before the judges are Gene Sullivan, of San Francisco Monday night, and are among the cleverest youngsters appearing in and about the Bay City. In selecting the programme, the management desired a few little men would give a more acceptable exhibition than larger men, and so all the boxers are in the lightweight division or under.

Gene Sullivan, a former pupil of Tommy Tracey, is the best known locally of the boxers chosen. He looks somewhat taller than when he was here last, but says he is not any heavier and is never in better shape. He is working out with Tommy Tracey. Freddie Couture, who is to box with "Jockey" Bennett, is also a Sullivan.

VANCOUVER NAMES ATHLETES

Newcombe, McGraw and Campbell Coming to Multnomah Club Meet.

The names of three of the four athletes to represent the Vancouver, B. C. Athletic Association at the inter-city boxing and wrestling tournament, scheduled by the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club for Friday night, have been received by Edgar E. Frank, manager of the Multnomah Club's programme.

According to the information received the Vancouver Club is sending Jack Newcombe, a 135-pound boxer; E. A. McGraw, a 150-pound boxer, and William Campbell, a wrestler at 135 pounds. Newcombe is scheduled to meet E. E. Wilson, Multnomah's new entry at 125 pounds. McGraw is slated to meet Jack Boyle, the crack Multnomah middleweight, who made a game showing against Tommy Tracey's track scraper, Abe Clement. William Campbell, the Vancouver grappler, is said to be a good one, and as he is pitted against O. E. Franke, of the Multnomah Club, this bout should prove exciting.

The Vancouver Club has not yet announced the name of the 125-pound boxer it intends to send against Omar Dranga, but it is announced that he will be on hand.

BROTHERS IN GIG, ONE MEETS DEATH

James McLinden, 42, Dies Following Quarrel With Oney Night Before.

POLICE AND CORONER ACT

Decedent Was Oldtime Expressman. Alleged Slayer a Notorious Character—Arrest Ordered, Man Disappears.

James McLinden, aged 42 years, for many years owner of an express business in Portland, living at 280 Constance street, died yesterday at noon under circumstances of such suspicious character as to cause the police department and the coroner's office to make an investigation.

It was given out by Mrs. James Burns, sister of the dead man and his housekeeper, that McLinden died of heart failure. This was also thought to be the case by Dr. C. T. Croddy, who attended him a few minutes before death. Patrolman Crossford, however, heard of a fight Monday night between McLinden and his brother, Oney McLinden, a notorious police character, and immediately commenced an investigation.

Brother is Missing.

Detectives Craddock and Mallet were sent to the McLinden home last night, but were unable to find Oney. Nor were they able to learn anything of his whereabouts from Mrs. Burns, who seemed anxious to give the officers whatever information they sought.

From the story told by young James Burns, nephew of the McLindens, there had been blood between the brothers Oney and James for some time. Monday night, Oney came to the house intoxicated, and was denied admittance by his brother. They quarreled and young Burns, 19 years old, went out into the front yard to drive Oney away. They commenced fighting and James McLinden, pulling a picket from the fence, struck at his brother. The blow was misjudged and fell on Burns.

"Uncle Jimmy then returned to the porch and sat down," said Burns. "Oney went down the street yelling curses on our heads and when I got to the porch Uncle Jimmy was unconscious. We took him into the house and soon revived him. He would not have a doctor, saying he was all right, and went to bed."

Man Dies at Noon.

"He seemed getting on well until about 10 o'clock today," continued Burns, "when he suffered a relapse and died at noon. We sent the body to the undertaker and that is about all we know. Both of them were out at the barn when I came and I do not know whether they had a fight there or not. I believe uncle Jimmy would have said so if they had."

McLinden leaves about $15,000 worth of property, which is disposed of by will and now in the hands of the executor, Mrs. Burns. This, it is said, will fall to Oney McLinden and Mrs. Burns, who are the only relatives of the dead man in America, aside from Mrs. Burns' five children.

According to Mrs. Caroline Schiedeman, who lives next door, she saw the two brothers fighting on the sidewalk and heard several blows struck. This was about 8 o'clock Monday night.

Coroner Norden will conduct an inquest in the case this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Captain of Police Moore last night ordered the arrest of Oney McLinden on sight.

No Blows Shown.

An autopsy conducted last night by Dr. C. T. Croddy in the undertaking parlors of McEntee-Ericson Company showed no signs of the body having been struck and there were no direct indications that the death was caused by a blow. The death was ascribed by Dr. Croddy as a direct result of a hemorrhage at the base of the brain.

An examination of the heart showed that McLinden had been subject to heart failure. "The man's death was directly the result of a hemorrhage," said Dr. Croddy, "and it may have been caused by a blow or to excitement caused by the fight with his brother. There were no outward indications of a blow, however, and the hemorrhage could have occurred under any conditions."
