MINORS SWEAR TO SALES

Dozen Youths Declare They Bought Drinks in Various Saloons—Prohibition Fight Is Begun in Dead Earnest.

THE DALLIES, Or., Nov. 17.—(Special.)

The storm which has been gathering for several weeks over the heads of the saloon men of this city, broke in all its fury at a meeting of the City Council last night.

Rev. D. V. Poling, pastor of the Congregational Church, produced 13 sworn affidavits, signed by Henry Hagenbuecher, Lester Walker, Clare Carson, Lloyd Dunahoo, Raymond Ostrander, Jaye Rorick, Alvin Cory, Frank Mulery, Marion Driver, Charles Bohn, Ross Brooks, Harold Sexton and Tracy Griffin, to substantiate his assertions that liquor is being sold to minors.

BOYS SWEAR TO SALES

Each boy, with the exception of Griffin, swore that he bought liquor at various times from the saloonkeepers named in the affidavits.

The liquor men claim that minors are not served with drinks in their places, nor sold intoxicants of any kind.

FIGHT STARTS IN EARNEST

The signers of the affidavits, who accused intoxicated by claiming to be of age, will be prosecuted under the state law, and it appears on the surface of things that the long-looked-for fight between the saloon and anti-saloon factions is on in earnest.

ular semi-annual meeting of the Water Board, or Board of Control, this afternoon. J. N. Hart, State Senator, of Baker, appeared for the Cookingham-Thatcher interests, and applied for a definite order from which he might appeal to the courts if his clients deem it advisable.

Some time ago the Water Board made an order to the effect that the state-owned contract with the company which succeeded in making a final contract with the Desert Land Board for the reclamation of the arid lands in the Powder River project, regardless of which concern had filed a prior application for water.

J. L. Rand, ex-Senator, of Baker, was present in behalf of O. P. Finkenburg, the other party to the Powder River controversy. The board reached no decision and has taken the matter under advisement.

This was the regular semi-annual meeting of the Board, which was attended by State Engineer Lewis, Commissioners H. L. Holgate, of Klamath Falls, and F. M. Saxton, of Baker City.

FREIGHT COMING HERE

JOINT OPERATION OF IDAHO ROAD BEGINS SOON.

Ten Million Bushels of Wheat Awaiting Shipment Will Come Down Grade to Portland.

LEWISTON, Idaho, Nov. 17.—(Special.)—Joint operation of the Riparian-Grangeville line by the Camas Prairie Railway Company will be inaugurated as soon as the tariffs have been approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission and advertised, which will not be later than December 1.

This is the statement made this evening by J. N. Finch, superintendent and general freight and passenger agent of the handling company.

The inauguration of the joint operation will make tributary to Portland at least 10,000,000 bushels of wheat which has heretofore been routed over the Northern Pacific to Tacoma and Seattle. All of the Coast tonnage tributary to the Northern Pacific Clearwater and Palouse branches as far north as Moscow will be diverted to the river route over the joint road.

Simultaneous with the inauguration of the joint operation, the Northern Pacific will begin the operation of the Trobriidge & Niver Company, which will run from Pasco, making connections with the North Bank train in Portland, and the main line Northern Pacific trains to Seattle and Tacoma.

FIGHT FOR MAYOR AROUSES

E. J. Murphy Is Opposed at Pendleton by Dr. Swinburne.

PENDLETON, Or., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—With the city election only three weeks away, a great deal of interest in the event is being manifested through there are no definitely defined issues.

The plan decided upon is for the formation of an irrigation district according to the new irrigation code of Oregon, the Trobriidge & Niver Company, of Chicago, and the irrigation works to be built for them by the Arnold Construction Company.

Under the district plan, bonds will be issued at $50 an acre, drawing interest at 8 per cent, payable from 10 to 20 years after delivery of water. Five per cent of the principal will be due at the end of the 15th year after delivery of water and the entire issue will mature at the end of the 20th year.
