

SAFETY IN SIGHT; SEA SNATCHES 3

Steamer Argo Strands at Tillamook.

LIFEBOAT UPSETS WITH LOAD

Cannot Right Itself and Death
Is Result.

CHILD IS RESUSCITATED

After Three Hours' Work, Little
Leona Hunter Shows Life—High
Wind Drives Vessel Out of Channel—Oshkosh to Aid.

TILLAMOOK, Or., Nov. 26.—Blown out of her course by a heavy gale, the steamer Argo stranded at the entrance to Tillamook Bay this afternoon.

A child and a woman, passengers, and a member of the Garibaldi life-saving crew were drowned by the capsizing of a lifeboat in which they were being taken ashore.

Later the Argo drifted clear and is now anchored outside the bay. The gasoline schooner Oshkosh has gone to her rescue.

The dead: Nellie Hunter, aged 6, child of George Hunter, Napa, Cal.

Henry Wickman, member of the life-saving crew.

Unknown woman.

Rescued—Agnes Hunter, child of George Hunter; Mrs. W. C. King, of Tillamook.

Injured—Captain Farley, of life-saving crew, arm broken.

Vessel Strikes Twice.

A high wind and heavy sea drove the Argo out of the narrow channel as she was attempting to cross into Tillamook Bay. She struck on the South Spit, but in a short time managed to work her way off.

A few moments later the Argo struck again. This time on the bar proper. Here she hung. Distress signals were displayed and the Garibaldi life-saving crew put out in a lifeboat.

The Argo's relief, the seas meanwhile breaking high over the stranded vessel and threatening to wash those on board into the sea.

After a tremendous struggle the life-saving crew succeeded in forcing their boat through the breakers to the wreck. Into the lifeboat were loaded Mrs. W. C. King, who with her husband was returning home from the East, two small girls of George Hunter, of Tillamook, who were coming home from a visit at Astoria, and a woman who has not been identified.

Lifeboat Is Swamped.

The lifeboat was unable to carry them all and had to take back to the Argo all but four—two women and two children. The strong ebb-tide prevented the lifeboat from crossing the bar and Captain Farley, of the life-saving crew, attempted to make a landing on the beach just north of Haystack Rock.

Owing to the heavy surf, the boat capsized in the breakers, plunging the passengers and life-savers into the surf. Mrs. King managed to make her way to the shore in safety. Leona Hunter, aged 11, floated toward the shore and was caught by George Eastman, of the life-saving crew. The child was nearly drowned, but after several hours' hard work she was resuscitated. Henry Wickman, Nellie Hunter and the unidentified woman were swept out to sea and drowned.

Engines Full of Water.

Just before dark, aided by her sails and driven by an offshore wind and terrific ebb-tide, the Argo freed herself from the bar, and is now anchored in safety just outside the bar. Her engines, however, are full of water and she is unable to enter the bay under her own power. The gasoline schooner Oshkosh made an effort to bring the Argo inside the bay at high tide at midnight, but could not. The damage to the Argo cannot be ascertained tonight, but it is believed her deck cargo is gone.

The loss of life is considered here to be due to the old-fashioned pattern of lifeboat which is alleged to be in use at the Garibaldi station.

Captain Farley's elbow joint is crushed and his arm will be permanently crippled. He and the other members of the crew are given great credit for their efforts in the face of terrible odds.

UNWELCOME COUNT TARGET FOR BULLET

HOLLAND NOBLEMAN TRIES TO SEE ROCKEFELLER.

Foreigner Would Interest Financier
in Project for Draining Zuyder
Zee, but Is Ejected.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 26.—In an unsuccessful attempt to gain the study of John D. Rockefeller, at Forest Hill, Count de Vries, nobleman of Amsterdam, Holland, was fired upon twice today before being ejected from the Rockefeller mansion.

Since Wednesday the Count has been making daily attempts to see the head of the Standard Oil Company, with intent to interest him in a project for draining Zuyder Zee, Wednesday and Thursday, de Vries was turned back at the gate.

In a huge automobile, de Vries approached the Rock-avenue entrance to the grounds at high speed. The astounded gatekeeper shouted to him to stop. de Vries continued through the open gates and about the winding driveway toward the house at the top of the hill.

He was fired upon as he neared the house. Leaving his automobile he mounted the steps and entered the door, followed by a squad of guards who came out of the house.

Before de Vries could enter Rockefeller's study, however, he was escorted by the butler and by caretaker Knapp and ejected.

While the excitement was at its height, Rockefeller was 100 yards away on the golf links unaware of the trouble.

GHOULS ELUDE SEARCHERS

Great Falls Grave Robbers Leave No
Clew Behind.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Nov. 26.—With every available man from the Sheriff's office, aided by the city police department, at work on the grave robbery case in which the body of the baby son of Harfield Conrad was stolen from its grave, there is no apparent progress in tracing the ghouls.

A buggy with two men, which was seen in the early morning with a bundle in the back of it, several miles out of town, was followed and found to have gone to an abandoned cabin. A search of the shack and the surroundings, however, failed to show any trace of the body. The casket in which the remains were interred was found near the place where a buggy had driven up to the fence at the grave.

The generally accepted theory has been that the plot of the ghouls was to hold the body for ransom, but so far no demand has been received.

MUMMY RAMESES ARRIVES

Skeleton, Aged 3000 Years, and Worth $20,000 Reaches Boston.

BOSTON, Nov. 26.—Rameses, King of Egypt, is resting aboard the steamship Aragona, while the vessel is discharging a portion of the cargo here preparatory to proceeding to New York.

The mummy, whose age is estimated at about 3000 years was lifted aboard the steamer by the seamen at Suez with New York for a destination.

Rameses—just which one of the long line of Egyptian sovereigns of that name has not been determined—is a mummy. Although the remains weigh only 125 pounds, they are so carefully packed in lead, iron and wood that in their case they weigh more than 1000 pounds.

On the outside of the case are the words: "Valued at $20,000."

The mummy is consigned simply to the Hamburg American line, New York.

ASSEMBLY NAMES TICKET

Hillsboro Citizens Nominate City
Candidates in Mass Meeting.

HILLSBORO, Or., Nov. 26.—(Special.)—Tonight at an assembly held in this city composed of a mass meeting of citizens, a ticket was nominated for the city election to be held the first Monday in December. This nomination is considered the equivalent of an election, for there will be no opposition. The ticket is as follows:

Mayor, Dr. A. B. Bailey, who is a son of Senator Bailey; Councilmen, Robert Hartman, C. Herm and W. W. Boscow; Recorder, Benton Bowman; Treasurer, Fred J. Sewell.

NURSES' HEADS "RATLESS"

St. Louis Hospital Bars Rolls for Sanitary Reasons.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 26.—The 30 nurses at Mullanphy Hospital began their labors tonight with only their rolled hair on their heads, following the order of Sister Gabriel that all "foreign material" should be abolished. The injunction prohibiting "rats" was issued for sanitary reasons.

"The tiny cap perched on a 'ratted head,'" said one of the sisters, "looks like a flower on a dishpan."

LONGWORTHS COST MONEY

Pittsburg Campaign Fund Must Pay for Their Dinner.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 26.—Not the least in a long list of expenses incurred in the recent campaign in this county and filed today by the Republican County Committee appears a bill for $500 for the dinner given to Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth at the Duquesne Club.

KINDLY USHER NOT OUT BAIL FOR KING

Best Man, Suspicious of Groom, Gets Money.

DEBTS AND BAD MONEY LEFT

Trouble a-Plenty Looms Up
Ahead of Architect.

CREDITORS ARE ANXIOUS

Although Financier of Dubious
Methods Arrested at Altar Tried to Keep Wedding Secret, Anxious Ones Made Uneasy.

Russell Smith, usher at the Herbert Booth King-Georgina E. Billings nuptials, is not out $55 after all. Despite the fact that King, the architect-bridgroom, who was arrested at the altar, has left a string of bad debts behind him, as well as bad checks, Smith, it now develops, recovered every penny of the $55 bail money which he deposited in order to allow the wedding bells to peal according to schedule.

Strange to say, it was Vivian Everett, the best man, who was a bit suspicious of the groom and who saved the $55 for Smith.

When King was arrested the bail was placed at $55. King declared he had no money on his person other than drafts on a San Francisco bank. Then the usher, Russell Smith, produced the amount necessary to liberate his friend from custody. After the ceremony, Everett, who saw no reason why Smith should contribute to the groom's honeymoon, demanded one of those drafts and said he would cash it. After some demur, King produced a draft for $50, and Everett threatened away, cashed it and returned the change to Mr. King before the train left for the South. Mr. Smith was given the $55.

String of Bad Checks Left.

The bridgroom, who is said to have posed as a millionaire before the wedding, is seriously involved in Portland now. On Saturday he presented a check to the firm of McGarrier, Bates & Lively for $50, drawn on the American Bank & Trust Company. The check was returned yesterday to this firm on account of lack of funds. King had held an account at one time with this bank, so intent to defraud will have to be shown.

Another transaction, however, is of much more serious import. The firm of Goodrich, King & Goodrich, architects, had an account with the Mount Taber Presbyterian Church and on this account there still was owing $200 to the firm. King hypothecated an order for the $200 at the American Bank & Trust Company. He then later went to the Smith Gravel Company, of which the Russell Smith who deposited the $55 bail is the head, and from that company received $100 on the same order, signing the firm name on the order. To cover his transaction he requested that nothing be said to the church committee because he did not

(Continued on Page 3.)

DEBATERS OUT FOR HONOR

Baker City Students Chosen to Enter State Contest.

BAKER CITY, Or., Nov. 26.—(Special.)—At a preliminary tryout this afternoon of 12 debaters, in order to obtain a team of six who will enter the state contest for the Baker City school, the following students were selected: Clyde Dilabaugh, James Donald, Miss Emma Cole, Leland Finch, John Jenkins and Everett Saunders.

A question used for today's debate was: "Resolved, That life imprisonment with restricted power of pardon should be substituted for capital punishment in the State of Oregon."

HAIL HITS LOS ANGELES

Sleet Storm, Following, Is Unusual Sight for California.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26.—Hail stones as large as walnuts fell in various portions of this city late today for ten minutes.

A sleet storm followed a sudden fall in the temperature, the falling sleet remaining on the ground some time, affording an unusual sight for Southern Californians.

WORLD'S RECORD SMASHED

New Yorker, on Typewriter, Reaches
100 Words a Minute.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 26.—At a meeting of the Missouri Valley Commercial Teachers' Association today, H. O. Blaisdell, of New York, made a new world's typewriter record, writing 100 words from copy he had not seen before in 15 minutes. This was a little more than 100 words a minute. The previous high record was 96 words a minute.

FOR YOUR HOLIDAY PACKAGES, THE RED CROSS STAMP.

BABOON SAVAGELY RENDS HIS TRAINER

FRED WILSON FIGHTS DESPER-ATE BATTLE IN CAGE.

Torn and Bitten, He Is Felled and Only Saved From Death by Comrades' Coming.

Struggling for his life, Fred Wilson, an animal-trainer employed about the Winter quarters of the Don Carlos Animal Show at the old Exposition Grounds, battled for half an hour yesterday afternoon with "Kokomo," a pink-tailed baboon, that sprang from his perch in the dimly-lighted cage when his master entered to feed the denizens of the jungle.

The savage simian clutched the throat of Wilson and during the terrific struggle, that lasted for several minutes, the keeper managed to keep his feet and to protect himself from the teeth of the ferocious baboon. But, overcome by fright and weakness from the loss of blood that poured from the lacerations that covered his lower extremities, Wilson fell face downward in a corner of the cage. "Kokomo" then gnawed Wilson's left arm in a frightful manner.

During the struggle a score of monkeys and baboons, confined in the cage, gave vent to their excitement by loud and ear-piercing shrieks that attracted the attention of other employees about the place, and thus saved Wilson.

He was hurried to the Good Samaritan Hospital. Dr. Charles Ryke, the attending physician, stated last night that Wilson was in a serious condition.

Wilson, who has been connected with animal shows for several years, had a similar experience with "Kokomo" a year ago. Wilson is 34 years old. His home is in Brazil, Ind.

GATES LEAPS INTO RIVER

Heavy Rains Cease, and Waters of River Begin to Fall After Reaching 24 Feet 1.5 Inches Above
Zero Mark at Portland.

Clad only in their nightclothes and clinging to the wreckage of a dismantled houseboat, James Ford and his niece were rescued from the turbulent waters of the Willamette at 3 o'clock yesterday morning by Ed Rankin and Fred Gates, watchmen on the Sellwood ferry.

High water had torn two houseboats from their moorings above Fulton, and as they drifted rapidly down stream with the swift current, they collided with the ferry, crushing the rudder and setting the vessel adrift.

Gates and Rankin, who were aboard the ferry, hurried from their cabin at the shock of the collision. Hearing shrill cries of distress in the darkness, Gates, leaving Rankin to look after the ferry, leaped overboard and swam to the wrecked houseboat.

Climbing aboard, he found James Ford, a Civil War veteran and his niece, clinging to the wreckage on the scow. The house had been carried away by the collision and the man and woman in their scant attire were much exhausted.

Rope Holds, People Saved.

Gates yelled for a rope and Rankin tossed a line to the scow and made it fast. The swift current threatened to part the rope any moment, but the combined efforts of Rankin and Gates finally effected the rescue of the two castaways.

Ford and his niece were hurried to the fireroom on the ferry where they warmed themselves.

In the meantime Gates again visited the houseboat and found the clothing of the two castaways, and soon had Ford and the woman dressed. Ford was allowed to rest on a couch, while the woman went to the plot-house of the ferry and was ordered to pull the whistle cord and keep it up until help was attracted to the scene.

Rudder Is Disabled.

Rankin had gotten up steam on the ferry, but it was found that the rudder had been torn loose, so that the vessel would not respond to her helm and the paddle-wheels had become fouled with driftwood. The cable, too, had parted, but had become fouled in some manner, and the boat held firmly.

Rankin and Gates were fearful, however, that the cable would break and

(Continued on Page 2.)

TWO RESCUED OFF DRIFTING WRECK

Ferry Guards Save Man and Woman.

VICTIMS IN NIGHT CLOTHES

Fred Gates Risks Life by Plunging Into Flood.

WILLAMETTE IS RECEDING

Heavy Rains Cease, and Waters of
River Begin to Fall After Reaching 24 Feet 1.5 Inches Above
Zero Mark at Portland.

Clad only in their nightclothes and clinging to the wreckage of a dismantled houseboat, James Ford and his niece were rescued from the turbulent waters of the Willamette at 3 o'clock yesterday morning by Ed Rankin and Fred Gates, watchmen on the Sellwood ferry.

High water had torn two houseboats from their moorings above Fulton, and as they drifted rapidly down stream with the swift current, they collided with the ferry, crushing the rudder and setting the vessel adrift.

Gates and Rankin, who were aboard the ferry, hurried from their cabin at the shock of the collision. Hearing shrill cries of distress in the darkness, Gates, leaving Rankin to look after the ferry, leaped overboard and swam to the wrecked houseboat.

Climbing aboard, he found James Ford, a Civil War veteran and his niece, clinging to the wreckage on the scow. The house had been carried away by the collision and the man and woman in their scant attire were much exhausted.

Rope Holds, People Saved.

Gates yelled for a rope and Rankin tossed a line to the scow and made it fast. The swift current threatened to part the rope any moment, but the combined efforts of Rankin and Gates finally effected the rescue of the two castaways.

Ford and his niece were hurried to the fireroom on the ferry where they warmed themselves.

In the meantime Gates again visited the houseboat and found the clothing of the two castaways, and soon had Ford and the woman dressed. Ford was allowed to rest on a couch, while the woman went to the plot-house of the ferry and was ordered to pull the whistle cord and keep it up until help was attracted to the scene.

Rudder Is Disabled.

Rankin had gotten up steam on the ferry, but it was found that the rudder had been torn loose, so that the vessel would not respond to her helm and the paddle-wheels had become fouled with driftwood. The cable, too, had parted, but had become fouled in some manner, and the boat held firmly.

Rankin and Gates were fearful, however, that the cable would break and

(Continued on Page 2.)

YOUNG MRS. CUDAHY AMONG HEARTSICK

WIFE OF PACKER GOES TO RENO
TO TAKE UP RESIDENCE.

Sporting Proclivities of Husband Blamed for Appearance in Divorce Colony.

RENO, Nev., Nov. 26.—(Special.)—Mrs. Ruth Cudahy, wife of Thomas Cudahy, son of the head of the famous packing concern of Cudahy & Co., of Omaha and Kansas City, arrived in Reno to join the local divorce colony this morning. She registered at the leading fashionable hotel alone from Kansas City.

Within an hour after her arrival she was in consultation with William H. Schnitzer, one of the prominent divorce lawyers here. Mrs. Cudahy was elegantly gowned in a heavy purple costume. She would admit merely that she is here to investigate the divorce laws. However, it is known that she will begin her legal residence here within the next few days, preparatory to filing her complaint against the millionaire packer.

Rumor has it the separation is the result of the husband's sporting proclivities, although this is not confirmed. It is known, however, there are to be large property interests in which some litigation may result before the suit is filed. Mrs. Cudahy resided in England for some years and has traveled much. She says she will leave the city tomorrow for a few days, and then return to remain indefinitely. She is not supposed to be in Nevada at this time.

RUMOR NAMES R. C. KERENS

Officials Silent as to Appointment as Ambassador to Austria.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Richard C. Kerens of Missouri, according to a current report, will be appointed ambassador to Vienna upon the assembling of Congress on December 6.

State Department officials, however, are noncommittal on the subject.

Richard C. Kerens was the Republican leader of Missouri for many years, having received his party vote three times for United States Senator. He helped largely in the building of the Cotton Belt system and other important railroads. He has held many honorary appointments, and has been active in Missouri politics as a Republican ever since 1876. He was defeated for United States Senator in 1896, by a factional fight which resulted on the last day of the session of the Legislature in the breaking of the prolonged deadlock by the election of Major William Warner, of Kansas City.

Sheriff Foils Angry Mob

Negro Is Spirited From County Jail to Place of Safety.

M'CALESTER, Okla., Nov. 26.—A negro charged with attacking Mrs. King, wife of a miner, was arrested today and placed in the County Jail.

One hundred men made an effort to take him from Under-Sheriff O'Neil, who had placed the negro on a horse and fled with him to the jail, the mob following.

Seventy-five masked and armed men marched to the County Jail at 2 o'clock this morning and demanded Jones, Night Jailer H. B. Walton admitted four. They found that their man was gone. The Sheriff had driven him away in a closed cab at 10 o'clock. The mob then turned to make an attack on the state prison, but, on learning that the prisoner was not there, disbanded.

Mrs. King identified Jones as her assailant.

IS JAPANESE WHITE MAN?

Fine Point Involved in Virginia Naturalization Case.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 26.—The question whether a Japanese is a white man within the meaning of the naturalization law was vigorously debated in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals here today.

Namyo Bessho, former enlisted man and steward in the United States Navy, is an applicant for American citizenship. The District Attorney maintains that he is barred by the law which gives the right of citizenship to "all white persons and all those of African descent who are of good moral character."

The case may not be decided for several days.

PLAY AT SUICIDE TOO REAL

Boy Who Expected to Be Rescued
Breaks Neck by Hanging.

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 26.—Harold Perkins, aged 16, who hanged himself to his bedroom door yesterday afternoon after having been refused permission to attend the Drake-Ames football game, is believed, expected his aunt to discover him and cut him down before he died.

His neck was broken, however, in the jump from the chair. He was found by his 5-year-old brother.

SNOW FALLS AT ASTORIA

Hills Around Westport and Altona
Covered With White Blanket.

ASTORIA, Or., Nov. 26.—(Special.)—Snow has appeared in this section earlier than usual and the hills back of Westport and of Altona are covered.

Farther up the river the snow is said to have been heavier, but it is expected not to last long. There was a slight fall of wet snow here last evening, but it melted as fast as it fell.

SPEAKER CANNON FLAYS ENEMIES

"Uncle Joe" Addresses
Missouri Club.

FIGHT TO FINISH, HE SAYS

Classes "Insurgents" With Bryan and Following.

CUMMINS IS UNDER BAN

Speaker Declares Iowa Senator Alone
Read Self From Republican Party Ranks — House
Rules Won't Change.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 26.—"When Senators Cummins, La Follette, Bristow and their so-called 'progressive' following join hands with Mr. Bryan in making war upon the Republican members of Congress who passed the tariff bill and upon the President, who signed it, in that contest I know of only one way to treat them, and that is to fight them just as we fought Mr. Bryan and his following."

Such was the declaration of Speaker Cannon, who delivered the principal address before the annual banquet of the Knife and Fork Club here tonight.

Cummins Out of Party.

Mr. Cannon said Senator Cummins alone had read himself out of the Republican party. He defended the rules of the House, saying they would remain substantially as they had been, and are, so long as there was a Congress.

"Ever since history began," said the Speaker, "the man in the minority has been seeking some device by which he could overcome the will of the majority."

Mr. Cannon asserted that, while the Payne tariff law was not perfect, it was the best ever passed under Republican leadership; that, since the enactment of the new law, production in this country and imports had greatly increased, and that day by day conditions were improving.

Cannon Scores Insurgents.

The "insurgents" and their followers, he said, were seeking to hinder progress of prosperity by criticism and denunciation, and that this, too, within three months of the passage of the tariff; only such agitation could halt the prospective era of prosperity, he declared.

"The demagogue," said Mr. Cannon, "we have always with us, and as ours is a government of the people, the only way to dispose of him is to move on. I am

(Continued on Page 5.)

INDEX OF TODAY'S NEWS