

ONLY TWO SEATS WON BY LIBERALS

Mainland Returns Unbroken Phalanx for Party of Conservatives.

OLIVER GIVES UP POLITICS

Two Socialist Candidates Are Successful in Mining Centers, While Two Liberals Come From Adjoining Districts.

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 26.—(Special.)—Fuller returns of yesterday's provincial election make even more conclusive and unanimous the endorsement of the McBride administration and policy, the mainland returning an absolutely unbroken phalanx of Conservatives.

Only Four in Opposition.

Giving the seat to the Liberals, the House, when it meets on January 30, will consist of 28 Conservatives, two Socialists and two Liberals. It is expected that the Liberal party will claim the first position on Mr. Speaker's left by virtue of seniority in Parliamentary affairs, but this will not be conceded in consequence of the established recognition throughout Canada of the Liberal party as the natural opponents of Conservatism.

Oliver, Beaten, Quits Game.

The opposition leader, John Oliver, went down with his party in Victoria and Delta, occupying but second place on his party's ticket in this city and being vanquished in his home by Frank J. MacKenzie, with a runaway majority. In consequence of the overwhelming expression of confidence by the people in the Conservative Premier and policy, Mr. Oliver announces his final retirement from politics.

New Leader Springs Up.

The leadership of the Liberal party in British Columbia was forced upon me when J. A. MacDonald retired. I did not seek that honor. From poll time I am out of politics. After yesterday I will be merely a spectator of the political game. The farm is good enough for me.

Vanouver City Presented a Surprise.

But one feature of the leadership of the poll being wrested from Hon. Mr. Bowser by H. H. Watson, a new factor who promises to make a mark in the political life of the province. A. H. B. McGowan came next, and Bowser third in the winning ticket.

So far as having a close struggle with Mayor Lindman of Revelstoke, for command of that district, Hon. Thomas Taylor, Minister of Works, was returned with an increased majority, his so-called independent opponent forfeiting his deposit. In Atlin, Hon. Dr. Young also increased substantially his majority. The final figures reading: Young 195, Kearns 85.

This morning's additions to the general information of the public in election matters were all in the nature of confirmations of further Conservative triumph, the Lilfoot seat being carried by Archie McDonald, "who was beaten by Mark Englewood in 1907 by eight votes, and who now turns the tables upon his old-time opponent.

Socialists Forfeit Deposits.

In Grand Forks the tidings is of a win for Ernest Miller over McInnes, his Socialist opponent, by 171, with a few small polls to hear from by which this handsome lead will be still further increased. From Comox, M. J. Manson wires that his return by a considerable majority is accomplished.

In Okanogan Hon. Price Ellison is returned with a majority of upward of 800.

In Vancouver and Victoria cities all Socialist candidates lost their deposits, indeed, throughout the Province the Socialist party has contributed handsomely to provincial revenue.

It is a curious feature of the result that Socialist representation is centered in the Nanaimo-Ladysmith mining section, while the two liberals chosen are in adjoining communities on the delta which stand to benefit materially by the development of the government's railway policy—Alberni and Esquimalt.

And it is significant that the successful candidates, liberals, were in accord with the railway policy and therefore out of harmony with their party platform in its essential feature.

Local Option Loses Ground.

Although details and figures with respect to the local option plebiscite taken coincidentally with the election are not as yet available, it is apparent that the proposed allowance of local control of liquor matters has been defeated through a less total than 50 per cent of the vote polled for members being recorded in favor of the suggested change of jurisdiction. The plebiscite vote was made as simple and direct as possible, determination of the issue being left to the people in a manner thoroughly acceptable to the advocates of local option. Their wishes in the matter were negated apparently through a considerable portion of the voters, after casting their ballots for the parliamentary candidates of their choice, refraining from voting on the plebiscite.

Hundreds of congratulatory telegrams were received by Premier McBride today, including messages from Bowditch, Montagu, Roblin and the conservative party at Ottawa.

CANNON SCORES ENEMIES

(Continued From First Page.) perfectly willing to trust the verdict of a prosperous and happy people in the elections in November, 1910, after the new tariff law has been in operation for more than a year.

Waning Popularity, He Denies.

At the conclusion of his prepared speech, Speaker Cannon indulged in some extemporaneous remarks, in which he became vehement in his objection to the attitude of a local paper toward him. He quoted the paper as stating today that "Speaker Cannon realizes that his popularity is on the wane" and declared in response to that statement that in all his long life he had never turned his back upon a friend, nor his face away from an enemy. "Will you print that," he yelled toward the press table, and added: "I am sorry the editor of the paper is not here to answer me himself." Speaker Cannon deplored what he explained as the custom of some newspapers to mislead their readers by an ingenious arrangement of headlines, and intimated that the support of newspapers was not always necessary for the success of a man in public life. He cited recent elections in the Sixth Congressional District, where, he said, the successful candidate was opposed by leading papers of Chicago.

Payne Tariff Defended.

Ridiculing the charge that the Payne tariff law was enacted for the benefit of New England interests, the Speaker cited numerous statistics to support his declaration that products of New England manufacturers had shown a decided increase under protection policies as compared with the increase of manufactures in other states. Former Congressman John Allen, of Mississippi, who addressed the club, supported the arguments of Speaker Cannon in defending the rules of the House, but he said he could not agree with Speaker Cannon, Senator Aldrich and President Taft that the Payne law was the best tariff ever enacted.

WOMAN'S SHOT SAVES LIFE

Her True Aim Stops Bull Moose From Killing Husband and Guide.

LUTZEN, Minn., Nov. 26.—A well-directed bullet put through the shoulders of a charging bull moose in the wilderness north of here by Mrs. H. B. Parker, of Chicago, one of Illinois' best shots, saved her husband and the old Indian guide of the couple from death beneath the wild animal's hoofs.

The moose came upon the Indian early in the morning while the latter was drawing a pail of water from a spring near Parker's camp. The Indian, who was unarmed, called to Parker for help. Parker came running also without his rifle and the moose charged him, the Indian having climbed a tree for safety.

Parker endeavored to escape and dodged, the beast's horns piercing his shirt. The moose pursued him and was about to trample him down when Mrs. Parker appeared. She fired at the raging animal, the beast lurched sideways when he received the bullet and fell. He was dispatched later by the Indian.

SAME TABLE FATAL TO TWO

Aged Man Found Dead Where Wife Passes Three Years Before.

LONG BEACH, Cal., Nov. 26.—(Special.)—John G. Nelson, a widower, living alone at 744 Alamitos avenue, was found dead sitting at the dining table by neighbors this morning. The table was set with the Thanksgiving dinner the old man had prepared himself, turkey, cranberry sauce and all.

Nelson had not been seen about the place since Wednesday and two neighbors, Mrs. George Howe and Mrs. Mary Saunders, today forced an entrance to his cottage. The sight of the old man sitting crumpled up in his chair, with his dinner before him, greeted their eyes.

Opposite his place was a vacant chair. His wife died at the same table three years ago during Thanksgiving dinner, and Mr. Nelson had been subject to heart trouble. He owned considerable property in Long Beach and had a large account in the Long Beach Savings Bank.

THE DALLES, Or., Nov. 26.—(Special.)—The five men who pleaded guilty before Justice J. A. Donohue yesterday to the charge of selling liquor in Antelope, which is in a dry precinct, were today fined $900. The sentence is one of the severest for a first offense of this nature on record here. Frank Wolever and T. Silva, said to be the proprietors of the two places raided, were each fined $350. H. C. Nichols, a bartender, and L. Darby, who claimed they were in no manner connected with the places, merely serving drinks to the Sheriff as a matter of accommodation to the proprietors, were fined $50 each. The fines were paid.

ALASKAN TOWN BURNING

Seward Residents Fight Flames of Once Prosperous Place.

SEATTLE, Nov. 26.—A dispatch from Seward, on Resurrection Bay, Alaska, says that the town is threatened with destruction by fire and that all the men are fighting the flames. Seward, during construction of the Alaska Central Railroad, was a place of importance. The bankruptcy of the railroad had a depressing influence on the town, and it which since has become a ghost town in the Haytian navy.

Mr. Tower is the owner of the Poughkeepsie Iron Works. His wife formerly was Mary Bogard, an operator in the Poughkeepsie central telephone office, whom he married soon after his first wife and a son were found shot to death in their rooms in the Tower home seven years ago.

DOG GIVES ALARM OF FIRE

When Blaze Starts, Jumps on Master's Bed, Awakens Him.

Lottie C., a famous Boston terrier bitch, owned by Police Sergeant Keller, 462 East Mill street, saved its owner's home from serious damage by fire, if not total loss, yesterday afternoon. Sergeant Keller time and was asleep. Fire in a wood stove in a front room caused the stove door to open, and a large, blazing stack of wood fell out on the carpet. In an instant rugs and carpet were ablaze. The dog had been lying in front of the fire, and when the stick fell out, ran to her master's room, and jumping on the bed, awakened him. She then ran into the front room, whining plaintively. He followed and saw the fire. It had not gained great headway and was speedily extinguished.

BOY'S RELEASE IS FEARED

Baker City to Ask That Young Indecent Be Held Until 21.

BAKER CITY, Nov. 26.—(Special.)—When Goldman Anthony, last of the reform school a year ago, only the charge of truancy was lodged against him. It is asserted that with such a mild charge the reform school would be made a liberated at the end of one year if his behavior had been good. Young Anthony is said to have an excellent record in the school and citizens here are fearful lest he shall go free.

O. H. & N. Appeals From Assessment

BAKER CITY, Or., Nov. 26.—A legal battle between the O. H. & N. and the county of Baker is indicated by filing of suit appealing from a decision of the County Board of Equalization to the Circuit Court. Jerry Fleetwood, Assessor, cut the railroad assessment this year from $26,500 to $16,000 a mile, but
