his parents, George and Helen G. Marshall, of San Jose, Cal., and walked away triumphantly a few minutes later with the much-longed-for document. He is 20 years old. His bride, Miss May Berry, is also 20 years of age.

Court Notes.

The Yale Pants Company filed suit in the Circuit Court against Morris Josephowitz yesterday, alleging he owes the company $248.25 for men's trousers he purchased. Goldstone Bros. of San Francisco also filed suit against Josephowitz yesterday. This firm demands $400 for goods furnished the defendant.

Sam Custis, the aged man who is said to have shot Albert Wilson in a North End lodging-house, because the latter had robbed him and refused to return the loot, was indicted by the county grand jury late yesterday afternoon for murder in the first degree. Four other indictments and two not true bills were also returned. Three of the indictments are withheld from publication, as the defendants are not in custody.

Wilson was shot last Wednesday, the bullet striking a piece of soap in his pocket, preventing instant death. He died at the hospital soon afterward. Patrolman F. E. Wanless and Alphonso Kramer were the witnesses examined by the grand jury.

KNIFE-WIELDING CHARGED.

E. A. McCarthy was accused in an indictment returned yesterday of having assaulted Julia M. Parker with a knife on October 20.

In the case of Fred T. Merrill, said to have sold liquor to Eva Meyer, the Twelve-Mile Circuit Court, September 19, the night of the fatal "Joy ride" in which "Dolly" Ferrara was killed, the grand jury found the evidence against him insufficient for conviction and returned a not true bill. Merrill was said to have served whisky to the girl, who is 18 years old, while she and other members of the party occupied a box.

GATENS DECLINES TO ACT.

District Attorney Cameron made an effort last night to have indictments returned by the grand jury to Circuit Judge Gatens, presiding Judge Brough not being at leisure at the time. The rules of the Circuit Court give Judge Gatens the right to do this in the absence of the presiding judge, but Judge Gatens refused to receive the report, owing to the notoriety given him over the "Frankie" case.

PORTLAND, Nov. 29.—(To the Editor.)—With reference to the dairy inspection law, passed by the City Council, I am persuaded that the whole movement is for the purpose of creating fear for political gratification. Who do not these advocates of dairy inspection bring correct data? How many babies have milkmen and farmers killed by the selling of impure and poisoned milk? No babies who drink an abundance of milk will die therefrom, but babies who get only half enough milk and are fed with all kinds of substitutes are generally badly neglected by their mothers. The latter are fonder of matinees and ice cream parlors than their offspring. This is the greatest cause of the great mortality amongst babies in cities.

Mayor Simon and members of the lighting committee of the Executive Board met in the office of City Engineer Morris yesterday morning and discussed the situation surrounding electric arc lamps. It was decided that it would be wise to secure an expert, who shall make a personal inspection of the entire city, and report on what is best to be done to relieve the present condition. The expert has not yet been selected, although he will probably be picked by Mr. Morris from the office staff.

15TH IS NOW LOWNSDALE

Mayor Signs Ordinance Changing Name of Thoroughfare.

Mayor Simon has signed an ordinance, passed at the last session of the City Council, designating Fifteenth street as Lownsdale street. Two years ago the Council changed the name of the thoroughfare from Lownsdale to Fifteenth, and it remained that way until a few weeks ago, when interested persons took up the subject of the street. In an effort to have it renamed Lownsdale street, Councilman Baker, in whose ward the street lies, introduced the ordinance.
