Here Is an Opportunity for People of Discernment to Make a Lot of Money

Land in a New Country--Railroad Building Now

$3.85 and $5.50 an Acre

This chance is summarized in the few words above: "Land in a new country, railroad building now." The railroad is building through the land. Moreover, the railroad is being backed by the government, and there can be no mistake about it. The country is Central British Columbia, and the railroad is the Grand Trunk, said by all experts to be the greatest transcontinental railroad line in America.

The country it opens up in British Columbia is a veritable "Farmers' Paradise," as it is called by the government experts who were sent to examine and report their expert opinions regarding the possibilities of the country.

The land is level and cleared. That is it has no growth upon it, generally speaking, excepting an immense crop, in Summer, of wild grass, which cuts frequently, from four to five tons of excellent hay to the acre.

There are small patches of alder, cottonwood and poplar here and there, just enough to afford fuel and timber for fencing.

The climate is simply fine. It is warmer in Winter than Minneapolis, while the Summers are simply perfect. Long sunshiny days make crops grow as if in greenhouses.

YOU CAN GET SOME OF THIS LAND

Of course the railroad is not completed yet. If trains were running through this land, as they will be within a few months now, you couldn't buy an acre of it for less than many times the price it is now offered at. But now is the time to act. Why should you not just as well secure some of this land now--get in at the beginning--and make a few thousand dollars, just as well as any one else. Hundreds of wise, shrewd people will make money here.

HOW TO FIND OUT ALL ABOUT IT

Call at our offices and talk with Mr. Moon, the vice-president of the association, about this country. He knows all about it, and will gladly give you any information you wish. Also he will show you government reports, surveys and the field notes of the government engineers made right upon the ground, describing every detail about every quarter section of the land. These reports show the exact location, the character of the land and the amount of timber growth, if any, upon it. They show the creeks, streams or springs upon the land and every other matter about which a prospective investor might be interested. In fact, in these reports you have the advice of a qualified official expert as to the character and desirability of each piece of land. You can really tell more about the land from these expert reports than you could tell if you were actually upon the ground yourself.

TABLER IS CAUGHT

Clerk Confesses He Tried to Chloroform Woman.

WALKS INTO POLICE TRAP

Arrested After Chase, He Says He Didn't Know He Had Done Anything Wrong Until He Read About It in Newspaper.

By a trap laid by Detectives Coleman and Snow, Charles Tabler, the young grocery clerk wanted for attempting to kill Marie Buskuhl, a domestic in the home of T. J. Seufert, of 705 Brazees street, by administering chloroform, was caught late yesterday afternoon, and is in the City Jail, in default of bail. An information charging assault with intent to kill has been prepared by Deputy District Attorney Fitzgerald. The case will be called today.

Tabler was arrested in Mount Tabor. He had been absent from his work and his home ever since the night of the attack on the girl and the detectives had been vigilant in their search for him without result until yesterday. The young woman herself assisted in his capture. She received a telephone message from Tabler during the morning pleading for an interview. At the suggestion of the detectives, whom she informed, she made an appointment with him, and accompanied by the officers, went to the meeting place at the terminus of the Mount Tabor carline.

Prisoner Makes Confession.

When they reached the rendezvous, Tabler saw the officers and tried to escape through a grocery store. The officers gave chase and cornered him. Tabler trembled when he talked. He admitted having given the woman chloroform, but said he could not account for his action.

"I must have been drunk when I did it," he said. "I did not even know that I had done it until I picked up the paper the next morning and read the account of it there. I must have done it, if they say so. What was my motive? I didn't have any. I don't know why and can't imagine why I should have done such a thing. After I read of the case in the paper I was afraid to be seen so I did not go to work and I have been living in a rooming-house on Front street ever since."

Refusal to Wed Angers Him.

Tabler had been acquainted with the young woman several years and at one time had asked her to marry him. On Monday night, the girl being alone in the Seufert house, Tabler crept in and stuffed a chloroform rag under her nose. She lost consciousness for a moment and when she regained her senses, screamed until the neighbors were aroused and the police came. As she was harmed in no way and nothing was stolen from the house, the police were at a loss to account for a motive for chloroforming the girl.

Recent information given the District Attorney's office by Miss Buskuhl has given rise to the theory that Tabler intended to kill her because she would not marry him, but that he became frightened and left her. She told Deputy District Attorney Fitzgerald that she partially regained consciousness at one time and that Tabler was then feeling her pulse and listening to her heart beats and that he then applied the anesthetic again.

GRANGE PLEDGES FEALTY

Efforts Promised to Defeat Assembly Plan of Nomination.

Woodlawn Grange, No. 350, of the Patrons of Husbandry, at its meeting last Saturday evening, adopted resolutions reiterating its fealty to the direct primary law and declaring that, while it concedes to all the right to assemble as individuals and agree upon whom they will support, it continues to oppose strenuously any assembly professing to act for any party organization which shall place in nomination for state, county or city offices. The resolutions adopted were:

Whereas, the Oregon Bar Association has gone on record as favoring the "Assembly" Plan of nominating candidates for office and has asked that they be regarded as the authority who must pass upon the desirability of all initiative and referendum measures until such time as they can procure a change in the initiative and referendum laws, resting the power with them or elsewhere and the direct primary, Statement Number One, and the initiative and referendum eliminated or destroyed, and

Whereas, further, at a recent smoker in the City of Portland, under the auspices of leading political clubs, a strong resolution was adopted, pledging those clubs to an assembly convention to place in nomination men for the different offices of the state and, whereas, at the same time said political clubs did profess loyalty to the direct primary law, which is directly opposite to the assembly of the convention system, and

Whereas, the Grange has always been a champion of direct primary as well as direct legislation, while at the same time conceding to all the right to assemble or congregate upon whom they will support, individually or collectively, nevertheless strenuously opposing any assembly professing to act for any party organization which shall place in nomination men for any position in the state, city or county;

Therefore, be it resolved, That we reiterate the well-known Grange principle of loyalty to the direct primary law, which was carried in this state by an overwhelming majority, and we do pledge ourselves to use all legitimate means available to defeat any infringement by assembly or otherwise of the direct primary law as well as those who may be the authors or promoters of any such infringement of the primary laws or to the initiative or referendum laws of the State of Oregon.

ALL SEE WONDERFUL SIGHT

Man With Head Where Feet Should Be at St. Vincent's.

A man with his head where his feet ought to be was the plea by which one of the house doctors at St. Vincent's Hospital drew visiting surgeons, internes and nurses to a room on one of the corridors.

One after the other they slipped away and returned.

"Wonderful, wonderful," repeated one after another. "You should see him. Doctor O'valle has him."

Each one who had time to slip away came back more serious than the last and finally every one became convinced there was some scientific mystery worth investigating.

The wonderful man was being shaved by Doctor O'valle, the orderly, and for greater convenience with regard to the lighting conditions of the room, had turned the man in bed so he lay with his head at the foot of the bed and his feet on the pillow.

His head was where his feet ought to be. Each one saw the wonder, stole silently away and then--why then the next mucker was fooled.

TINY STAMP IS BIG AID

TEN SUFFICE TO BUY QUART OF MILK FOR PATIENT.

One Thousand Taken by Christmas Shoppers Helps Red Cross to Nurse Consumptives.

What does the Red Cross Christmas stamp mean? That you are asked to spend 1 cent more on every Christmas present or letter you send. It means that this tiny piece of money, multiplied by thousands, will yield a great sum for the maintenance of a fine work--the care and cure of those afflicted with tuberculosis.

Each stamp sold will make three persons happy--the one sending it, the one getting it and the "unknown" whom it will help. Every stamp sold means another weapon placed in the hands of those battling against the white plague.

Ten pennies will buy a quart of fresh milk, one of the best liquids for tubercular patients. Whenever 1000 of the Christmas stamps are sold a few more days are added to the credit of those who suffer but can be saved.

The reports of the various committees of the Visiting Nurse Association, which has charge of the sale of the Christmas stamp this year, are most encouraging.

Since the sale of Red Cross Christmas stamps began in the corridor of the Postoffice, much confusion has resulted concerning their purpose. Being the size of the ordinary postage stamps, several people have concluded that they were a new kind of stamp issued by the Government, and in the Postoffice a collection of postal cards has been made bearing these stamps, instead of the regular postage stamps. They will be held for lack of postage.

The use of the Postoffice corridor for sale of the stamps was granted to the American National Red Cross Association by the Treasury Department, which has full authority over the postoffice buildings. Postmaster Young received notice from the Treasury Department to permit the nurses to use the corridor for that purpose.

Vancouver "Drunks" Decrease.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Dec. 2.—(Special.)—Twenty-five arrests for drunkenness were made in Vancouver during the last month, which is between five and 10 less than the average per month during the last ten months. The new ordinances, strictly regulating the saloons, went into effect November 24, and the police think that this had some bearing on the result. The report for the month follows: Drunks, 25; misdemeanors, 8; larceny, 1; juvenile offenders, 5; insanity, 3; vagrants, 65; total arrests, 111; cases of stolen property, 18; goods being recovered in five cases; total fines collected, $114.50.
