Grant May Seck Honors.

Mention of City Attorney Kavanaugh with the county judgship suggests another rumon to the effect that F. S. Grant, chief deputy under City Attorney Kavanaugh, may become a candidate for Attorney-General on the state ticket. At any rate, should Grant not the state tax to each county. go after the state job, it is understood that he will be a candidate to succeed his chief as City Attorney if Kavanaugh lands the nomination for County Judge.

County Commissioner Barnes will not run again and at this early date no one has been suggested as his probable successor.

It is understood that the three re-ring judges of the State Circuit Court-Bronaugh and Cleland, both Re-publicans, and Gatens, Democrat-will ask for another term, although there is an unconfirmed Gubernatorial nomina tion. However, the three circuit judges not secure renominations without having a contest on their hands, W. Stapleton, an assembly advocate said that L. A. McNary, ex-City Attor-ney who was defeated by Judge Bro-naugh for the nomination in the pri-marles of 1908, by a narrow margin, may try again for the same office next year.

Shrievalty Candidates Many.

While Sheriff Stevens has not mitted himself on the subject, it is the general supposition that he will be a candidate for a third term. His friends say his entire acceptability to the public as a candidate and his excellent Sheriff insure his renomination The indications are, however, that in seeking the renomination of Sheriff Stevens, his friends will find some op-position. George W. McMillan, promiposition. George w. There is a report that N. H. Bird, a deputy in Sheriff Steven's of-fice, will also be a candidate to suc-ceed his chief. Mr. Bird was a candi-date before the primaries in 1998. County Commissioner Lightner also would like to be Sheriff. County Auditor Brandes is among the few county officials who is willing to retire from public sevice, but there will be others who would succeed him gladly. Among the suggested candi-dates for this office is Sam Martin, chief deputy in the tax department of the Sheriff's office. Tom Norton and William Klernan may also be candi-dates.
