ELKS MOURN DEAD

Annual Memorial Services Held at Taylor-St. Church.

FITTING IS PROGRAMME

Dr. Benjamin Young Delivers Able Address in Honor of Departed of Lodge No. 142, B. P. O. E. Nine Brothers Died in Year.

The faults of our brothers we write upon their tablets of Love and Memory. —Elks' Ritual.

Such was the spirit of the annual memorial services held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock by the members of Portland Lodge, No. 142, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, at the Taylor-Street Methodist Episcopal Church.

Similar services were held in over 1500 cities and towns in the United States where lodges of Elks are located, for the first Sunday in December is set aside by the lodge ritual as a day for the observance of the memory of the departed brothers.

Dr. Benjamin Young, pastor of the Taylor-Street Church, delivered an able address in which he extolled the principles of the Elks and praised the memory feature of the ritual of this order. Following Dr. Young, John B. Coffey extolled the good points of the nine brothers of Portland lodge who passed away since the last memorial ceremonies.

Those of No. 142 who passed away since the last exercises are as follows: Departed Brethren Are Nine.

S. J. Jones, December 10, 1908; W. J. Van Schuyver, January 7, 1909; John Schenk, January 14, 1909; R. Clinton, January 31, 1909; William Connor, February 7, 1909; J. Clyde Owen, March 31, 1909; M. D. Wladon, August 19, 1909; A. Frager, August 29, 1909, and C. W. Jones, September 14, 1909.

Two hundred and fifty members of the Portland lodge marched through the stubly streets from the Elks' Temple to the church, where a similar number of brothers with their wives and families had assembled, where services were held.

The programme of the exercises was as follows: Organ, Professional—"Andante Cantabile," W. H. Boone, Newport Lodge, R. L. No. 104; quartet—"Some Blessed Day," Nevins; opening ritualistic exercises, Portland Lodge, No. 142, B. P. O. E.; solo—"Arie," Waldemar Lind, Portland Lodge, No. 142; roll call of our departed brothers—recitation of lodge quartet—"Lead Kindly Light," Mrs. May Dearborn Schwab, soprano, Mrs. Max M. Schillock, contralto, W. H. Boyer, tenor, John Claire Monteith, baritone; opening ode, audience, prayer, chaplain of lodge, Rev. J. Reddner and Mr. Lord, Mrs. Schwab; address—Rev. Benjamin Young, pastor of the church, though "Mr. Monteith, Portland Lodge, No. 142; closing ritualistic exercises, by the lodge quartet—"Hark! Hark! My Soul," Mrs. Schwab, Mrs. Schillock, Mr. Boyer, Mr. Monteith; doxology; benediction, Rev. Benjamin Young; organ recessional—"March Solenne," Lemare, Mr. Boone.

VANCOUVER ELKS MOURN DEAD

Hager's Theater Packed to Capacity at Memorial Services.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Dec. 5.—(Special.)—The local Lodge of Elks No. 823 held its annual memorial services this afternoon in Hager's Theater. The building was packed to its capacity. Impressive services were held.

The memorial address was delivered by R. B. Albertson, of Seattle Lodge No. 92. The eulogy was given by George L. Hutchins, of Portland Lodge No. 142. Invocation and benediction was spoken by Rev. A. W. Bond, a Congregationalist minister. A number of musical selections were rendered.

BAKER CITY ELKS DO HONOR

Inclement Weather Fails to Keep Away Mourners for Dead.

BAKER CITY, Or., Dec. 5.—(Special.)—Although the weather was inclement here all day, the Elks' Auditorium was well filled this afternoon for the annual memorial services of the Elks' order.

Besides a musical programme by the Baker Concert Band and other Baker talent, P. Monroe Snook, of Idaho, delivered an address on the order.

Two Elks Die at Albany in Year.

ALBANY, Or., Dec. 5.—(Special.)—Albany Lodge No. 859, B. P. O. E., observed the annual memorial Sunday of the order this afternoon. The customary memorial services were held in the lodge hall. R. C. Willis, of Corvallis, and John Braden, of Bates, were the only members of the local lodge who have died during the past year.

BROKERS ARE REDS

"Blight of Anarchy" Is Speaker's Topic in Lecture.

STOCK OPERATORS FLAYED

Dr. Davidson Buchanan, at Union Hall, Declares Colossal Riches and War-Makers Are Among Anarchists of Country.

That neither Tolstol nor the men who blow up the rulers of nations use the firebrand of the assassin's pistol are real anarchists, but that the real anarchists are men who hold the land and control its use, corner the markets, pile up colossal fortunes, oppress the masses and create wars, was declared by Dr. Davidson Buchanan yesterday afternoon in a lecture in Union Hall, on Grand avenue and East Pine street. His topic was, "The Blight of Anarchy—Who Is the Anarchist?"

He said he would point out the anarchist in places not before suspected, and that when the history of the present century is written a hundred years hence, it would be recorded as a century of savagism and of barbarians, reveling in cruelties worse than those practiced in the 13th century. He said in part:

It will be admitted that the home is the most sacred and hallowed place on the earth, and that the man who would wreck the home is a real anarchist. A short time ago a man went through the South and gathered up the cotton crop, stopped the wheels of the cotton factories and caused famine and death all over the land. It is assumed that he caused the death of 50,000 people. Was not this man an anarchist? Was not his work more extensive than that of the man with a pistol or the firebrand. Yet we honor the man who caused all this destruction of life and want, and hang the man with the pistol. That is our way of doing things. Who is the real anarchist? I have no quarrel with the man who corners the breadstuffs and causes famine and want in the land. You and I would do the same thing if we had the opportunity. I condemn the conditions that make such things possible. The assassin of the home is the real anarchist, and this is the man we honor. There have been 16 assassinations and we have had three Presidents, but nothing resulted. No, my friends, it is not the bomb-thrower who is the anarchist. We honor the man who steals a million of money and murders 20,000 innocent men, women and children and hangs the poor ignorant assassin.

Friends, we are just at the dawn of civilization only. During the early centuries there were some killed, but not so many as we kill now. The chief recent glory of this country was in the magnificent fleet we sent around the world to show how savage we are and demonstrate our ability to kill other people. In Europe today there are 4,000,000 armed and trained men ready to begin killing one another at the word of command. This is the century of scientific killing. The war-makers are the anarchists. The South African war was a war of the money power. More than 200,000 were killed in that war between England and the miners there. But for the riches of the farmers there would have been no war. Our Civil War was a war caused by the wealthy interests. The politicians of this country are anarchists of the worst sort. According to the revised theology the devil has been voted out of the churches, but, my friends, he is doing his work. I think the devil has gone out of business because he found so much competition in the world. He could do nothing in it. Reform of these conditions is not the work of any individual. It will be brought about by violence or evolution. It will simply be a matter of evolution.

ACTOR COMES TO GRIEF

Installment-Plan Sparkler Is Attached by Chicago Firm.

Harry Fox, a vaudeville actor who appeared at the Orpheum during the past week in a potpourri of mirthful mannerisms, experienced the steep descent of stage life yesterday when Deputy Constable Kiernan descended upon him and attached the diamond ring that granted the actor freedom of his life.

Oldest Cities in Three States.

FORT STEVENS, Or., Dec. 1.—(To the Editor.)—What are the oldest settled towns in Washington, Oregon and California? Vancouver, founded by Hudson's Bay Company in 1828; Astoria, founded by John Jacob Astor in 1811; San Diego, founded by Spanish missionaries in 1769.

DOCTOR ESCAPES DEATH

AUTO SMASHES INTO RAILROAD CROSSING GATE.

A. W. Moore Barely Saved From Running Head-On Into Passing Freight Train on Morrison.

Traveling in his own automobile at a speed estimated by various witnesses as between 10 and 15 miles an hour, Dr. A. W. Moore, with offices in the Dekum building, crashed into the railroad crossing gate at East Morrison and East First streets yesterday afternoon and narrowly escaped colliding with a freight train.

The freight was passing at the time and the machine was only saved from collision by the end of the gate getting under the machine and catching against the frozen ground, holding the auto less than a foot from the passing cars.

Dr. Moore, who was alone in the machine, traveled at a fast clip across the bridge. While he was two blocks away from the crossing the gates were lowered and before he was within a block the train was passing. He struck the gate with such force that it was snapped clear of its support, although it is well braced. Gateman John Clint was on duty at the time.

Dr. Moore declared that the gate was covered with snow and of the same color as the snow and that he could not see it.
