Mass Plays and Lessen Danger of Accident, He Would Abolish the Present Style. OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvailis, Or., Dec. 7.-(Special.)-W. J. Kerr, president of the Oregon Agricult-ural College, is in favor of abolishing the present collegiate game of football and substituting the Rugby game if the com-mittee on rules fails to make a revision which will eliminate mass plays and rewhich will eliminate mass plays and re-duce the chances for injury. In an interview, President Kerr said: "I am in favor of football, but I am of the opinion that the rules should be rad-ically changed I believe the traditional cally changed. I believe the strong stand taken by the colleges and universities of the country will result in a change of rules at a meeting of the rules commit-tee in December. If this is not done, I am in favor of abolishing the present game and substituting the Rugby game Dr. Kerr said he favored college sports of all kinds because they were great factors in the important work of physigreat cal education. In referring to football, he declared it had the greatest influence in popularizing athletic activity and therefore was of particular value as a ollege sport. President Kerr is said to voice the sentiment of a majority of the college faculty in this matter. Indications are that this college will join the California institutions in the adoption of the Rugby game unless sweeping changes are made in the American game. It is the opin-ion of Dr. Kerr and others who have been studying athletic development in the Northwest, that there would be little dif-ficulty in securing the adoption of the ing woman.

SALEM, Or., Dec. 7 .- (Special) -- Orc-gon's State Board of Equalisation, consisting of Governor Benson, State Treasurer Steel and J. G. Eaton and C. V. Galloway, State Tax Commissioners, met today and immediately adjourned until tomorrow at 10 o'clock, when another meeting will be held in the Senate chamber. The Assessors from the 34 counties of the state have been summoned to appear before the Board and give testimony as to the methods in vogue for determining the valuation of property and other matters of vital importance to the state at large. Following the sessions of the State Board there will be a conference or convention of the Assessors, which is expected to bring more interesting and im-portant points relating to property matters.

Total Values $690,000.000.

The Tax Commission has received summaries of the assessed valuation of prop-erty in all but Coos, Klamath, Linn and Hood River counties, and a conservative estimate of the counties not heard from gives the state a total assessed valuation of $609,000,000, as against $598,133,963.70 hast year, a gain of over $30,000,000. The total amount appropriated by the Legislature at its recent session for the biennial period of 1909-10 was $3,614,000. Of this huge sum it will be necessary to raise approximately $1,580,000 by the 1910 tax levy, the balance being taken care of by unexpended balances of appropriations for previous years, esti-mated miscellaneous receipts for 1910 and the $1,680,000 included in the levy made
