"Hazel Hounded to Grave by Suitor She Loathed," Sobs Mother of Dead Girl.

THIS MAN BROKE UP HOME

Poisoned Mind of Father Against His Wife and Daughter, Says Mrs. Dillon-Hazel Loved Wealthy Man in Scranton, Pa

CHICAGO, Dec. 15. - (Special.) - On statements made by Mrs. F. E. Dillon that drugs administered caused the death of her daughter, Hazel Robertson Dillon, the 18-year-old girl who was found un-conscious in Lincoin Park, the Mother Superior of Columbus Hospital today summoned Detectives Hager and Smith from the North Haisted-street police sta-tion and demanded they investigate the circumstances of the girl's death in the heapital.

While the police and attaches of the Coroner's office were investigating the causes of the mysterious death, a man in a long gray overcoat drove up at fast speed to the Columbus Hospital. He hastened in and asked to see Mrs. Dillon.

Father Deeply Interested.

She showed a telegram signed by the father at Glenns Ferry, Idaho, asking her to urge the Coroner to make a thorough in-quiry of the circumstances of his daugh-

Baring the romance and sorrows of their lives for the first time since their names came into publicity, Mrs. Dillon today declared that her daughter was driven to her grave by a man of mys-tery, who also wrecked the Dillon home tery, who also wrecked in Glenns Ferry, Idaho.

Girl Loathed Her Sultor.

"He loved my daughter as much as she loathed him," said Mrs. Dillon, and she sobbed and seemed on the point of nervous breakdown at the hospital, where her daughter died. "But my daughter did love a man, a wealthy broker in Scranton, Pa. And he has telegraphed that he is on his way here now. He and my daughter had been playmates when children. They seemed to have always loved. I had consented to their marriage. That was the romance in her life. The other man brought all that was tragic. He persecuted me and my daughter. He hounded her to her grave.

"This man, whose name will remain hidden, wrecked our home in Idaho and poisoned the mind of my husband against me and my daughter. My daughter died of a broken heart."
