I. W. W. FIGHT AIDED

Local Workers of World and Socialists Give Coin.

STORM SPOKANE ADVISED

Woman Speaker Urges Friends of Jailed Street Orators to Be Arrested to Help Cause—McAllister Upholds Them.

Local Industrial Workers of the World and Socialists yesterday afternoon pledged themselves to support the I. W. W. obstructionists of Spokane and took up a collection for the "fight" which they declared is "not about to cease." E. S. J. McAllister, E. J. Lewis and Mrs. Forber were the principal speakers.

"The dictatorship of the police in this country has become worse than it is in Russia," said E. S. J. McAllister. "The police officers can close up meetings, stop speeches, and prohibit the publication of papers, and they do it according to the law. The police system is a relic of barbarism. The whole system of police interference with the rights of the people is wrong. There is seldom a policeman who understands the function of his position."

"If I were living in Spokane now I certainly would speak on the streets. The police here tried once to keep me from speaking on the streets but they failed. There never was so much need of speakers being heard on free speech, I believe that good, solid, honest men ought to go to Spokane and insist on speaking on the streets. If we have become such asses that we submit to the present condition of affairs, a revolution to kill us off would be a good thing."

"Our brothers in Spokane don't go to jail because they want to, but because it is a necessity to help the cause. They would walk to the gallows gladly if they would benefit the remaining working class of the country. The workingmen want freedom and they will have it. The boys in Spokane are going to jail so that we will not have to do it in Portland."

Chief of Police Sullivan cannot win against them. She then pleaded for every man in the hall to go to Spokane with the idea of getting into jail, if necessary, to assist the I. W. W. cause. Deafening cheers were the response of the assembly.

OUT-OF-JAIL I. W. W. TO FIGHT City Prison Now Houses Spokane Orators—Suit Threatened.

SPOKANE, Wash., Dec. 19.—(Special.)—The batch of properly chastened I. W. W. orators in jail practically admitted defeat, promised to be good, work on the rocks and get something else to eat besides bread and water, but the brethren on the outside, to save the face of the organization, are now making loud threats of carrying on the fight. The spokesman of the executive committee says the "bunch" has simply stopped to get its second wind and recuperate. He declares the intention of the organization to take a few cases to the United States Supreme Court and abide by the decision. "We want free speech and we are going to have it," he concluded. All those imprisoned were removed today to the City Jail proper. Ten were released and 13 will go on the rocks tomorrow morning. They received their first meal of solid food in two weeks Sunday evening. A committee of five has been appointed to find out why locals throughout the country fail to send men and money after promising to do so. Police Commissioner Tuerke said today that the disturbances have been handled by the police without using a club, firing a shot or breaking property.

SCHOOL PURCHASE BEATEN Milwaukee Public Meeting Defeats Acquisition of Acre.

To the surprise and chagrin of many, a majority at the special meeting of the taxpayers of Milwaukee School District Saturday night, in the schoolhouse, the proposal to purchase the property east of the schoolhouse was defeated. This was a special meeting called to vote on the purchase of the ground, comprising an acre, for $200,000, by ex-Mayor Shindler, the opposition won. Mayor Streib, member of the Board of Directors, said yesterday that the proposal was defeated by the outlying portions of the district, who want several smaller buildings and object to more improvements in the central portion. The ground was wanted for a playground for the present building, which now has 300 pupils and is growing rapidly. It was also desired to erect a high school house later for the use of the entire Milwaukee district. The district held an option for $200, but to outsiders the property was held for $200.

The peculiar properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy have been thoroughly tested during epidemics of influenza, and when it was taken in time we have not heard of a single case of pneumonia. Sold by all dealers.

STAMP SALE LARGE

Red Cross Stickers Sold to Number of 700,000.

$10,000 NEEDED FOR WORK

Anti-Tuberculosis Crusade During Coming Year Will Require Big Sum—More Postcards Coming Soon—Instal New Booth.

With the activities incident to Christmas week, the campaign for the sale of Red Cross stamps in the anti-tuberculosis crusade in this city will be waged with increased earnestness. Miss Gaeta Wasserman, who is actively associated with this movement in Oregon, estimated last night that probably 700,000 of the stamps already had been sold throughout the state. This estimate, Miss Wasserman said, was not entirely accurate for the reason that only incomplete reports had been received from various of the cities in the state where stamps are on sale. "We are desirous of raising a fund of $10,000 from the sale of these stamps with which to wage our fight against tuberculosis in this state next year." "In order to do so we must dispose of all the stamps and cards we have accepted through the National Red Cross Association. If we succeed there must be increased sales and we are depending on the people of the state to see that our goal is reached."

More Postcards Coming.

"Our supply of postcards became exhausted several days ago, but we expect to receive an additional 5000 of these cards of a new design. There is a big demand for these cards and they will be placed on sale just as soon as they are received. While we are grateful for the response Oregonians in the amount of $100, but the booth in the Portland Hotel was the first to make that record. The total sales at this booth now aggregate about $115. This was due principally to the volunteer work of Miss Alice Lloyd, the clever English actress, who, during 75 minutes Saturday afternoon, disposed of 500 stamps, netting $25, or a dollar a minute from her efforts."

Of the smaller cities throughout the state, the reports indicate that Corvallis is in the lead. It was in that city that H. A. Wells, a business man, mailed an order in which he enclosed $30 for 2000 stamps as "a starter." He accompanied the remittance with a letter in which he highly commended the work of the Visiting Nurse Association and urged all citizens to assist the efforts of the organization by making liberal purchases of stamps. In the letter of Mr. Wells is as follows: "A Red Cross Merry Christmas stamp has been aptly named a bullet in the fight against consumption. A stamp costs one cent, but it is a great white plague. But no ordinary bullet could perform the varied service of the Christmas stamp. It carries a warning against exposure to the disease, it carries a message of hope to the suffering, its price aids the Visiting Nurse's Association in its work, its exhibition is a sign to all that loyal men and women are giving practical evidence of their devotion to the welfare of humanity by combining against humanity's greatest enemy. Don't fail to buy Red Cross stamps and help the cause, while at the same time identifying yourself with progressive people."

New Stamp Booth Installed Today.

OLD BUILDING IN DEMAND Brooklyn Would Make Branch Library of Unused City Structure.

The members of the Brooklyn Hall Association will ask the city for the old unused building which stands on the city property at the corner of Milwaukee and Powell streets, with the view of moving it to a lot owned by the association on Marys and Powell streets. If the association can secure this building, it is proposed to make a public hall and branch library out of it. Those who have examined the structure are of the opinion that it can be moved and refitted at small expense.

The city soon will tear down or move this structure to make room for the proposed city barn and to clear the remainder of the ground for a public park. A branch library has been wanted in that portion of the city for years. City Auditor A. L. Barbur, member of the hall association, favors the movement.
