

COURT DEBATES NEW TRIAL FOR MORSE

Writ of Error Now Banker's Last Chance to Avoid 15-Year Sentence.

WIFE IS DEEPLY AFFECTED

Prisoner Ought Not to Expect Jury of Teetotalers, Judge Says.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Only a technical legal shadow now stands between Charles F. Morse, banker and one-time king, and a 15-year sentence in the Federal prison at Atlanta.

Judge Hough, in the United States Circuit Court, today denied his motion for a new trial, but Martin W. Littleton, his counsel, announced that one more stand would be taken. Tomorrow he will move in the Circuit Court for a writ of error. If this is denied, Morse will begin the new year serving his sentence for violation of the National banking laws, the Supreme Court of the United States having previously refused to interfere in the case.

Protest Comes Too Late.

With respect to this charge, the court holds that the fact that the jurymen were in the custody of secret services instead of regular Deputy Marshals was well known to both counsel and jurors when the trial began. The court also notes that more than a year has elapsed since Morse was convicted and sentenced, and that a writ of certiorari has been denied by the United States Supreme Court.

Jurors Not Teetotalers.

Judge Hough points out that, by direction of the court, the jurymen were permitted to drink during their lives, and that the affidavits submitted by Morse's counsel showed merely that in the entire trial only one bottle of liquor and some individual drinks had been consumed by the jury. And it is not pretended that anyone was at all intoxicated during the trial. All parties agreed that the jury continues, that no liquor was served to the jurors after the case had been given to them.

Reading Papers Not Grounds.

As to the charges that the jurors were permitted to read newspapers with "hostile" accounts of the trial, Judge Hough said: "This case was dull; it took a long time to exhibit the facts of the case; facts; newspaper accounts were incomplete and incorrect, but there is no evidence that they were so hostile or biased as even to affect the minds of men quite able to perceive their incompleteness and incorrectness. There is all the more reason, therefore, that jurors are unlawful, this point requires no further consideration."

NICKELL MUST SERVE TIME

Jacksonville, Or., Man, Guilty of Land Fraud, Denied Pardon.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Efforts appear hopeless to obtain a pardon for Charles Nickell, of Jacksonville, Or., serving a four-year term of imprisonment as the result of the conviction of conspiracy in land fraud.

and when every special agent of the Interior Department felt that his promotion would likely follow a path of adverse reports. Ordinarily, patents would have been issued without question, and we will see patents issued in the future with no better showing made, and I venture to say that those who are jumping and contesting these claims unless some relief is secured from Congress will secure patents, and with much less showing than was made by the original entrymen.

Relief Must Come Soon.

As you are all well aware relief must come at once, or it will be too late. Claim-jumpers are flocking daily to the Siletz and every claim will be jumped. Since it appears that the department has a friendly ear for these claim-jumpers, it is only a question of time until every original entrant on the Siletz will be done out, but.

PINGHOT FENDS NEW REFEEDER

Sir Horace Plunkett, of Ireland, Praises Forester.

ALSO SAYS HILL GREAT MAN

America Should Follow Advice of Railroad Magnate and Improve Farming Methods and Quit Speculating, Says He.

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Gifford Pinchot today found support in his controversy with Secretary Ballinger from an unexpected quarter.

Mr. Pinchot, who is a member of the American Forestry Association, and who has brought about almost a rural revolution in Ireland and who is said to know more about the resources of the United States than 99 per cent of her own citizens, said: "I regret that I have just received a telephone message from Mr. Pinchot saying that pressing business keeps him away. I must decline to enter into any discussion, but I should like to defend Mr. Pinchot as a remarkable public servant. He is not only a man who is doing his work with a great devotion, but he is trying as well to broaden his administrative position."

J. J. Hill Great Man, Says Irishman.

Sir Horace expressed surprise that the opinion repeatedly uttered by J. J. Hill had not been better heeded in this country. He thought perhaps it is because we were so much interested in trusts and in municipal regeneration. "I see a rapidly-increasing cost of living," he said. "At the end of a century, as Mr. Hill has told you, there will be a vast importation of foodstuffs into America. If your farming methods are not growing better, such a situation calls for urgent action by Congress and by State Legislatures. As an alien I have no right to say what such action should be, but if I may not prescribe, I may describe."

Farmer Today Is Speculator.

"The system of agriculture in the central West, or that part of it settled 20 years ago, is the most wasteful I ever saw. The so-called farmer is not a farmer, but a land speculator. He went into the country knowing that the land was sure to rise in value. So he bought the land he could and then he sold it to realize his eventual sure profits from a sale. "There has got to be a change. I believe there will come in this country cooperation between farmers—the plan long ago forced upon the farmers of older countries by the competition of the virgin soils of America. "In Ireland, farmers are getting together for their own good and for the good of the country, and they are making a new industrial Ireland."
