Table with 3 columns: Team Name, Wins, Losses, Percentage. Includes Honeyman Hardware Co., Dilworth Derbies, Goodyear Rubber, Columbia Hardware, Y. M. C. A., and W. E. Fuller.

With only six more games to be played in the Portland Indoor Baseball League an exciting finish is predicted, with the Gold Seals, the Honeyman Hardware Company and the Dilworth Derbies fighting for first place.

Each of the three teams has the same chance of winning the pennant. The Gold Seals rely on their pitcher, Bob Fordney, to put them in the lead, the Honeyman on their fast infield, and the Dilworths on their general team work and the old heads of the players.

The arbitration committee has not yet handed in its decision on the disputed game played recently between the Honeyman and the Y. M. C. A. The score in this game was 10 to 6 in favor of the Y. M. C. A. in the seventh inning when the lights went out, but was awarded 9 to 6 to the umpire by the Honeyman team.

BAKERS SIGN TO MEET EDDIE LANG

Eight-Round Bout at Memphis to Be Nelson's Final Workout.

WOLGAST NEXT OPPONENT

Contest January 21 Before Tommy Ryan's Club at 133 Pounds. Champion Will Then Train for Bay City Fight.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—(Special.)—Batting Nelson will meet Eddie Lang, a local lightweight, in an eight-round bout before Tommy Ryan's club at Memphis, January 21. This contest, to be fought at 133 pounds at 8 o'clock in the evening, will be the champion's only workout prior to pitching his training camp at Milletta, on the outskirts of San Francisco, for a finish scrap with Al Wolgast.

"I have been out of the ring for several months and realize the value of a fast contest before I 'hook up' with the little German," said the Batter tonight. "That's the reason I signed with Tommy Ryan to appear before Doc Hottum's club."

NELSON FAVORITE AT 10 TO 7.

Los Angeles Sporting Man Bets $700 Against $1000 on Wolgast.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—(Special.)—Betting odds on the coming Wolgast-Nelson fight are 10 to 7 in favor of the latter, with Nelson favorite at 10 to 7 by the action of Ellis Cohen, a well-known sporting man, of Los Angeles.

Cohen, who arrived in San Francisco today from the Southern metropolis, announced his willingness to wager his coin on Wolgast. He said that before leaving Los Angeles he had wagered $700 against $1000 and that he stood ready to bet any part of $3500 at the same odds in San Francisco. Cohen will be here several days.

"Los Angeles people think mighty well of Wolgast," said Cohen, "and will be ready to back him up, if the odds are right. I have already bet $700 in Los Angeles, but have more money, most of it my own, which I would like to place here."

According to what Cohen says, the people of that city are quite "sure" because a fight comes to San Francisco, instead of the South.

"We ought to have had the fight," he said. "We could have raised $1000 around here, and the odds would have been raised around the city so to have increased the Nelson purse to the $12,000 that he demanded. But we let the chance go."

DORANDO GETS OVATION

SAN FRANCISCO GREETED NOTED MARATHON RUNNER.

Big Race With Johnny Hayes Will Be Run Soon—If Italian Wins, He Wants St. Yves.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—(Special.)—Diminutive in stature and with little that would distinguish him from the rank and file of the Italian people, Pietro Dorando, the well-known long-distance runner, arrived today from New York to prepare for his Marathon race with Johnny Hayes, that is scheduled for Sunday, January 23.

Dorando was accorded an ovation by the Italian colony here when he preceded his automobile up Market street to the St. Francis and members of the Italian Touring Club accompanied him as a guard of honor. At the hotel, members of the Italian colony greeted him, and when he appeared at a local Italian restaurant the diners rose en masse to applaud him.

Dorando cannot speak a word of English and his brother, who is with him as business manager, attends to the interviews.

This will be the third meeting of the runners. On the first occasion, it was during the memorable Olympian games in London, when Dorando was disqualified and Hayes given the trophy; later in New York, as professionals, they met, and Dorando beat Hayes.

This will be the deciding race. Dorando says if he wins he will propose to meet Henry St. Yves, who is also in San Francisco.

ALBANY, Or., Jan. 9.—(Special.)—The Albany basketball team returned today from a Polk County trip with two more victories to its credit. Friday evening, at Independence, the team won from the Independence High School by a score of 32 to 17. Last evening at Monmouth it won from the Monmouth High School by a score of 22 to 20. This latter victory was achieved with Vern Besson, a substitute, playing in place of Captain Park Stataker. The team has not lost a game to a high school team thus far this season. The team is coached by Haman Rlyzen, for many years a notable player at the O. A. C.

The lineup of the first team is now as follows: Center, Engstrom; forwards, Stataker and Dooley; guards, Higbee and Carnegie; substitutes, Everding, Besson and Viereck. Charles Ohling is manager of the team.

ful to Portland for the opportunity, for the "desertion" of Portland is what offers the chance for baseball to some Washington town, whether it be Walla Walla or some other.

Portland Starts No War.

Hughes' assertion that Portland has started a baseball war on the towns of Washington is absurd. That Portland is not to be represented in the Northwestern League next season is not the fault of the McCredies nor of any one in Portland, for the Judge, now Congressman McCredie, always supported the Northwestern idea, and would assuredly have financed such a team another year had not Messrs. Dugdale, Laicos and Gohn, acting as an advisory board which was more like a dictatorship, decided Portland was not wanted because the fans here failed to appreciate the "high-class" or "bush" ball presented by that league. Attention of "St." Hughes is called to the fact that Seattle made the first break when Dugdale advocated the abandonment of Portland and the selection of some other town to take its place. It would appear that Portland's position as a baseball agent, and is doing nicely at that, at least as far as the enlightenment of the Seattle fans is concerned.

MAN CAUSES PANIC ON CAR

Drunken Passenger Is Cause of Screams and Shattered Windows.

After starting a panic on a Jefferson depot car, in which several windows were smashed, "Ponty" Bethune was arrested by Patrolman Hughes, at Fifth and Morrison streets Saturday and sent to the police station on a charge of drunkenness. Coincident with his arrest, Bethune gave the policeman and the conductor of the car a lively fight.

Bethune became obstreperous while riding on the car, and when the conductor endeavored to quiet him, he threatened to "clean out" the vehicle. In the struggle which followed women screamed and leaped upon the seats, while the male passengers aided the conductor.

MILL SITE IS PURCHASED

Inman-Poulson Company Gets Land Adjoining St. Helens Holdings.

The Inman-Poulson Lumber Company has purchased 23 acres at St. Helens, adjoining the present holdings of that company at St. Helens. The property has a good frontage on the Columbia River and has been purchased by the Inman-Poulson Company to complete what is considered an ideal mill site.

"We have no present intention of putting in either a main or subsidiary plant there," said Robert D. Inman, president of the company, last night. "We bought it so as to round out what we consider an ideal mill site and now we have it, either to sell or to have for future years if we may need it."
