Without Even Serving Notice on

Take Matters Into Their Own Hands—Will Live in South.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—(Special.)—Once again the charming young contralto, known to the music world as Miss Mary Adele Case, of Portland, has given her friends and family a surprise regarding her personal affairs.

Ever since the return of the young singer from Europe last fall, her matrimonial horizon has been prominently before the public. A sensation was created upon her landing at New York by the rumor of her engagement to Claus Sprackels, son of John D. Sprackels, who was a passenger on the same steamer with Miss Case and who had been a co-incident with her in Paris.

But there is a clash of statement in this matter, for young Mrs. Beam declared today that the groom's mother was present at the ceremony, though she said that she had not been invited to the wedding.

Miss Case tires of notoriety. "Why," she said, "even my sister only left for Europe a short time ago, missing my wedding by a week, but I had set no date then. Mr. Beam and I took the matter into our own hands. I am so tired of all the publicity I have had that I determined to have none about this, and we chose an apartment on Hyde street, furnished it and then went to Dr. Rader's studio for a little ceremony. I shall continue to teach and in April Mr. Beam and I will give a song recital, for he has a beautiful voice, too, and in another year I am going into grand opera, as I have always planned."

Willard M. Beam is the son of the late L. Willard Beam and a nephew of ex-Secretary of the Navy Victor H. Metcalf of Oakland. During her residence in San Francisco since returning from Europe the bride has made her home with Mrs. Beam on Fell street.

The young couple went at once into their own apartments, 1757 Hyde street, after a wedding supper down town. The bride wore for her wedding a handsome gown of blue tulle and a large picture hat to match and was entirely unattended.

OREGON TRADE PAPERS HIT
Attorney-General Declares Them Not of "General Circulation."

SALEM, Or., Jan. 21.—(Special.)—Attorney-General Crawford rendered an opinion today to the effect that papers devoted to the promotion of some specific object or propaganda, and shown in the publishing world as "trade" or "class papers," are not legally "papers of general circulation."

If this opinion is upheld in the courts, it undoubtedly will mean a severe blow to class publication throughout the state, which have been making a bid for the publication of various kinds of legal notices, which are required to be published in papers of general circulation.

placed under the Public Service Commission if that is desired by the state. I would, however, call attention to the fact that the telegraph business is different from the telephone business, in that our records show that about seven-eighths of the telegraph business in New York State is interstate, over which, I suppose, the Public Service Commission would have no jurisdiction.

"How much salary do you receive?" counsel asked the Postal president. "I occupy a unique position in that respect. I draw no salary whatever from any of the companies."

Mrs. Mackay was an interested auditor while her husband testified. The Russian reply states that the Russian Government considers the alternative proposition, for its participation in an international syndicate for the construction of the Chinchow-Aigun line, acceptable in principle, but because of the political and strategic value of the enterprise, and its bearing on the East China railroad, Russia will defer a final answer on this subject, pending the receipt of information as to the principles of the American project. Russia reserves the right to pass upon all such projects affecting political, strategic and economic interests.

Senator Carter to Introduce Bill
Monday Which Would Remove Problem of Regulating Use of Lands and Streams.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Jan. 21.—Senator Carter, of Montana, has prepared and will introduce a bill carrying out the recommendations of the Governors of the country at their recent meeting in Washington with reference to the disposition of waterpower sites on the public domain.

The bill provides that all public lands immediately adjoining streams and forming a part of power sites shall be ceded to the various states in which they are located; the states to retain perpetual ownership of such lands, with authority to lease them for power development in such way as to prevent monopoly.

Carter Explains Bill.
In explaining his bill, Carter said that the states in most instances now have control of water in streams on which power can be developed, but much of the abutting land belongs to the Federal Government. It is his contention that the control of both land and water is essential to the intelligent regulation of the development and use of water power and that the Federal Government can work out a satisfactory and effective method of control.

Therefore, he would transfer all public lands necessary to power development to various states and allow them to make their own regulations under which leases for limited periods shall be made.

This bill is at marked variance with the bill heretofore approved by the Administration. In view of the firm and unanimous stand taken by the Governors and the strong sentiment in favor of state regulation on waterpower sites, it will receive strong support.

Opposition Is Foreseen.
The Carter bill will be presented Monday. It is expected that the passing of this measure will evoke a storm of opposition from supporters of the "fast conservation" program. Carter, however, takes the position that when his plan is understood it will command the support of the conservationists.

The bill provides that "any state may enter any unappropriated public lands located within its borders which is chiefly valuable for use in the development of water-power upon making proof to the satisfaction of the Secretary of the Interior that the lands sought to be entered are necessary for such purpose. If, upon submission of such proof, the Secretary of the Interior is satisfied that the land is as described, he will direct that official to issue a patent to the state for all of the land or such portion thereof as he may deem necessary."

It is provided that the "state never shall alienate the title to the land and shall, by law, reserve to its Legislature the right to fix rates of rental for the use of the land, based on capacity for power development, and regulate the price to be charged by any person, company or corporation for electric current generated by the power developed."

LEWIS AGAIN PRESIDENT
Coal Miners Decide Close Election and Hoot Spay.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 21.—At the close of today's session of the convention of the United Mine Workers of America, the report of the tellers of the balloting for officers was declared to be final. Lewis, by opponents of Thomas L. Lewis, was the victor of certain 101 unions must be of unquestionable validity were not pleased. The new officers will take charge on April 1, follows: President, Thomas L. Lewis, Bridgeport; vice-president, Frank J. Hayes, Springfield, Ill.; secretary-treasurer, Edwin Terry, Oskatoosa, Iowa.

President Lewis, in accepting his election, declared that his political enemies, with the exception of those succeeding only in supplying ammunition to the operators whom the bituminous coal miners are to meet on February 1 to negotiate a new wage contract.

Thomas Lewis, of Ohio, was re-elected president over William Green, of Ohio, by 2187 majority. Frank J. Hayes, of Illinois, was elected vice-president by majority of 1227 over the incumbent, E. McCullough, of Michigan.

The convention was in a tumult before and after the report. The "insurgents," supporting William Green, attempted to delay the report and an inquiry could be made into protests against counting the votes of certain local unions of Central Pennsylvania. After noisy demonstrations on both sides, and cries of "put him out," directed against the speakers, it was determined to hear the report first and the protest afterward.

The president denounced a man named Hays, of Alabama, who was agent of the operators and there were cries of "throw him out," but Mr. Lewis said: "He has vanquished R. Fairlee, of Alabama, described the work done for the operators by the union. A conference committee was appointed to join a committee from the Western Federation of Miners in framing a coalition contract that will bring about an amalgamation of a set of international officers and one treasurer, of an offensive and defensive agreement that will permit the independent existence of the metal and coal miners' organizations."

THAW FAMILY ASSAILED
PERSISTENT EFFORTS TO FREE
MURDERER DENOUNCED.
Special Committee of Bar Recommends Amending Habeas Corpus Law.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 21.—In a report that scathingly rebuked efforts to liberate Harry K. Thaw from the Matteawan asylum, the special committee on the commitment and discharge of the criminal insane today recommended to the 23d annual meeting of the New York State Bar Association the amendment of the habeas corpus law. It is suggested that the law be so amended that a person, confined in a private asylum, may sue for a writ of habeas corpus at any time and without supporting affidavits, but that a person confined in any state hospital for the insane may make application for a writ of habeas corpus only on a written, verified petition, accompanied by the act, made under oath by two qualified medical examiners in lunacy. The report continues in part:

"A youthful debauchee of great wealth, trained to believe that his money gave him a right of freedom from all restraints, whether imposed by laws or the rules of decency, inheriting an abnormality of mind which naturally developed into homicidal acts, leading a dissipated and ignoble life without the responsibility which weighs upon his owners, committed a cold and cowardly murder in a public resort.

"To the shame of the medical profession be it spoken, the expert who at one time swore him out of jail on an opinion of insanity at another time attempts to swear him out of an asylum by an opinion of sanity.

"So forgetful are the murderer's family of their duty to society, their obligation to uphold the law, that they aid and abet the plot and instead of leaving him to his fate as it is their duty as citizens to do, they claim, forsooth, that he is an object of persecution.

"It is a question of time and money when this particular murderer will be set free to direct his homicidal inclination against some other citizen who is already fallen, or may hereafter come under his displeasure. And everything done according to the form of law."

WAGE TEST ABOUT DUE
RAILWAY MEN PICK OUT ROAD
FOR DEMAND FIGHT.

Real Dispute Comes on Question of Pay When Men Report for Duty.
Conference Monday.

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 21.—President W. G. Lee of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and Grand Chief A. B. Garretson of the Order of Railway Conductors will meet in the East Monday to formally enter upon negotiations that will determine the outcome of the present dispute between the railways and their employees.

President Lee announced tonight before leaving for Chicago that he already has picked out one railroad on which a test of the trainmen's demands will be made.

Owing to the fact that replies received are virtually uniform the two brotherhood leaders believe that a settlement on one road will lead to a similar adjustment on all the others.

The real dispute, it is conceded, will be on the question of wages. The train crews for work done before starting on the day's run. The men want pay from the time they report for duty.

The statement of Chairman J. C. Stewart of the General Managers' Association that wages undoubtedly will be raised was received with satisfaction at the brotherhood headquarters here.

"The railroads are meeting us in the same spirit of fairness as we are meeting them," said President Lee. "I can not say when things will open, but it will be soon—probably as soon as Grand Chief Garretson and I arrive in New York."

Mr. Lee will be in Chicago Saturday and Sunday in connection with the matter of the yardmen's wage demands there.
