Good-Natured Discussion Witnessed at Private Dinner.

SENATOR PERSONA GRATA

For First Time in Seven Years, South Carolinan Enters White House and Once More Enjoys Friendship of President of U. S.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.-President Taft and Senator Tiliman clashed last night in good-natured discussion of the merits of the personnel of the Army in Cuba and in the Philippines at the annual banquet of the International Order of the Caribou.

The dinner was a private affair and the Army men and their guests were loath to disclose just what was said, but it was learned the South Carolina Senator spoke in a characteristic vein and made some pointed criticisms of the Army.

Army.

He realized, as he told the President afterwards, that he was touching Mr. Taft on a sore spot and the President seemed to understand that he was just doing it for the purpose of "stirring him up," for he said so in his reply, and while vigorously defending the Army he passed off the whole matter as a joke.

Tillman Extends Congratulations.

When the President concluded his when the President concluded his speech, which those present declared was a 'rattling good one,' Mr. Tillman was the first to extend his hand in congratulation and the pair chatted amiably for several minutes.

Since Mr. Tart has occupied the White House, Mr. Tillman has been persona grata there, although he had persona grata there, although he had not entered its portais previously for hearly seven years. Tonight's incident was therefore regarded as merely goodnatured hanter between two friends and as neither participant showed any feeling it was treated lightly by the Caribouans and their guests.

Speaker Cannon and Representative Hull of Iowa, chairman of the House committee on military affairs, also were present and made brief speeches. President Taft in his address said:

Tillman Gets Eulogy.

'My friend, the distinguished Senator from South Carolina, I have known well, have been glad to know him, have been honored by his friendship, and I want to assure you that he is a good deal better a fellow than you sometimes think from what he says. He is not always one who sits and talks, thinking about the race question and miscegenation and that sort of thing. He does have other thoughts, but when he gets on his feet and starts on that slippery subject if requires a good deal of force or a good deal of poise deal of force or a good deal of poise to keep him from going further than he really wanted to go himself.

"He says we are going to annex Cuba. Well, I don't think so. He thinks that because Cuba has a rate question we have got to mix their race question and our race question have a sort of result with sulphur rising from it that is going to consume the world. I don't believe that. I don't believe the Senator does, except as the world. the Senator does, except as the words roll from his lips and as they have rolled from his lips now since '99 on the Senate floor.

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 23.—A large steamer, probably the Aymeric, due from Yokohama, was reported tonight close off "Carmanah point in the fog. The big blue funnel liner Antilochus, which arrived today from the Orient, had an unpleasant experience off the Vancouver Island coast last night. A strong northerly current brought the schooner to the coast. Captain Kea began making soundings at 11 P. M., and ran slow in the thick mist. At 6:30 A. M. the Antilochus was within four miles of Cape Beale before the light was noticed. Soon afterward the Pachena Light was seen, when the steamer was scarcely more than four miles off shore. She was held off a point and continued into the straits, the murky weather being such that the light at Carmanah was not seen. The Antilochus brought 62 Chinese pas-sengers and 8000 tons of general cargo, including 4000 bales of silk.

Liquor Case Against Ed Johnson Fails to Hold.

PLAN RETRIAL AT ONCE

Though Convicted and Fined in Municipal Court, Jury in Circuit Court, After Deliberating Seven Hours, 'Can't Convict.

Failing to agree on a verdict after deon, charged with selling liquor without license, was discharged by Judge Morrov late Saturday night. Johnson, formerly proprietor of the Dragon Restaurant, had been convicted of the offense in the Mu-nicipal Court, where he was fined $100. From this sentence he appealed his case o the Circuit Court. Deputy District At-orney Sullivan, who conducted the prosetorney Sullivan, who conducted the prosecution, said last night that the case would be retried immediately. This is the second of four cases of the same kind against Johnson for alleged violation of the liquor law, all of which have been appealed from the Municipal Court to be heard on appeal. Two of these cases are still pending in the Circuit Court, in one of which Johnson was not only fined, but was also sentenced to serve 50 days on the rockpile.

The first case in the Circuit Court resulted in favor of Johnson, the jury reversing the decision of the trial court and exonerating him of the charge. The second case was concluded shortly before second case was concluded shortly before noon yesterday, after Seneca Fouts, one of Johnson's attorneys, had declared to the jury that the cases against Johnso had resulted from the latter ceasing ! pay tribute to the police for protection

Mr. Sullivan made a strenuous objection to Fours' accusation, but as the same thing had been asserted previously in evidence, the court ruled that the attorney had a right to review it.

While on the witness stand yesterday Sergeant Kienlen was asked if it were true that he had told Captain Slover that he would "get" Johnson yet, and he re-plied that it was true, for he was determined to bring the man to justice for having violated the law, and not from any personal matter of revenge,

BAD ROADS FILL CITIES Knox Draws Lesson From Experience or French Farmers. WASHINGTON. Jan. 28. Secretar Knox believes that the congestion of pop ulation in great cities is caused in large part by the lack of good roads in this country. He told the House committee on foreign affairs today that the reason France was the best agricultural country in the world was because she had had good roads so long.

"The agricultural population of France does not have to spend its money in repairing vehicles and harness every Winter, I think good roads have improved the advantages of rural life. I think they have caused the population to remain on the soil more than in any other country. You do not find that tendency to urban population in France and England that you do in this country," said Mr. Knox.

The subject came up in connection with the consideration of an appropriation for the participation of the United States in the "permanent Association of Road Congresses," an international effort. tional affair.

The Secretary also stated that automobiles were working havoc with roads. He got the appropriation.

Robert A. Niccolls, an Oregon plonee of 1862 to 1868, is the guest of his son, who has been a resident of Portland for who has been a resident of Portland for the last six years. Mr. Niccolls was born in Westmoreland County, Pennsyl-vania, August 25, 1834, and removed to Iowa with his parents in 1842, settling near Burlington. A few years later he removed to Wapello County, whence, in 1862, with nine other persons, he started for Oregon May 26. The company had both horses and exteams, and arrived at The Dalles September 25, remaining there until the following Spring.

Mr. Niccolls recalls French Brothers,
Handley & Sinnott, W. H. Newell, Willtam Laughlin and others who were business at The Dalles at that time. the Spring of 1883 he went to Umatilia, and, being a carpenter, built a few of the first business houses there, including the first bakery.

The next Spring he acquired 25 acres of land near Summerville in Grand Ronde Valley, and soon after engaged in freighting to Umatilla. In connection with that business he recalls an experience which came near costing him heav-ily. Having been intrusted by a man named Rinehart, at Summerville, with a large sum of money to pay to a man in Umatilia, upon paying it over he re-quested a receipt. The man replied, "I will just put it down on the books—that will be all right. See, here is the entry crediting the amount." "No, that will not do," said Mr. Niccolis; "I must have a receipt. I want something to show that I have paid the money to you." Mr Niccolls had to repeat the demand sev eral times before a receipt was written on a dirty scrap of brown paper. The actions of the man aroused his suspicions, and he was careful not to mislay the recelpt. Upon his return to La Grande he found the Umatilia man had fulled and his books did not show that the money in question had been received. His credi-tors were endcavoring to show that Rine-hart had not paid the money and were preparing to sue him for it.

Mr. Niccolls left Grand Ronde Valley in 1868 for lowa, and two years later
