BLACK HAND SECRETS OUT

Government Exposes Bylaws in Toledo, O., Prosecution.

TOLEDO, O., Jan. 25.—Rules and regulations governing the alleged Black Hand organization, threatening letters to intended victims and selections from their voluminous correspondence to each other containing obscure references to their supposedly sinister relations, were presented at the trial here of 14 alleged Black Hand conspirators today. With this the Government rested its case.

Under the caption "Society of the Banana and Faithful Friends," the constitution provides penalties of death, branding two to five cuts with a knife, branding on the body, designation of "traitor" or "swindler," or deprivation of a share in the profits for three months, according to the gravity of an offense against the obligations placed upon the member. Death is prescribed for revelations of secrets.

Among the offenses mentioned were cowardice, failure to use the knife as ordered, dealing sparingly, attempting to harm a fellow-member or his family, neglect of "inspectors" to keep order, and absenting oneself without notifying the "local."

McMinnville Calls Election.

McMINNVILLE, Or., Jan. 25.—Special.—The City Council, acting upon the petition of 50 per cent of the voters of the city at the last general election, has made an order calling a special election on Monday, April 4, for the purpose of allowing the people to vote on an amendment to the charter, permitting the extension of the boundaries of the city. There are some thickly populated suburbs lying just outside of the present boundaries, which it is desired to annex.

Pioneer Montesano Woman Dead.

MONTESANO, Wash., Jan. 25.—(Special).—Mrs. Julia Bower, 96 years old, who died at her home in this city Saturday, was a pioneer of Montesano, coming here with her husband 20 years ago. She had been partially paralyzed for about three years. She was born in Germany. Mrs. Bower is survived by her husband, two daughters and two sons. City Engineer Bower is a son of the pioneer woman.

Sale of Edition de Luxe Set of Books

—Yesterday without an advertisement or any formal announcement of a sale, we had one of the largest sale days in edition de luxe sets.

—During December we held two sales and can state without fear of contradiction that they were the most successful ever held by any store in Portland.

—We told of the greatest values, of the unusual price reductions. Laid particular stress on the quality of paper and printing. Asked close inspection of the leather bindings. Invited criticism of the illustrations. We were positive that all would pass muster.

—Tomorrow we offer 100 edition de luxe sets and call your attention to the editions, to the binding, to the printing, the very best grade of paper, the illustrations, the book work. We also call your attention to the numbered editions—numbered for the reason that only a limited number of sets were published. We also call your attention to the name of George Saintsbury, the best known of all translators of foreign authors, to Gebbie & Company, to the John Grant editions, to Boswell's Johnson, edited by Augustine Birrell.

—To determine and satisfy yourself on the wonderful values that we offer in these sets, we ask you to make comparisons throughout the city. The immense values offered by our book store will be more appreciated than ever. Our advice—make comparisons—loses none of its wisdom by repetition.
