HUMPHREY SEEKS CHANCE AT SENATE

Seattle's Representative Aspires to Higher Honors in' Washington.

HOPES BASED ON "DITCH"

If Sufficient Appropriation Can Be Obtained to Assure Construction of Lake Washington Canal, He Hopes to Win Toga.

SEATTLE, Wash. Feb. 1.—(Special.)— Representative Humphrey, of Seattle, is geiting ready, according to report, to declare himself a candidate for the United States Senate to succeed Samuel H. Pilez. His entry will make the fourth King County man to apply for the nomination at the primaries next September. Humphrey's ambition will do something class. It will again bring into politics "the Seattle ditch," which has made and unmade a Governor, and for a score of years has been a troublesome factor in Washington politics. When Humphrey declares his candidacy, as it is confidently expected he soon will do, he will have two strings to his bow. One will have two strings to his bow. One will be the "ditch." a ship canal connecting Take Washington with Fuget Sound; the other will be his advocacy of a merchant marine and his standing generally as an Administration Republican. The "ditch" he hopes to make the vehicle for the votes of King County, and merchant marine Taftism for votes throughout the

Big Sum Is Asked For.

Advocates of the early construction of Advocates of the early construction of the canal are now felicitating themselves as they have not been able to do for years. John H. McGraw and City Engineer Reginald H. Thomson have just returned from Washington, D. C., where they appeared in the interest of that improvement, and almost coincident with their return comes a report that Humphrey will be able to secure an appropriation of $100,000 from the rivers and harbors committee, thereby committing the rey will be able to secure an appropriation of $100,000 from the rivers and harbers committee, thereby committing the Government to the project. The committee is to consider the matter during the present week, and if Humpbrey is as successful as he hopes to be he will pave the way for an ultimate expenditure

by the Government of $2,500,000 for a lock,
with the understanding that King County
will do the rest of the work.

If Humpbrey successis in this undertaking—and his friends predict that he will—he will have gained higher prestige
in this respect than have all the rest of the citizens of Seattle put together; and he will have laid a broad foundation for a Senatorial campaign so far as this county is concerned. Heretofore the best that Seattle could obtain at Washington has been an appropriation now and then of a few thousand dollars for the dredging of Ballard harbor, always with the express condition that the Government would not stand committed in any way to the canal project. would not stand committed in any way to the canal project.

Humphrey Has New Scheme.

This saving clause, which invariably has been written into the rivers and harbors bill at the instigation of Tacoma, notably when Addison G. Foster was Senator, has always been a bitter dose for Seattle. The thousands of dollars which citizens have spent in promoting this improvement would cheerfully have been doubled could Seattle have stricken that condition from the bill and combeen doubled could Seattle have stricken that condition from the bill and committed the Government to the project under the "continuing contract" system. This is the mission Humphrey has undertaken to perform. He intends to succeed, and on the wave of success to ride into the Senate.

It has been nearly six years since James A. Moore undertook to build the canal through private enterprise, aided by King County. For that purpose he secured an act of Congress giving him and his associates authority to use the Government right of way donated by King County years ago at a nominal ex-

King County years ago at a nominal expense but now worth millions of dollars. Under the Moore plan King County yoted a bond issue of $500,000.

State's Attempt Fails.

The Legislature passed an act authorlaing counties to create improvement districts for rivers and harbors within their boundaries, and further authorizing a commission to appraise lands. An immense district was formed comprising the entire frontage of Lake Union and Lake Washington and extending as far south as Kent; and Judge C. H. Hanford, of the United States District Court, appointed Il commissioners. When the relis were turned over to the County Commissioners as a board of equalization, Kenneth Mackintosh, Prosecuting Attorney and legal adviser of the board,
said the law was unconstitutional. Later the Superior Court took the same position; the case was appealed, and there the question rests. But a company which had been formed to take over the privileges extended to Moore and his associates had in the meantime expended about $5,000 to cover the appraisement
and had sold numerous blocks of stock to residents of Seattle. These stockhold-The Legislature passed an act autho and had sold numerous blocks of stock to residents of Seattle. These stockhold-ers, it may be observed in passing, now are somewhat nervous.

At the last session of the Legislature, Seattle citizens, notably McGraw and J. S. Brace, despairing of action, secured the passage of a bill creating a rivers and burbors improvement fund and setting aside $250,000, with the distinct provision that some realized from the sale vision that sums realized from the sale of shore lands on Lake Washington be used solely on that portion of the waterway known as the "portage," between Washington and Union; and likewise that money realized from Lake Union lands be used with the contract of the sale of used solely on the ship channel between Lake Union and Puget Sound.

Dry Cut Is Being Made.

Bales from Lake Washington lands have aggregated about $70,000; and a contract for excavation of the portage druinage ditch has been let to O. C. J. Erickson for $54,000. It is a dry cut, beginning near the south gate of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific grounds, and it cannot be used for any purpose until the ship channel from Lake Union to the Sound, with lock, is completed. The canal as a finished work contemplates the lowering of Lake Washington by it feet; and to turn the water hito the dry cut as soon as completed by Erickson would flood the entire Lake Union busin. With respect to the portage work is progressing on the dry cut, and there is a balance of $16,000 for use later oil.

Sales of Lake Union lands have aggregated about $120,000, which is not gregated about $120,000, which is not enough for the beginning of operations. On this end a dry cut cannot be made, as Union now puts into Salmon Bay mills and sawmills forced to higher ground. If built near Ross Station the trouble at Ballard will be avoided.

Betimates as to the cost of the canal, when completed, vary from $2,500,000 to $5,000,000; the latest figures supplied under the regime of General H. M. Chittenden place the aggregate for a modern waterway at $4,500,000.

In brief, the foregoing is the tangled skein which Congressman Humphrey essays to straighten out, with a prospective Senatorship as the prize. It is understood here that he can rely on the support of Senator Wesley L. Jones, who two years ago secured promotion from House to Senate. Jones' success has been a powerful stimulus to Humphrey, who a powerful stimulus to Humphrey, who has served four consecutive terms in the House, and naturally feels that he is in line for bigger work

Candidates Are Plentiful.

Humphrey's formal declaration of can-didacy will be awaited with more than ordinary interest. Up to the present mo-ment, it has been assumed that he would be content to stand for the lower House, ment, it has been assumed that he would be content to stand for the lower House, and no Republican in the First District has felt encouraged to make the race against him. Seattle will furnish at least two candidates for the Congressional nemination. One will be Scott Calhoun, corporation counsel, whom Humphrey, it is understood, would like to make his successor, and the other will be Kenneth Mackintosh, ex-Prosecuting Attorney, who has had his ear to the ground for some months. Very likely Everett will trot out a candidate, as also may Bellingham and Mount Vernon.

As to the canal issue in King County, Humphrey's success in securing an appropriation and indorsement would contribute vitally to his chances, and this is true not withstanding the fact that his three competitors in this county. Judge John E. Humphries, Judge Thomas Burke and John L. Wilson, have all been friends of the canal and have worked zealously for it. If Humphrey commits the Government to the project, he will have done a good service to the community, even though he fall of the Senter for he will have forestalled any will have done a good service to the com-munity, even though he fall of the Sen-ate; for he will have forestalled any lethal thrust at Seattle's favorite im-provement by R. L. McCormick, of Ta-coma, or any other outsider who might reach the Senate.

PROVE FIRE FIEND

Prompt Action of Sheriff Leads to Thorough Investigation.

FATHER'S PLACE IS FIRED

Fourteen-Year-Old Boy Is Arrested, but Peculiarities and Lack of Evidence Save Young Prisoner From Passing Time in Jail.

MOSCOW, Idaho, Feb. 1.—(Special.)—
The prompt action of Sheriff Robbins today, on the recurrence of the Incendiary fire last night at the home of J. B.
Stoecker near Viola, this county, will doubtless result in the final prosecution of Albert Stoecker, the 14-year-old son of J. B. Stoecker, whose machinery barn was fired.

It will be remembered that during the latter part of last September, Albert Stoecker was charged with having set fire to the Maccabee's hall, at Viola, and a week later the Viola schoolhous, was burned and the following Sunday night

Ex-Deputy Sheriff Grant Robbins and ex-Sheriff James J. Keane, volunteered in helping to discover the guilty party,
which resulted in the arrest of Albert Stoecker who confessed the crime and made an extended explanation of how he did it. He was held to the District Court but owing to his repudiation of his confession and evidence of his peculiarities fession and evidence of his peculiarities he was allowed to go because the evidence was not sufficiently corroborated.

Sheriff Makes Revelations. Sheriff Robbins was informed by tele-phone that some one had set fire to Mr. Stoecker's machine shed. The Sheriff investigated.

investigated.

"The end of a board had been sawed off, parts of a gunny sack saturated with oil tacked to it and a hole bored through to hold a candle," said the Sheriff.

"We followed some tracks in the snow from the building up through the orchard which led back to the Stocker house near by. I also found a bit which fit the whole in the board and a saw near-by.

"With this and much more circum-stancial evidence we have, County At-torney G. W. Suppigar informed me that he would again have a warrant issued for the arrest of young Stoecker, upon his return from Lewiston, where he went to attend court today."

Brother-in-Law Is Exonerated.

Weiry, a rural mail carrier out of Palouse to Viola promised to give him $25 if he would burn Viola.

While no one believed this story, Sheriff Robbins arranged with Thomas Hopkins, the Marshal at Palouse, to aid him in watching for Mr. Weiry's whereabouts, if another fire was reported. Accordingly, the Marshal was notified by phone and found that Mr. Weiry was and had been at home and is therefore exhad been at home and is therefore ex-
