

PICTURE RIGHTS DISTURB FIGHT

Nelson and Wolgast Officials Hurt the Scheduled Match.

GHOST MAY MOVE TODAY

Main Points Involved Far From Being Settled, and Bout Seems as Far Away as Ever—February 22 Scrap May Yet Fall.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—(Special.)—The Nelson-Wolgast supposed fight is existing in uncertainties and under difficulties.

Point Richmond was officially announced as the place for holding the match, but after an hour's discussion over a referee that point was postponed for further debate today, and the ghost of the moving-picture rights came bobbing up all the way through.

It was at the request of Tom Jones, who said he was not prepared to select a referee that the conference was put over until 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, and it is suspected that the astute manager of Ad Wolgast has something under his hat which he is not now prepared to announce.

As to the pictures, even that question was allowed to slide by with a dispute hanging fire that might easily cause trouble. Hester, as promoter of the club, insisted that he should have the moving-picture privilege. Nelson at first wanted a share, but later agreed to turn over his rights to the club, Jones, however, stood firm, declaring that he must have an interest or there would be no pictures taken.

Altogether, the possibilities of the match for February 22 are none too bright and unless the men at the back of the proposition come to an immediate agreement of the disputed issues, they will be hurrying the gate.

Just one line of action was taken and that was the announcement from Hester that Point Richmond will have the fight. Pat Deane, representing Point Richmond, has promised that the club will furnish the permit, erect the arena and arrange for transportation service.

SALT LAKE LOSES BIG FIGHT

County Attorney Says He'll Stop Match, if Governor Doesn't.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Feb. 8.—(Special.)—Salt Lake's chances for getting the Jeffries-Johnson fight seems tonight to have gone up the spout completely. County Attorney Job P. Lyon has taken a hand in the situation. Mr. Lyon says he will stop the fight and that he already has been requested to issue some complaints, and these complaints will be forthcoming if they are necessary.

Mr. Lyon says a special session under the authority of section 4208, which is Utah's new famous prizefight law and prohibits prizefighting or other contentions. Mr. Lyon says if the Governor does not stop the fight, he certainly will do it.

Tex Rickard and Jack Gleason held a conference tonight, which lasted until 10 o'clock. When it was over they both said that nothing had been accomplished toward a definite solution of the matter, but that another check would be held tomorrow. Whether anything will be done then, is a matter of conjecture, but Rickard admits that the fight will be for Salt Lake. Meanwhile, a last effort will be made to "see some people."

Mr. Lyon says that if the state authorities do not object, the fight might be taken out of this county, but this is not likely.

JOHN L. SULLIVAN WEDS

BOYHOOD SWEETHEART SECOND WIFE OF EX-FIGHTER.

Ceremony Very Quietly Performed in Boston and Couple Will Take Honey-moon in Europe.

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 8.—John L. Sullivan, once the world's champion pugilist, was married last night to Miss Kate Harkins of 253 Roxbury street, Boston. The ceremony was performed in the parlor of the Parker House by Fred Ingalls, clerk of the Municipal Court. Only a few friends of the bride and of the "big fellow" were present. Today the couple will sail for Europe on the steamer Ivernia to spend the rest of the winter traveling.

They boarded the steamer last evening, having a stateroom next to that occupied by Jake Kilrain and his wife. For months it has been rumored that Sullivan was to take another wife after he gained a divorce from the first Mrs. Sullivan in Chicago last year. The rumor, however, did not give the name of the woman and Sullivan strenuously denied that he contemplated such a step, for he was anxious to have the affair take place as quietly as possible. Miss Harkins is 45 years old. She is the daughter of Dennis Harkins and was Sullivan's boyhood sweetheart.

NEW PLAY IS THE RAGE

All Paris Talks of Rostand's "Chanticleer."

PARIS, Feb. 8.—(Special.)—Rostand's "Chanticleer" had its official premiere tonight. It might well have been called "American night" at the Porte St. Martin Theater, for all the prominent Parisians in town were there. They could not buy seats for the dress rehearsal last night; no money could be placed, were all occupied by them; Parisians of the highest class and with powerful influence.

Paris has been talking of nothing else today but the drama of "Chanticleer." The newspapers printed the verdicts of the "first nighters" and they showed that Parisians are likely to be divided into two camps; those who think the post has overshoot his mark, and those who regard the drama as "Rostand's greatest work." From the literary and the lyric points of view there is no question about "Chanticleer's" merit, but few persons, even among the author's most ardent admirers, consider it strong dramatically or likely to prove a popular success.

In some theatrical and literary quarters today the prediction was made that Charles Frohman will never produce "Chanticleer," although he has already paid $20,000 for the right to do so. Considered dramatically the play is inferior to "Cyrano de Bergerac," which it greatly resembles. In fact the French really a feathered Cyrano, strutting his way brilliantly through the world. Some of the speeches are noticeably in thought and phrasing to speeches in Cyrano. The passage in which Chanticleer introduces himself is an echo of Cyrano's famous speech about the nose.

The chief fault found with the play is that the speeches are too long. Some complain that it is really too long and verges on "self-conscious smartness" in many passages.

A man prominent in the French world of letters expressed today the opinion that the play is remarkable, but too long drawn out; that its wit is too strikingly Parisian. He doubts even if the French provinces would appreciate its sparkling passages.

All concede, however, that Rostand's comedy is strikingly original and by no means ludicrous or absurd. The best opinion is that the play is great in ideas, but is not a masterpiece.

FROHMAN TO GIVE PLAY HERE

Announces Plans for Production of "Chanticleer" in America.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Charles Frohman, who owns the American and English rights of Edmond Rostand's play "Chanticleer," announced today that he would produce the play in Paris play in New York, Chicago and Boston early next season.

Mr. Frohman said tonight: "I propose producing 'Chanticleer' in New York in one of my largest theaters. It will be seen here for the first time next Autumn after which I shall make another production, designed exclusively for the East in the Boston Theater. Simultaneously I will make a third production at the new Blackstone theater, Chicago, to be sent through the large Western cities."

GREETINGS ARE CABLED

"BOB" BURDETTE JOINS IN WELCOME TO DR. BROUGHER.

Message Is Read Before New Pastor as He Is Introduced to Congregation in Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 8.—(Special.)—The following welcome to Dr. Brougher was cabled from Honolulu by Dr. Robert J. Burdette, pastor emeritus, and read before Dr. Brougher, who was introduced to his new congregation yesterday:

"A welcome with our lips that hail him with affectionate greeting of good cheer and brave encouragement. 'A welcome with our hands that will strongly hold up both of his own in the war against all unrighteousness.' 'A welcome with our hearts that will enfold him in the loving brotherhood of Christian unity. 'A welcome with our souls that will knit themselves to his in the yoke-fellowship of the gospel. 'With voice and hand, and heart, and soul, and from the members of the church to the pastor; from the people to the preacher. 'Come into the presence of the temple. 'Come in, thou blessed of the Lord. 'Into our church, into our homes, into our hearts. Welcome.'"

JOE ACTON IS DYING

EX-CHAMPION WRESTLER IS VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA.

Veteran Athlete Stricken After Referring to "Farmer" Burns. Family Abandons All Hope.

Joe Acton, veteran wrestler and ex-champion of the world, is on his deathbed. He contracted pneumonia the night he referred the wrestling exhibition between Frank Gotch, Dr. Rolier and other notables of the James J. Jeffries All-star troupe, which appeared here January 28.

Acton was suffering from a severe cold the night of the exhibition but contented to refer the bouts at the request of his old-time friend, "Farmer" Burns. The next day he was about town for a short time but complained of pains in his chest. Sunday, January 31, he took to his bed at the home of his daughter at 383 Fourth street, and sank gradually until now his condition is alarming.

Last night old-time friends of the veteran athlete called at his home, but were unable to see him because of his serious condition. At his home it was said there is hardly a chance for the athlete to survive, and members of the family at his bedside have given up all hope.

Acton came to Portland in 1898 from San Francisco, where he had been employed for several years as wrestling instructor of the Olympic Club. In Portland he held a similar position for the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club. He remained with the M. A. C. until the latter part of 1907, when he was succeeded by Eddie O'Connell, the present instructor.

The veteran wrestler, who held the world's championship for more than three years, is looked upon as the phenomenon of the wrestling world. Joe Acton, of small build, did not seem to be fitted for competitions with men like Gotch, Rolier and other big men of the present day, yet Acton, who was universally known as the "Little Giant," tossed men as big as Gotch and others with apparent ease.

Mr. Acton was born at Wigan, England, of Irish-Scottish parentage, 56 years ago, and was an athletic champion from the mines when a lad. He came as a wrestler soon spread throughout England, and it was not long before he could afford to give up his work as a miner and start out as a wrestler.

FAIRBANKS LAUDS CATHOLIC SCHOOL

Ex-Vice-President Appreciates Visit to College at Rome.

KING AND QUEEN DO HONOR

At Court Ball Unusual Attention Is Paid to ex-Vice-President and Wife by Italy's Royalty—Emmanuel Appears Delighted.

ROME, Italy, Feb. 8.—(Special.)—Ex-Vice-President Fairbanks said today that the dinner given him last night at the American College by Mr. Kennedy, the rector, was the most appreciated and the most pleasant episode of his trip around the world.

The institution, he declared, was not only representative of the different states of America, but was the only place of its kind abroad where 150 of the best specimens of patriotic Americans were assembled.

When the students were presented to Mr. Fairbanks he was impressed by the considerable number of Americans among them. Mr. Fairbanks shook hands with all of them and had a few minutes' conversation with several.

When the Polish students, Messrs. Bona and Gorski, were presented, he recalled a visit to Chicago for the inauguration of a Polish parochial school, which he said was a fine institution.

It was an occasion, he added, that he would always remember with pleasure. He then congratulated the students and said he felt convinced that they were a credit to their country.

The ex-Vice-President was enthusiastic over the flourishing condition of the college and warmly congratulated Mr. Kennedy, who, he said, deserved much praise for his efforts toward the development of the school.

UNUSUAL HONOR PAID MRS. FAIRBANKS

by Queen at Court Ball.

ROME, Feb. 8.—The unhappy incident which marred the visit here of ex-Vice-President Charles W. Fairbanks has been the subject of animated discussion, particularly among members of the American colony.

At the court ball tonight, as a special honor, ex-Vice-President Fairbanks and Mrs. Fairbanks were admitted to the section reserved for the members of the diplomatic corps. Mrs. Fairbanks was invited to occupy a seat next to the Queen, who engaged her in conversation for about an hour, a distinction which is seldom conferred, except upon the wives of Ambassadors.

Meanwhile the King chatted with Mr. Fairbanks.

PINCHOT TURNS CRITIC

REVIEWS EIGHT BALLINGER BILLS INTRODUCED.

Withdrawal of Public Lands as Amended Deserves "Unqualified Support," He Says.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—"Conservation—the necessity for the passage at the present session of good laws for the protection of the natural resources of the United States," is the keynote of a report just made to the National Conservation Association by Gifford Pinchot, who was recently chosen president of the association.

Mr. Pinchot takes up in what he calls "a spirit of constructive criticism" the bills relating to the conservation of natural resources, introduced into Congress, January 18, on behalf of the Secretary of the Interior, one of which has been reported from the public lands committee, the other eight being still in the hands of the committee.

Mr. Pinchot calls upon the members of the association to put forth strong efforts to have enacted into law the bill on the withdrawal of public lands, which has been reported in amended form from the committee by Senator Nelson, following conferences between the committee and officers of the Conservation Association. This bill, Mr. Pinchot thinks, should have the "unqualified support of the members of the association."

On the other eight bills he believes that some merely require amendment, while others must be recast. The coal bill and the phosphate, oil, asphaltum and natural gas bill, he reports, are fundamentally sound in principle, but need some amendment.

"The coal bill," he asserts, "contains no sufficient anti-monopolistic clause. The clause that purports to regulate rates to be charged the public is so framed, that it has been evaded with ease."

Another clause of the bill, he adds, "may reduce the standard of mining to the level of the prevailing commercial practice."

CALHOUN CASE MUST GO ON

Judge Refuses to Dismiss San Francisco Bribery Proceedings.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—Judge Lawlor of the Superior Court today denied a motion to dismiss the case of Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railroad, accused of offering a bribe to a supervisor to vote for a money franchise, and ordered that the trial, which was interrupted by the recent election, be resumed next Monday.

The District Attorney, who moved for dismissal, declared that on account of missing witnesses and the insufficiency of evidence already introduced, he was convinced that a conviction could not be secured.

Motions to dismiss indictments against Tracy Ford and William M. Abbott, counsel for the United Railroad, and Thorne Mully, assistant to President Calhoun, charged with bribery, were also denied by Judge Lawlor.

Over-Eating Worse Than Starvation

Seven Deaths Arise From This Cause to One of Lack of Food.

A Trial Package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Sent Free.

An English medical observer claims that for one death to starvation there are seven from over-eating. His investigation is appalling and leads one to believe that among the Anglo-Saxon race over-eating is a national crime.

This investigation proves over-eating to be the cause in ten cases out of twelve of dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach trouble.

These diseases bring on decay and decline of the other organs and death ensues because of inability of the system to furnish proper nourishment to the dying and afflicted parts.

When one over-eats, one exhausts the gastric fluids, throws undigested food into the intestines where it creates poison and germ life and is finally absorbed in a putrid state or thrown from the system in a decaying form.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will overcome the ill effects of gluttony and irregular eating. They will digest an amount of food that will not leave the stomach until everything has been digested.

A single one-grain ingredient of these tablets will digest 20 grains of food and in this proportion is seen how even gluttony can be overcome or at least its most harmful effects removed.

Make up your mind to try Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets for one week. Take a tablet after each meal and upon retiring at night. Every drugist carries them in stock. If you do not have a drugist friend ask his opinion. Send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package free by mail. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

HAZED 5 MONTHS AGO; DIES

Clarence D. Gore, of Medford, Is Quick Consumption Victim.

MEDFORD, Or., Feb. 8.—(Special.)—Clarence W. Gore, a student of the University of Oregon, died at his home in this city Sunday afternoon. The young man, it is said, was never recovered from a cold contracted while being put through a hazing ordeal before Thanksgiving. He contracted quick consumption.

Student Gore was forced to drop his studies at Christmas and was unable to return to the University. Young Gore last Summer brought mandamus proceedings against the local school board to compel it to issue to him a diploma from the Medford High School which had been refused because he was not at the commencement exercises. This action is still pending in the Circuit Court. Without his diploma the young man entered the University of Oregon the first of last Summer.

At the time of his death the university some weeks Mr. Gore with four other freshmen, was taken out one night and for three hours was compelled to keep up huge bonfires and sing and perform torments. The work was enough to keep a score of men busy, but in their efforts to please their superior classmen the young men overexerted themselves. Later, Gore contracted a severe cold and he came home at Thanksgiving. He then sought to college against the wishes of his father and remained until Christmas. When he came home at Christmas he was weak and asserted that he had a severe attack of influenza without stopping to rest.

Mr. Gore was a deep student and took an active part in local church work. His habits were exemplary and his report cards from the university show his standing there was similar to that in this city.

He was a native of the Rogue River Valley, being born in Ashland, 22 years ago, on February 19. His mother died three years ago. Since that time he resided with his father and two sisters in this city. Presbyterian services will be held at the Presbyterian Church, Tuesday, Rev. W. P. Shindler officiating. The remains will lie in state in the church from 10 o'clock A. M. until 12 o'clock noon.

HAZING MILD, SAID STUDENT

President Campbell Says Gore Spoke Lightly of His Ordeal.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Feb. 8.—(Special.)—Four students were dropped outright and nearly 20 other members of the sophomore class are now serving suspension and probation for participating in the mild hazing of several freshmen of whom Gore was one, last September.

The action of the college faculty at that time was considered rather severe as the hazing was of an extremely light variety consisting almost entirely of putting the freshmen through stunts and making them dance and sing, but it has resulted in absolutely stamping out all hazing. Young Gore attended the university until the recent Christmas holidays. Speaking of his death, President P. L. Campbell said tonight:

"I do not know that Mr. Gore was seriously ill, although I had received a letter from his father after the Christmas holidays saying he would not be able to return to college. A telegram received from his father yesterday announcing his death came as a very great shock to me. He had been in college up to the Christmas holidays, going along regularly with his work, and did not know of any illness. Mr. Gore was one of the freshmen who was hazed by the sophomores at that time. In the inquiry which followed the hazing he spoke of the matter and interceded for leniency for the sophomores."

"I understood from him that his part in the hazing was very light indeed. I when he frequently up to the time of his death reported in his class work. He returned to college after the Thanksgiving recess and remained until I had returned to my duties. I then heard any intimation of any ill consequences following the hazing."

PLAN IS ORDERED

School Directors Vote Down Competition in Designs.

LOCAL FIRM GIVEN WORK

Whitehouse & Foulhoux Will Plan West Side High School—Administration Rooms May Be Added to New Public Building.

After rejecting the motion of Director Beach, proposing that competitive bids be invited, the Board of Education, at a special meeting last night, engaged Whitehouse & Foulhoux, of this city, as architects to prepare plans and specifications for the new high school on the West Side. Bonds to the amount of $350,000 were voted for this additional building at a special election of the taxpayers of the district last Wednesday.

Director Beach favored competitive bidding among the architects as to plans, for the reason that it would insure a variety of suggestions as to the character of the building to be erected. The other members of the Board, however, had not forgotten the unpleasant entanglements, involving litigation, which resulted from that course a year ago. It was the unanimous sentiment of the four governing members of the Board that better and more expeditious results could be accomplished through the direct employment by the directors of an architect.

Whether or not the new high school building on this side of the river will be erected on the Jones block, bounded by Seventeenth and Eighteenth, Couch and Davis streets, which was purchased by the board several months ago for $20,000, was not finally decided.

In the sense of the meeting, however, that unless an equally desirable site can be obtained at a reasonable price, the high school should be constructed on the property purchased for that purpose. The majority of the board favors the Jones block because of its central location, the improbability that it will be encroached upon by the wholesale district for years to come and because of its accessibility to the Atkinson trade school.

No definite conclusion was reached as to the proposed construction of an administration building. Before considering the subject further, it was decided best to inquire into the cost of constructing an additional floor to the proposed high school building for that purpose. The Board will also ascertain the expense of securing permanent accommodations for administration headquarters in the City Hall and in the new Courthouse, which is in course of construction.

CHRISTIANS PLAN PAPER

Company Is Incorporated to Publish Semi-Monthly Magazine.

EUGENE, Or., Feb. 8.—(Special.)—Articles of incorporation were filed with the County Clerk today by the Church & School Publishing Company, with a capital stock of $5000. The incorporators are Dean Sanderson, of the Bible University of this city, G. S. O. Humbert, E. E. Billington and Harry Benton, of the faculty of the Bible University, and Rev. McCallum, pastor of the Eugene Christian Church.

The purpose of the corporation is to publish a religious paper and transact such other business in the publishing line as will promote the interests of the Christian Church in the Pacific Northwest. It is probable that the corporation will shortly install a printing plant for the publication of a paper, books and pamphlets. The Bible University people have published a monthly paper during the last year called the Church and School. Hereafter, this publication will be issued twice a month.

Depot Park to Be Beautified.

EUGENE, Or., Feb. 8.—(Special.)—Depot Park, a project of the Ladies' Club here, is to be beautified. Several thousand lilyacins and crocuses, ordered for the park, have arrived. The date palms and other semi-tropical plants planted there have withstood the Winter. The Publicity Department of the Commercial Club is back of a movement to introduce a general planting of roses. Eugene will also have a rose and shrub planting day in March. Soon the floral bed will display the name of Eugene.

Stop Women And Consider

This fact—that in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers twenty-five years.

The present Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, was for years under her direction, and has ever since her decease continued to advise women.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty causes them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. Such questioning and examination is unnecessary. Without cost you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

MRS. PINKHAM'S STANDING INVITATION:

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established this confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Never has she published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which Mrs. Pinkham has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge needed in your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Mrs. Pinkham, care of Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.
