SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 19.—William J. Calbour. United States Minister to china, appeared before the Supreme Court of Illinois today, in an appeal to have that body overrule a decision hearing upon the ten-hour law for women. Judge Tuthill last July held the law limiting the working day to ten hours unconstitutional on the ground that it infringes on women's right to contract for the hirs of her labor.

Contract Not Freedom.

In the doctrine of the freedom an the doctrine of the freedom of contract there is more of fiction than morality. When men and women are dependent upon their dally wages; when they are face to face with poverty all the time: when the loss of a day's work and a day's wage means not enough noney to pay rent, or not enough to money to pay rent, or not enough to buy food, it is not fair, it is not com-mon sense to say that they enjoy any freedom of contract for the sale of their

who also asked the Supreme Court to set aside the ruling of Judge Tuthill, declared that the Legislature should have power to protect human beings, as it has the power to protect animals.

"The Legislature, we are told, has no right to protect women from the necessity of being forced to work 24 hours a day," he said. "Yet it can protect quall and grouse and prairie chickens. It is an absurd legal proposition."
Attorney Haynie, representing the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, argued for upholding the decision of Judge Tuthin.

Dr. Stewart said that although Dr. Hyde's blood was placed side by side in an incubator with the blood taken from a typhoid patient in a Kansas City hospital, it remained absolutely sterile of typhoid and contained no typhoid germs. After it was decided that the bodies of Colonel Swope and Christman Swope should be disinterred, Mr. Paxton and Mrs. Logan Swope recalled Dr. Hyde's insistence that he be permitted to act as physician for the permitted to act as physician for the family, although Dr. C. Dr. Hyde, in a statement made soon after the investigation began, said:

"Colonel Swope died of apoplexy. There is no doubt about it. It was as plain a case of apoplexy as I have ever seen. Colonel Swope was getting old and feeble. He had been ill for more than three months from old age, lack of appetite and sentility. Only a few weeks before his sentility. Only a few weeks before his death he had had a severe fall.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Feb. 10.—Liberal appropriations are provided for Oregon projects in the rivers and harbors bill which will be reported to the House tomorrow. While Oregon representatives were un-able today to learn of all the items which the bill carries for Oregon, they were assured by Chairman Alexander that they "had been taken care of." It was learned tentatively that Columbia River items in the bill are: Wenatchee to Bridgeport, Bridgeport to Kettle Falls, $50,000; Cell-lo to Snake River, $90,000; at The Dalles, $600,000; Cascade canal, $5000; Vancouver, $75,000; below Portland, in-

The bill carries $492,000 for Washington projects, of which $150,000 is for beginning work on the lock of Lake Washington Canail, by which authority is given the chief of engineers to make contract for construction of this canal at a total cost limit of $2,275,000.

Harbor Bill News Causes Rejoicing in Chamber of Commerce.

News of the insertion in the House rivers and harbors appropriation bill of items aggregating $2,645,000 for the Columbia and Willamette rivers was received here first by the Chamber of Commerce in the form of a telegram from Representative W. E. Humphrey, of Washington, a member of the committee.

"I trust this will meet with the approval of the people of Oregon," the message concluded.

It does, with emphasis. At least so say President MacMasters and Secretary Giltner, of the Chamber of Commerce, and hundreds of other business men and property-owners, with especial emphasis by the large wholesale and emphasis by the large wholesale and manufacturing men.

An impromptu jublice was held in the executive offices of the Chamber of Commerce, from which place the fight has been waged ceaselessly year after year. Hundreds and thousands of dolgiven days and thousands of tollars have been spent; busy men have given days and weeks, without remuneration, to the cause, and when the news was received it was thought time for becomingly dignified "high jinks."

For some time after the reception of the message, telephone lines out of the Chamber of Commerce were kept busy notifying the faithful. While the mere insertion of the items While the mere insertion of the items in the bill as it emerges from the House does not insure that it will be intact by the time it reaches the President for his signature, yet it is thought there is little likelihood of any change, in view of existing legislative conditions as they are understood by the men familiar with the situation. In fact, the news received yesterday is considered by the actively interested men here as proof of final success.

Of the total, $1,375,000 is appropriated for the improvement of the Willamette and Columbia Rivers below Portland, the remainder being devoted to the Upper Columbia. Of the former amount, $1,200,000 is devoted exclusively to the mouth of the Columbia. It is hoped with this sum to acquire a depth of 40 feet at the mouth of the river, making Portland a still greater seaport, placing it on a par with, if not in advance, all features considered, of any other Pacific Coast port.

Equal in importance is considered the appropriation for the Upper Columbia and the improvement of Portland harbor. The passage of the appropriation as now and the improvement of Portland harbor. The passage of the appropriation as now pending will insure a waterway outlet for the great Inland Empire trade, which will largely come through Portland on its way to the outside world, and vice versa. Important among the items of interest to that feature of the bill is the $600,000 for the completion of the Cellio Canai and $90,000 for improvement between Cellio and the Snake River.

Aside from the work on the Willamette and the Snake River.

Aside from the work on the Willamette between Portland and the Columbia. Oregon is not represented in the bill, save jointly with Washington in the improvement of the Columbia. The bill, however, mentions an appropriation of $492,-000 for the Puget Sound district.

No mention thus far has been made of the Upper Willamette or Coos Bay, Tillamook Bay and the Siuslaw River. Unless an item for each of these places is finally inserted there will be keen disappointment among the business men interested in each. During the past months much campalgning has been done by them, and in view of the Puget Sound appropriation it is regarded as unfair.

At the commencement of this session of At the commencement of this session of Congress it was thought there was little likelihood of an appropriation for rivers and harbors improvement. The news received yesterday was in a way surprising and most gratifying, although there are points not exactly satisfying to

"In view of the fact that Major Mc-Indoe's recommendation was for $3,00,000," said President MacMaster. "I think we should be gratified over the result. We get within $400,000 of that amount and according to Governmental procedure we are doing well.
