DEWEY HOUSE MANAGER AND CLERK ARRESTED.

Finn, Who Says He Was Led Astray by Drinking Companion. Complains of Loss,

The Dewey House, a cheap lodging hotel at 28½ Third street, is again under police investigation, incidental to clearing up a $700 robbery case in the place early Sunday morning. Jack Dunn, the manager, and E. N. Daniels, night clerk, together with two disorderly women, were arrested yesterday by Detectives Hellyer and Maloney.

Emil Isaacson, a Finn, who came here two weeks ago from Seattle, is the victim. Isaacson told the police that he was persuaded to go into the piace by a Finn giving the name R. Hill. After they reached Hill's room, the night clerk, it is alleged, sent a woman to the room. Isaacson had been drinking with Hill and fell asleep on the bed. He said that when he awoke his money was missing. The police were notified and Patrolmen Thatcher and Pressy arrested Hill. Of the total amount, $225 was found hidden in Hill's trouser leg. This he offered to return on a pledge of no prosecution.

The detectives are puzzled over what became of the remainder of the money.

Many complaints have been made Emil Isaacson, a Finn, who came here notified, however, to be present and testify before a Coroner's jury, which will convene some time today.

Other witnesses were summoned and a full investigation of the circumstances will be made. It was announced last night by the Professional Chauffeurs' Club that a committee from the membership will be appointed today by its president, Cecil B. Lloyd, for the purpose of making an impartial investigation, to determine responsibility for the accident. Resser is not a member of the club and in the event it is found by the investigating committee, aside from the findings of the Coroner, that Resser was responsible for the accident or that he could have avoided it by careful driving, his discharge may be asked of the taxicab company management.

"We started across the street," said "We started across the street," sald Simpson. "Carter was slightly in advance of me. We both saw the taxicab coming, but thought there was ample time to pass before it. I realized that it was coming pretty fast and drew back. I was just in time, but Carter tried to run in front of it and was struck. It knocked him, I should judge, 30 feet, which is an indication of the speed at which it was running. It must have been going 20 miles an hour."

The rate of speed mentioned by Simpson is denied by Resser. "It was storm-The rate of speed mentioned by Simpson is denied by Resser. "It was storming," the latter said, "and my weather shield glass was so wet I couldn't see through it. I kept looking out from the side around it and had just dodged two piles of construction material on the street on which there were red lights. I was noticing these and did not see the men."

Resser stopped his machine as soon as he realized someone had been hit. Carter was unconscious and was placed inside. C. E. Aremond and wife, of 404 Clay street, were inside the machine at the time and were being driven from the Nortonia Hotel to their home. They were forced to get out of the cab and walk home. Resser then remover Carter to the hospital.

Carter Married One Year.

Carter had been married only about one year. He was I years old and had been in Portland most of his life. For the past six years he had conducted the Atlantic Cafe caloon at No. 61 Third street. The place was sold Saturday night at 6 o'clock to Joe Thompson and Duke Evans.

"From what I can learn my husband was killed through the carelessness of the chauffeur," said Mrs. Carter, who is little more than a girl. "I intend to prosecute the case. I will employ counsel to look after my interests tomorrow."

Mrs. Walter Waddell, of Hood River, a well-to-do woman, is Carter's mother. She was notified by telephone of her son's tragic death and arrived here last night to attend the funeral, which will be held as soon as the Coroner has concluded his investigation.

A New Departure

The cost of interments have been greatly reduced by the Holman Undertaking Company.

Heretofore it has been the custom of funeral directors to make charges for all incidentals connected with a funeral. The Edward Holman Undertaking Company, the leading funeral directors of Portland, have departed from that custom. When casket is furnished by us we make no extra charges for embalming, hearse to cemetery, outside box or any services that may be required of us, except clothing, cemetery and carriages, thus effecting a saving of $25 to $75 on each funeral.
