

DETECTIVES OUT, CAPTAINS WAITING

McCarthy Leaves Only a Few Old Hands to Teach New Sleuths Just Named.

SQUAD HEADS TREMBLING

Seven Hundred Patrolmen Also on Anxious Seat—Wide-Open Night World Predicted, Dancing and All—New Cafes Start.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 23.—(Special.)—The sweeping changes in the police department so long expected, yet so long deferred, have taken place.

The old detective bureau resembled 30 cents when Chief of Police Martin got through with it and only five or six of the old guard are left to teach the novices the trade.

Between 14 and 18 detective sergeants who drew a salary of $150 a month, added to the "fog belt," the "cabbage patch" or the "jungle," as that region extending on the remote outskirts of the peninsula is variously and facetiously termed.

What Chief Martin is going to do to the police captains is another sorrowful story, as Kipling says. If the changes happen the morning after, the hell and any of Martin's commanders decide on going to their stations instead of home on account of the lateness of the hour, it is feared they will meet with a cool welcome. They won't know their old homes.

What changes and transfers will be made in the cases of the 700 members of the department is not on the tongue of gossip. The combinations multiply too rapidly there and it does not make much difference any way.

According to current rumor, as soon as the McCarthy administration has disposed of several enemies in the remodeling of the world, the game will be wide open with music and dancing all night.

Several of the cafe proprietors, it appears, fought McCarthy during his fight and he wants to get even. One of the notable cases is that of Sandy McNaughton, who runs the Breakers, a basement resort.

McNaughton started dancing the other day in direct violation of police regulations. The police ordered him to stop and then McNaughton secured a temporary injunction, preventing the police from entering his place of business.

More recently, he had a change of heart. He quit the dancing game and has been seeking a pardon at the hands of the Mayor. But as the story goes, the die has been cast and McNaughton must go.

A number of new cafes have already opened in an unpretentious sort of way and it is evident that they are only waiting for the word.

On the contrary, there are several all-night cafes where dancing goes ahead without interruption.

Nothing new has happened to date in the fight between the Mayor and the Board of Education that he tried to depose. The preliminary struggle in the courts has started but that is all. Because the old Board members walked out after insisting that the police throw them out when they were first removed, the attorneys for the administration are trying to insist that there was no forcible election.

WASHINGTON OFFICIALS SAID TO HAVE BROKEN FAITH.

Score of Convicts Who Refused to Work on Quarry Promised Release Last Month.

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 2.—(Special.)—Because state officials broke their promise to convicts employed at Deception Pass rock quarry, the convicts refused to work and now are ordered back to prison as mutineers to be punished.

This information comes from statements made here today by Highway Commissioner H. L. Bowly, now in charge of the camp. Six months ago when the convicts were taken to the quarry they were promised if they worked faithfully they would be given final discharges February 21, after six months' labor. This six-month plan has been the rule on all outside convict work.

SLIDE TOPPLES TRAIN

FIREMAN KILLED, 12 HURT IN MILAN, WASH., WRECK.

Five Cars Plunge Down Embankment and Burn—Heroic Engineer Saves 175 Passengers.

SPOKANE, March 2.—Crashing into two tons of rock boulders, Oriental Limited No. 4, of the Great Northern Railroad, today plunged down a 50-foot embankment 22 miles east of Spokane, carrying with it five burning cars, including the mail car, killing the fireman, Ed Miller, of Hilliard, Wash., and seriously injuring the engineer and several passengers.

The accident occurred near Milan, a station on the main line of the Great Northern, as the train was turning a curve.

Six of the 175 passengers on the train saw the approaching danger, and only to the heroism of engineer, Alfonso Carle, of Spokane, who threw on the emergency brake 25 feet before the rocks were reached, was the entire trainload saved from probable death.

Explosions of gas tanks on the burning cars added to the catastrophe. The entire train was saved from the flames when Conductor B. S. Robertson marshaled the uninjured passengers and uncoupling the cars not burning, by human strength alone shoved them out of reach of the flames.

The injured are: Alonzo E. Carle, engineer, Spokane; E. E. Swanberg, Mount Vernon, Wash.; Albert H. Forlin, Mount Vernon; William Oliver Eldridge, a 71-year-old tramp, no home, thrown with the engine down the embankment.

S. P. Tie-Up Diverts Travel to Southwest, Colorado Blizzards Rage.

DENVER, March 2.—One of the heaviest snow storms of the season has raged today along the South Park division of the Colorado & Southern Railway. There has been more or less snow for ten days in the mountain region, although the weather has been pleasant in Denver. A snow storm also prevailed along the Moffat road today.

On account of the tieup prevailing on the Southern Pacific Railroad, most of the big colonist travel to the Coast from the East is now being diverted southwest to the only transcontinental line now in operation to the Coast.

Mrs. Swope Tells of Confidence in Negro "Doctor."

Colonel's Eccentricities Described. Feared Death, and Was "Tippy" Every Afternoon for 25 Years, Says Witness.

KANSAS CITY, March 2.—After weeks of delay caused by squabbling between attorneys and her presence before the grand jury, Mrs. Logan O. Swope, the guiding hand in the investigation of the Swope mystery, today gave her deposition in Dr. B. C. Hyde's slander suit against John G. Paxton, executor of the Swope estate.

There was little of the sensational in Mrs. Swope's story. With twinkling eyes and many smiles for her son-in-law's attorneys, Mrs. Swope told of many of the eccentricities of Colonel Swope, and then with all seriousness expressed her confidence in Chassee Chase Jordan, the swarthy "yarb" man, who has received between $10,000 and $20,000 for "doctoring" the Swope during eight years.

They are not a transient fabric—a style brought out to satisfy one season's demand and then discarded. Their stability gives designers each season new inspirations. There are women who insist upon having a Foulard gown every Spring. This year designers have adapted the more quiet, refined patterns, radically different from those shown in previous seasons. They are toned down. Simple, refined taste will see much to admire in them. FROM PARIS —In the collection shown you will find scores of designs in single dress patterns, no two alike. This gives to every woman an exclusiveness so eagerly sought for, and a diversity of styles that is bound to gratify. —Where so much beauty and novelty are to be seen, choosing may be done at random without risk. Nothing short of a visit to our Silk Section will do justice to these Foulards. FROM ENGLAND FROM FRANCE FROM GERMANY Dress Goods Were Never So Beautiful Before —When the first Oriental Silk Fabrics were shown in Europe and created such a favorable impression, the foreign dress goods manufacturers cunningly took advantage of their popularity and reproduced the same weaves in woolen fabrics. —These are exemplified in Priestley's, Tussah Royal, Mohair Shantung, Faille Ideale, Albion Poptins and Ottoman Tussahs. These weaves have won instant favor by their rare unique beauty and intrinsic merit. They are uncrushable, unspottable, positively dust shedding. They come in a brilliant black and delicate Spring shades. Prices range from $1.50 to $2 a yard.

County, Kan., was searching for the herb specialist with a warrant charging him with practicing medicine without a license. The warrant was secured by James Meek, Assistant Prosecuting Attorney of Wyandotte County, after the State Board of Medical Registration and Examination had made complaint against Jordan. Jordan was seen at his home, Ill., and the warrant was not served today.

E. C. Smith, a drug salesman, also testified in Dr. Hyde's suit today. He told of selling pills to Jordan that contained belladonna and acetanilid.

Regardless of all of Jordan's troubles, Mrs. Swope believes in him. She is still "doctoring" with him, as she testified today. She also said that Mrs. B. C. Hyde, who precipitated the investigation of the "doctor," also had confidence in him at one time.

Swope Feared Death. "Frances Hyde," said Mrs. Swope, in speaking of her daughter, "was just as well pleased as any of us when Jordan cured me."

Colonel Swope never took any of Jordan's herbs, Mrs. Swope said. All the members of the family used them except him.

Immediately after Dr. Hyde had been discharged the medicine chests of the house were cleared.

Colonel Swope, according to Mrs. Swope, was an extremely eccentric old man. Constantly fearing death, he talked of his demise for years before his end. For 25 years he drank, becoming "tippy," as she expressed it, the latter part of each afternoon.

WEDDING BARRED MAN DIES Young Socialist Blames Capital for His Suicide.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Morris Schwartz, a young Socialist, took his life recently in the home of his employer by shooting himself, leaving behind him a note in which he said he could no longer live in a country where the existence of wealth prevented his marriage.

"I am in love with Yetta Kappelman, but I cannot marry her here. I am going to a country where there is neither capital nor wealth," wrote the suicide.

The girl is employed in the office of Schwartz's brother, Lewis, a silk manufacturer.

Schwartz notified his employer in a note that he intended to kill himself.

Kochman, accompanied by a policeman, reached the house in time to hear Schwartz fire the shot.

BELL MINGES NO WORDS

COLORADO MILITIA GENERAL TAKES RESPONSIBILITY.

Folks Ordered to Go to Dunville "Surely Went" in Cripple Creek Strike Riot Times.

DENVER, March 2.—General Sherman M. Bell proved a tartar for the attorney who called him to the witness stand today in the suit of Mrs. Mary C. Carley against General Bell and others for damages because of the death of her husband in the Cripple Creek riots in 1904.

"I didn't get out any special written invitation to the mineowners, the trainmen, the newspapermen, the deputies, the militia or any other person to go to Dunville on June 8, 1904," asserted General Bell on the stand. "They went at my command. It was I who ordered them on the train, and they surely went. I had charge of everybody and everything. I didn't talk with Mr. Carleton, the president of the Mineowners' Association, of the stern warrior to the question of Mrs. Carley's attorney, who sought to prove that her husband was slain by the orders of General Bell, and also tried to prove that the mineowners were partly responsible.

General Bell almost completed the reading of the proclamation of Sheriff
