Work of Digging for Bodies at Wellington Continues-All Trace of Mail Car and Seven Men Is Obliterated.

SEATTLE, March 4.—Six laborers are reported to have been killed by an avalanche that destroyed Cascade, a small station east of the Cascade tunnel.

The report was brought to Seattle by Ed Clark, a section man who has been working in the mountains. He said that he walked through Cascade this morning and that everything had been wined out

The Great Northern has received no report of an avalanche at Cascade, but it is known that several bad slides have occurred on the east slope of the mountains. All communication with that section has been cut off.

The searchers are working in the day-time only. The Great Northern Railroad today sent in 15 Alaskan sleds, on which the bodies will be taken to a train at Skykomish, to be carried to Everett and Seattle.

All the railroad men's homes are at Everett. Donald Cameron Gilmore, fireman, aged 32, whose body has been recovered, was formerly a West Point cadet, and his mother is a prominent resident of Santa Barbara, Cal.

The Great Northern is using all the resources at its command to open the track. Every man and every plow that can find a place to work are busy night and day. Superintendent O'Neill estimates the actual loss to the road by destruction of property at $1.000,000. The four electric motors now lying demolished under the snow were valued at $250,000. The only salvage wreck will be of old metal.

Cold rain and increased fear of snow-slides, added to the gloom of Wellington today. Two bodies were sent down the trail, and the others, wrapped in blankets, are lying in a raliroad building. Among the arrivals today were a number of friends and relatives of victims, a few of them women. Every courtesy was shown to these anxious people, but they contributed nothing to the cheerfulness of the camp. The recovery of bodies will be slow until the locomotives arrive to pull away the glant trees, whose trunks and branches are interlocked above the dead. The rain, falling on snow already packed so tight that a shovel will not enter it, is turning it to ice.
