

PORTLAND TAKES GAME AT SAN JOSE

McCredie's Men Play Good Ball and Win by Final Score of 6 to 3.

HARTMAN'S PITCHING WILD

Southpaw Lasts Only Part of One Inning - Guyn Saves Further Damage, and Bill Chenault Shows Fine Form.

SAN JOSE, Cal., March 18.—(Special).—Portland today once more defeated the San Jose State League and this time played a first-class game all through, which resulted in a final score of 6 to 3 in favor of McCredie's permanent-chasers.

San Jose had two men in the outfield and their work made the team show up a trifle better, though the Coast Leagueers completely outclassed them in all departments.

Charley Hartman, McCredie's lone southpaw, started to pitch the game for Portland, but was so wild that he was derided after he had been scored against twice, through having walked four men and allowed a hit and a sacrifice in the first inning.

Guyn Saves Damage. Guyn was chased out to the firing line and with the bases loaded succeeded in disposing of the San Joseans without further damage resulting. With two out in the fifth inning Guyn walked Peters, the speedy San Jose third baseman, and Cy Townsend picked out a nice one, the last he faced for three bags, scoring the last run for the prince pitchers.

McCredie's band did not get busy until the second inning, when it tied the score with two men out. McCredie and Ryan were allowed away when Ryan was bunted and beat it out. Ork Hokeys caught Harry Goodwin, the former Los Angeles Coast League southpaw, napping and beat out another infielder, Tommy Murray followed with a two-base smash to left field, which chased Speas and Ort home. Goodwin settled down in the third and fourth innings and held Portland rattleless, though McCredie opened the latter session with a triple, but the next three men could not get the ball past Goodwin, who made two fancy shots and threw to base.

Four Hits Net Three Runs. Yates, the little pitcher who finished Thursday's game for San Jose, was again sent in to pitch in the fifth inning today and before he warmed sufficiently McCredie's squad rapped him for four hits, which, with two errors, netted three runs.

Tom Murray opened with a drive to center, which got away from Speas and the little Portland backstop made the circuit of the bases before the ball was recovered. Guyn singled and Nelson was safe on an error by Yates, and singles by Olson, and Casey drove in two more, making Portland five runs. A pass to Casey, McCredie's sacrifice and long single by Speas, brought forth the last run of the game in the eighth inning.

Tennessee Bill Chenault pitched the last four innings for Portland and a lucky hit by Routledge was all that he allowed the home team in the time he was on the hilltop. McCredie, who had speed and fine control and worked like a veteran, Casey, Murray and Speas each got two hits.

Portlanders See Game. Kratzeberger and Ryan will pitch for Portland tomorrow, and San Jose expects to use Allegart, the sensational twirler of the Santa Clara College team, who has been signed to play with the Prune Pickers this season. Several Portland people visiting here were out to the game today. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thompson, H. Alexander, A. Gilbert, John Allen and Fred Watson. The score by innings:

FESTIVAL FLIGHTS NEXT

AERONAUTIC MEET IS GOAL OF LOCAL ENTHUSIASTS.

Roy Knabenshue, Representative of Wright Bros., Anxious to Exhibit Machines Here.

If the plans now being formulated by local aeroplane and airship enthusiasts are carried out, a splendid and varied programme of aeronautic events will be a feature of the Rose Festival next June.

General Manager Hutchin, of the Festival Association, yesterday morning received a letter from Roy Knabenshue, manager of the Aeroplane Exhibition Company at Los Angeles, and exclusive lessee of the Wright Brothers' machines, who is anxious to bring several of the Wright aeroplanes to Portland to participate in the aviation meet planned.

Knabenshue's letter has been turned over to H. W. Manning, who is superintending the building of four aeroplanes and has charge of the aeronautic features of the Festival programme. Manning will at once confer with the representative of the Wright Bros at Los Angeles, and arrangements will undoubtedly be made to bring from three to five of the Wright aeroplanes north for the exhibition.

In addition to these machines, it is hoped that the contest "Futaba" and "Futaba" built at the Horticultural building. Exhibition grounds, will be completed in time for the Festival, in which case it will participate in the events.

Profiting by the experience of the recent aviation meet promoters, who have provided a large number of thousands of people at the Country Club grounds, because the view could not be forced in, Manager Manning is of the opinion that for the purpose of some place where a pro rata may be collected from all who see the aeroplanes and airships fly. A 20-acre tract in the peninsula is being considered, as is also a location on the O. W. P. carline. A reasonable fee is to be arranged, but this fee the promoters propose to be assured, if possible.

A large race course is being cleared and scraped near the Twelve-Mile House for the purpose of providing a practice and test place for Manning's machines, some of which are now about completed. Daily practice will bring the machines to a reliable degree of perfection, and some thrilling novelties in aeronautics are expected.

MONTESSANO, Wash., March 18.—(Special).—It was Frank Sporan whom Dzsogoff, the convicted Russian, tried to kill in jail here, and not William Gohl, as was first given out when only the timely interference of Deputy Royce prevented a killing.

After the sentence was pronounced on Dzsogoff he became gloomy and quarrelsome. Sunday night he and Sporan quarreled over a game of cards and were separated by the night jailer. The men were then separated, and the next came to take them to Walla Walla, when, being allowed in the same room, Dzsogoff at once took advantage of the opportunity by trying to kill Sporan with a chain.
