Wheat Kings, Merchants and Housewives Hear College Experts Lecture.

FIELD PEAS ARE IN DEMAND

Director Withycombe Sees That Gospel of Summer Crops on Every Acre Every Year Is Appreciated by Farmers of Oregon.

HERMISTON, Or., March 27.—(Special.)—Wheat kings, orchardists, merchants, housewives and school children forsook their duties today to visit the O. R. N. X's demonstration train on its tour of Umatilla County.

Five hundred persons struggled good-naturedly to get in range of Photographer Weiser's camera when the train arrived at Hermiston at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. The stop at Hermiston concluded the week's itinerary.

Fifteen thousands persons have viewed the train's comprehensive exhibits and farm appliances since last Sunday, when the official tour of Eastern Oregon began. The schedule calls for the train's arrival at Condon Sunday morning, at 4 o'clock. The day will be spent at Condon.

Dr. Withycombe, director of the Experiment Station at O. C. and A. A. Morse, who is conducting the train, are greatly pleased with today's attendance. Representative crowds saw the train at Pilot Rock, Echo, Stanfield and Hermiston. Indicative of the remarkable interest manifested in the college on wheels is the fact that restaurants were swamped at Echo, where the noon stop was made. More farmers came to Echo today, said a leading business man, than at any time in the history of the town. Other towns reported a similar influx of farmers.

Canadian field peas, which college experts recommend as a rotative crop, are in heavy demand, and it is believed that by next year an extra coach will be required to carry the peas. For many years Dr. Withycombe and his corps of assistants have disseminated the gospel of summer utilization of the soil in this connection. They have advised planting of the Canadian pea. The keen demand for peas on the present trip shows the farmers are beginning to appreciate the advantage of crop rotation every year, say the college professors.

PEACOCK GETS NEW TRIAL

Supreme Court Sets Aside Conviction for Manslaughter.

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 27.—(Special.)—The State Supreme Court has set aside the conviction of Fred Peacock in Yakima County, who was charged with manslaughter for having, on November 27, 1908, operated upon Madeline Longstain from which she died December 10, 1908. A new trial is ordered.

Reversal is granted because of admission to evidence of a purported statement by the victim. When in hope of recovery she made an extended statement that the defendant had killed her and the day before her death, believing she was dying, she said the early statements were true.

JUDGE GIVES HIM 3 YEARS

Prisoner Had Said He Thought Two Years Sufficient.

STEVENS POINT, Wis., March 27.—Dr. William Jennings was given a three-year sentence in the state penitentiary at Waupun Saturday after he had pleaded guilty to having committed arson.

"At the time I set fire to the house of Mrs. Cole," he told the judge, "I did not think I was doing wrong. She was a widow and poor. She needed the money more than the insurance company."

"Well," said the court, "what do you think you should be given for punishment?"

"Two years at Waupun," was the answer.

CONTRACT WEDDING FAILS

Wife Loses Faith on Learning There Are Other Partners.

ST. LOUIS, March 27.—Although she has not heard from her "contract husband" in 27 years, Mrs. Charlotte Thomas, known to her friends as Charlotte Todd, petitioned the Circuit Court today to dissolve her marriage to Ambrose Thomas and declare the contract void.

Mrs. Thomas, who is 70 years old, signed the marriage contract in 1877. In it she expressed the belief that marriage was founded by laws of nature and "no law should or could make such partnership indissoluble or keep it in force."

Her petition alleges that she learned in 1883 that Thomas had one or more wives living when she signed the contract. From the day of her discovery until now, she said, she had not heard from him.

CUBS TO RETAIN CARSON

Ex-Portland Twirler, Less Home-sick, Gets Permanent Berth.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 27.—(Special.)—Al Carson, the sensational Portland pitcher, seems assured of a permanent berth with the Cubs. He has recovered from his severe attack of homesickness and seems disposed to stick, although he admits it would be puerile, although he Hood River apple or once more get a real dish of savory salmon.

At New Orleans Carson had been so despondent that Manager Chance had about concluded to let him return to the Coast, but Carson received a letter from his brother, urging him to stick with the majors. Since that time Carson has been more contented and has been doing fine work.

There will be some changes in the team when it arrives in Louisville, but Manager Chance is guarding his plans.

LARD DEALERS WARNED

BAILEY FINDS HALF OF 50 SAMPLES ADULTERATED.

Arrests Are Promised Unless Labels Are Printed to Reveal Actual Contents.

Tests made of about 50 samples of lard placed on sale in Portland showed that half of them contained adulterations, a result, according to a statement made Saturday by J. W. Bailey, State Dairy and Food Commissioner, of the high price of hogs and the desire on the part of producers to keep the price of lard from increasing.

Mr. Bailey has begun a campaign against the adulteration of lard, and has sent a circular letter to packers in Oregon, setting forth his rules, which the law allows him to make, regarding the labeling of lard and compounds containing it.

Already eight arrests have been made in Portland on charges preferred by Bailey for selling adulterated lard under the name of the pure article, and in each case he has been a plea of guilty and a fine of $25 imposed. More arrests will be made soon.

Mr. Bailey has also had notices prepared for display in various stores in which the law providing a standard weight for butter rolls is given. He said recently in a number of cases he has been found rolls of butter falling short of the legal size, have been placed on sale in Portland.

Following is the letter Mr. Bailey has sent to packers of lard:

Section 6 of the 1907 session laws of Oregon provides that "it shall be the duty of the State Dairy and Food Commissioner to make uniform rules and regulations for carrying out the provisions of this act, and to enforce the provisions of this act."

In pursuance with this section the purpose of protecting the public against adulteration and for the purpose of obtaining uniformity in the labeling of lard, lard substitutes and lard compounds, the following rules are hereby rendered:

Pure rendered hog fat only shall be sold as lard, and the same may be sold in containers bearing no label at all. All mixtures composed in part of lard, beef fat and cottonseed oil, or other substance, shall bear a label marked "compound lard" or "lard compound" and the word compound shall be printed in letters as large as those used in printing the word lard and in letters of the same color. When such compound is retailed from bulk and is taken from tubs or barrels, or other such containers, shall be placed in plastic containers and a card bearing the word "compound lard" in large compound printed in letters sufficiently large to be easily read by the customer from the container when the package is closed shall be placed upon the tub or tierce in such manner that it can be seen at all times by the purchaser.

Substitutes for lard containing no part of hog fat, but containing a mixture of other substances, such as beef fat and cottonseed oil, shall bear a label marked "compound," but such label shall not be marked "lard compound" or "lard substitute," as provided for the labeling of a mixture of which lard is a part.

FOUR CHILDREN SAVED

POLICE ARRIVE AS FATHER SWINGS IMPLEMENT.

Four-Year-Old Held Crucifix, Waits Death, Others Lined in Row. Oldest Child Seven.

HARTFORD, Conn., March 27.—An insane father was prevented from butchering his four little children on the banks of the Connecticut River today by the timely arrival of the police.

When located back of the bushes his four boys were partly undressed and were lined in a row, the maniac father standing over them with an uplifted ax. The children ranged in age from 2 to 7 years.

A boy of 4 years was to have been the first victim. The child was standing beneath the shining blade with a crucifix in one hand, calmly awaiting its fate. Under orders of the madman, had removed part of their clothing and were terrified spectators.

The police dashed through the undergrowth, seized the man and saved the children. The father was taken to the police station and locked in a padded cell. His name is Valente Chongie. His disposition today by his landlord had made him desperate.

The maniac disputed the right of the police to interfere with his plan for making away with his children, saying that as their father he had a right to do with them as he pleased.

HAWLEY SAYS SETTLERS SUFFER SHAMEFUL NEGLECT.

Representative Submits Petitions Indorsing Bill—A. W. Lafferty Also Addresses Committee.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, March 27.—Arguments on behalf of the bill for the relief of the original settlers on the Siletz Indian Reservation in Oregon were heard Saturday by the House committee on public lands. Representative Hawley and A. W. Lafferty made strong pleas for the bill.

Representative Hawley presented to the committee numerous affidavits of Siletz settlers, as well as petitions to Congress from the Governor of Oregon and other state officials, in support of the pending bill.

His speech said the Siletz settlers had gone upon the land in good faith, realized there as much as physical conditions would permit and sufficient proof would have been furnished to justify the issuance of patent in many instances. He said the Government had subjected the settlers to shameful neglect. He made a plea that the settlers whose rights are now involved had made honest and hard struggle to obtain title, were bona fide entries, entitled to the consideration, and that if the pending entries are canceled the title ultimately must pass to the individuals under the homestead law.

The Government would not profit by taking the lands from these settlers to shameful neglect. He made a plea that the settlers whose rights are now involved had made honest and hard struggle to obtain title, were bona fide entries, entitled to the consideration, and that if the pending entries are canceled the title ultimately must pass to the individuals under the homestead law.

SPOKANE, Wash., March 27.—Twenty minutes after his heart had ceased beating and after life had been pronounced extinct, Fred Gotzner, a blackjack, was brought to life at the Spokane Emergency Hospital this morning by a heavy hypodermic injection of strychnine.

Gotzner reeled over in a fit directly in front of the police station. He was carried to the Emergency Hospital, where he gave a gasp and straightened. Nurse Dare felt of his pulse but found none. Steward P. C. Milburn grasped the man's wrist. No sign of life could be perceived and he was pronounced dead.

When the powerful hypodermic injection of strychnine was administered the "dead man's" heart fluttered. Then it rose from a flutter to a steady beat. Respiration started and his life was saved.
