PUBLIC BODY IS TOPIC AT MON-TAVILLA.

State Senator Kellaher Upholds Measure, H. B. Dickinson Says It Will Be Expensive.

That if the City Council has authority to regulate public service corporations and compel them to comply with their franchises, the proposed Public Service Commission, composed of highsalaried men and many clerks, is not necessary, but an expensive luxury, was the contention of H. B. Dickinson Monday night. State Senator Kellaher and J. Wood Smith addressed the meeting in behalf of the proposed Public Service Commission and asked for annual assistance in circulating the initiative petitions. Mr. Dickinson financial assistance in circulating the initiative petitions. Mr. Dickinson questioned the speakers as to the working of the commission, how much the body would cost, if the City Council has not now the same powers it is proposed to confer on the commission and in what way the commission and in what way the commission. would be an improvement on the Coun-

Mr. Kellaher said the Council has power to regulate the corporations, but has never exercised it and never will, but passes the responsi-bility from one committee to another, with the result that nothing is ever done, and the public service corpora-tions were left to work out their own "sweet pleasure," tear up car tracks and furnish insdequate service. Removal of the car tracks that ex-tended to Holladay Park was cited by

Mr. Smith as an example of the action of the street railway corporation without protest from the City Council. Such an act a public service commission would prevent, he said.

Corner of Park and Jefferson Bought for $36,000.

VALUES ADVANCE RAPIDLY

Same Property Was Purchased Four Years Ago for $24,000-Corner of West Park and Columbia Sells for $22,500.

Park street continues to be the scene of the greatst activity in local real estate circles, a number of deals for property along the park blocks having been negotinted vesterday.

The largest sale was a purchase by Herman M. Leffert, the Washington street jeweler, of 50x100 feet at the southeast corner of Park and Jefferson streets.

This is improved property and was bought from E. L. Estes for $35,000. The sale was negotiated by D. Parker Bryon The lot, which has a frontage of 100 fest on Park street and 50 fest on Jefferson street, is occupied with three two-story six-flat buildings, which bring in a rental of $200 a month. Mr. Estes had owned the property for a period of four years and paid $24,000 for it. Double Transfer Is Made.

Another sale in the same vicinity was a double transfer of the 50x100 feet at the southwest corner of West Park and the southwest corner of West Park and Columbia streets. This was bought by Morris Marks from Charles S. Wright for $22,000 and before the papers had passed Mr. Marks had turned over his interest to the Beacon Investment Company for $22,500. The property is occupied with an old residence which brings in but a nominal rental. Both the sale from Mr. Wright and from Mr. Marks to the Beacon Investment Company were from Mr. Wright and from Mr. Marks to the Beacon Investment Company were negotiated through the agency of Vanduyn & Walton. The new owners will hold the corner as an investment.

Through the agency of Vanduyn & Walton a full quarter block, 160x160 feet, at the southwest corner of West Park and Jackson streets, was sold for $11,000 to F. L. Shull by Mrs. George Williams. The property is occupied by the Williams residence and by two old cottages which bring in a small rental. Mr. Shull bought this quarter block as an investment.

Another deal on the park streets was a sale made for the northeast corner of Park and Harrison streets. This was of Park and Harrison streets, this was bought by the Park-Harris Investment Company from J. Moon for $16,000. It is a fractional lot, 50x90 feet, occupied by two old cottages. It was bought as an investment. No realty dealer figured in Inside Lot Brings $33,000.

A sale negotiated yesterday was the transfer of a fractional lot on Upper Alder street. This property has a frontinge of 48 feet on the north side of Alder street and a depth of 86 feet and is located 50 feet west of Twelfth street. It was sold by George Heusner to J. K. Stern for $33,000. The sale was negotiated by D. A. Lewis.

The purchaser will build a ladies' tailoring establishment for his own occupancy on the new location. He now has a location further down town, but the increased rentals of the business district have forced him to secure a site further removed from the congested dis-

WILL SHUT DOWN RATHER THAN YIELD TO "CLOSED SHOP."

Executive Committee Holds Secret Session and Members Are Reticent as to Proceedings.

A resolution to fight to the last ditch the encroachment of organized labor in Portland on the "open shop" policy was passed at yesterday afternoon's conference of the members of the ex-ecutive committee of the Oregon Em-ployers' Association.

The conference was held behind

The conference was held behind closed doors and a very guarded policy was followed in giving out the transactions of the meeting.

That there is impending in Portland labor disturbances such as have never been seen here before was admitted as the conclusion reached by the conferees. To meet these troubles when they come, or to succeed in averting them altogether, was the subject principally discussed.

It was determined, however, according to George Lawrence, Jr., chairman of the publicity committee, to fight to the last ditcu any attempt on the part of labor organizers to make Portland a "closed shop" town.

a "closed shop" town.
"We will fight this to the last," said
Mr. Lawrence. "It has been our observation that a closed shop policy is ruinous to the industrial life of any city. We do not propose to become the vic-tims of the same kind of movement hich wrought havee in San Francisco." A similar sentiment was expressed by

M. C. Banfield, president of the Em ployers' Association. According to Mr. Banfield and Mr. Lawrence, sentiment among the employers of labor in Portland is a unity on this position.

No formal reply to the statement published yesterday morning by authority lished yesterday morning by authority of the executive committee of the Central Labor council of Portland and vicinity was made. It was characterized, however, by Mr. Lawrence as being a distortion of the facts as they exist. To the declaration by the labor representatives that the "closed shop" policy in a city is a guarantee to its industrial peacefulness, Mr. Lawrence said its result is quite the contrary.

It is estimated that the employers represented at the meeting have on their payrolls 10,000 men. It is proposed to close down every establishment posed to close down every establishment if the men strike. The damage to the financial condition of the city in the event of such a situation arising cannot e estimated. WAKEFIELD'S BRIDGE CON-TRACT MAY BE ANNULLED.

Mayor Provoked by Delay and Consulting Engineer Recommends Forfeiture.

Cancellation of the contract of Robert Wakefield, who is supposed to be build-Wakefield, who is supposed to be building the superstructure for the Madisonstreet bridge, will be recommended by J.
Lyle Harrington, senior member of the firm of Waddell & Harrington, consulting engineers for the city, unless he moves a good deal faster than he has been moving since the contract was awarded. This was the statement made by Mr. Harrington to Mayor Simon yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Harrington reached Portland yes-terday morning and left last night, but he will return before long to give per-sonal direction to the Madison-street bridge. In the meantime, E. E. Howard, resident engineer for the company, is 'Natural procrastination," is assigned by Mr. Harrington as the cause of Con-tractor Wakefields' slow progress on the work, aside from what time has actually peen legitimately consumed by high water in the Willamette River, when the work-men could do nothing. It is said by Mr.

"behind in his work."

Mayor Simon told Mr. Harrington that action must be had on this span, as the public is being greatly inconvenienced because of the delay, and that the con-tract must be cancelled unless Wakefield makes first-class speed from this time forward until the work is completed. Meanwhile, the United Engineering & Construction Company, which has the contract for building the superstructure, is being urged to make every possible preparation to proceed with its portion of the work when Wakefield gets out of the war.

"I made it plain that I am not satisfied with the progress of the work on the part of Wakefield, and that he must be prodded into activity at once, or his contract must be cancelled and it must be given over to some one to finish who will finish it promptly."
