

ENUMERATORS OF CENSUS BACK OUT

Supervisor Beach Hears From Many Who Decline to Take Counting Job.

NEW MEN RECOMMENDED

Business Houses Asked to Supply Names of Traveling Salesmen. Portlanders Abroad Will Be Included—Farmers Ready.

Supervisor Beach, of the census, is already encountering setbacks. Many among those selected to act as enumerators now decline to give up positions for the census. It was reported yesterday that Oakley A. Darr, who passed the enumerator examination, was killed recently in a railroad wreck. Replies from the field men indicate that many of them have secured other employment since the examinations were held. Supervisor Beach will fill the places by telegraphing recommendations for appointments, but in unwinding the red tape of the Civil Service Commission and securing authority to issue the commissions a number of days will be consumed.

Mr. Beach is relying on being able to enumerate all the traveling salesmen employed out of Portland and other cities through the houses which they represent. Every merchant in the city will be asked to prepare a list of his representatives who are to be on the road between April 15 and May 1, his place of residence and such other information as is required, and mail it to Supervisor Beach. A number of the commercial men have already sent in data. Mr. Beach will mail blanks to traveling salesmen who write for them. In other instances wives of the men on the road have interested themselves by writing down the name, place of birth, date, etc., to be in readiness for the man with the badge, who will call later.

At this time of the year many Portlanders are residing abroad, or have not yet returned from the South and East, where they have been passing the winter. These will be omitted from the enumeration unless efforts are made by their friends to furnish reliable data.

Interior Oregon is the cause of much worry to the Portland main office. The census should begin in the outlying districts Friday, April 15, but the mailing of commissions having been delayed, and it being required that the acceptances and oaths of office be acknowledged before a notary public, it will probably be a number of days later before the supplies can be shipped. Weather conditions may interfere in reaching many of the mining camps and ranchmen in isolated sections.

Letters were mailed yesterday by Mr. Beach to 1600 cattle-growers and 690 owners of sheep ranches, requesting them to get ready for the enumerator for that district. The communications tell the property owners the information which the census enumerators will require, and they are asked to be ready for questioning.

In some counties the Commercial Clubs of Commercial men will be asked to assist the enumerators to find all the inhabitants and aid them in getting statistics of the farming interests in the counties in which they are located.

FRENCH OFFICIALS HERE

Trio From Paris Investigate Portland's Telephone System.

For the purpose of investigating the Home Telephone Company's system here, a party of three French government officials, connected with the governmental telephone system, are in Portland. With them is W. E. Cooke, of Chicago, head of the Automatic Electric Company, manufacturers of the Home system.

The party includes O. Leococq, A. Thomas and H. Milton, all of Paris. Mr. Leococq registered at the Portland Hotel, where the party is staying, from Schenectady, N. Y., where he is studying the Home system in one of the Automatic Electric Company's factories.

The main building of the Home Telephone Company was inspected yesterday. The party came here from Los Angeles and San Francisco and will leave today for Seattle and from there into Canada and back to Chicago.

"In France," explained Mr. Leococq, who is interpreter for his associates, "the government owns the public service corporations. The government intends improving the telephone services of not only Paris, but the entire country. We are merely investigating the service in America."

AUTO SMASHUP PROB ON

Chauffeurs' Club Makes Inquiry. Driver Blames Streetcar.

To investigate the causes for the automobile smashup at Gray's crossing on Monday, in which two girls were hurt, the Portland Chauffeurs' Club yesterday sent a representative to the scene of the collision. John Paulson, driver of the wrecked car, says that he could not be blamed for the accident, as he did not hear any warning signals from the streetcar and could not see it on account of a small house which hid the railway crossing from view.

Leola Peterson and Jennie Mitchell, the girls who received the most serious injuries, are reported to be convalescing. H. W. Eickensmeyer and R. E. Thompson, who were in the car at the time of the accident, are attaches of the Punk Auto Company, and say that they had nothing to do with the "joy-riders" other than to ride in the car which was sent out after them. Eickensmeyer was badly bruised today, but did not find it necessary to go to the hospital.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY TO BE PRESENTED WITH FINE PORTRAIT OF VENERABLE PIONEER, F. X. MATTHIEU.

A life-size portrait in oils of the venerable pioneer, F. X. Matthieu, has just been completed by George O'Brien, an artist in the Dekum building. The portrait is to be presented by Mr. Matthieu to the Oregon Historical Society. It was begun by Mr. O'Brien last October. Owing to Mr. Matthieu's failing sight it was necessary to make frequent visits to his home on Eugene street. There the artist spent considerable time with the survivor of the Champoux convention, acquainting himself with Mr. Matthieu's facial expressions, afterwards working these into the portrait from memory. Mr. Matthieu will celebrate his 92d birthday on Saturday, April 2.

His portrait will be on exhibition in Mr. O'Brien's studio, 314 Dekum building, today from 9 until 6, and from 7 to 8 o'clock this evening. Those interested are cordially invited to visit the studio. George O'Brien lectures at Oregon in 1905 and has resided in Portland since that time. He was born in Connecticut and received his art training in the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts, and under private teachers in New York City.

LOUIS HILL COMING

President of Great Northern to Spend Week in State.

OREGON TO BE ADVERTISED

Railroad Company Will Send Exhibit Car to Eastern States, Following With Literature Campaign. Experts Will Lecture.

Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northern Railroad Company, is expected to arrive in Portland Friday and spend a week here looking over the interests of his road in Oregon. It is understood that he will also take a trip into Central Oregon to look over the construction work there. It is expected, too, that Mr. Hill will make known here more details of his publicity campaign for this state, which includes the sending of a car throughout the Eastern states, in which the products of Oregon will be placed on exhibition.

M. J. Conello, assistant traffic manager for the Great Northern, who is in Portland on a business trip from Seattle, explained yesterday some of the details of the proposed tour of the exhibition car that Mr. Hill is planning to send from Oregon in the fall.

The car will start on its tour as soon as the agricultural, horticultural and forest exhibits can be secured and placed in readiness for the trip.

Car Exhibits Bring Results.

This will be the first car sent East to advertise the resources of this state, and it will be equipped similar to the two that the Great Northern has been sending out with gratifying success to advertise the resources of the state.

WIFE OF PORTLAND ATTORNEY DIES AT HOME HERE.

Mrs. Anna Amanda Upton, aged 61 years, wife of James E. Upton, died at 206 Sherman street, died Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The funeral was conducted at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the family residence. Burial was in Riverview Cemetery. Rev. E. S. Billinger, of Highland Congregational Church, officiated.

Mr. Upton was born in Platt County, Missouri. With her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Shaw, she came to Oregon in 1852, the family settling at Oregon City. In 1869 she was married to James E. Upton, an attorney, and had lived in Portland since. She is survived by her husband and the following children: Charles S. Upton, Mrs. R. O. Scott, Jay H. Upton, an attorney; George E. Upton and Marietta Upton, all of whom live in Portland and were at the bedside when death came.

tise Montana and Washington. Accompanying the car will be men familiar with the resources of the state, who will lecture at the various towns visited, and illustrate their talks with numerous lantern slides.

Cars that have been sent out for the other two states in the past have had an average of about 2000 visitors a day while staying at towns and cities. In many cases the daily attendance has reached 3000.

A feature of the work of the crew that will accompany the car on its advertising trip will be the collection of addresses of people who show interest in the state. To these people literature will later be mailed. It is declared by Mr. Costello that between 500 and 1000 letters a day have resulted from the Eastern tour of the car advertising Washington.

Experts Will Collect Specimens.

When the fruit and agricultural crops are in readiness, it is expected an expert will be sent here to collect specimens for the exhibition. The exhibit will cover the varied resources of the state, and even samples of soil will be included.

Previous to the arrival of the car in any town notices will be forwarded to those interested in the exhibits. Lumber dealers, for instance, will be notified of the forest exhibit, and they in turn are expected to give notice to others who may be interested in the woods that will be on exhibition.

Mr. Hill is taking an active interest in the preparations for the car to be sent out advertising Oregon.

WIFE FEARS HUSBAND

HAS HIM ARRESTED WHILE SHE SUES FOR DIVORCE.

Mrs. William Irvine Says She Will Not Remarry—Likes Men but Not Husband.

William Irvine, a "tramp" photographer, was arrested late yesterday afternoon by Constable Wagner on a charge of threatening to kill his wife, Evelyn Irvine, who has refused to live with him for the past two years. The couple were married three years ago, but lived together less than a year.

Threats that he would "fix her good and plenty" and that he would "get" her, Mrs. Evelyn Irvine says, almost drove her frantic, and yesterday she decided to insure herself against an attack by her husband. She made a complaint to Constable Wagner, and the man was arrested. Irvine lives at 193 West Park street.

TALKS ON TEETH

BY THE REX DENTAL CO., DENTISTS

GOOD LOOKS AND QUALITY COUNT

Strange as it may seem, the average dentist does not know strictly high-class dentistry. Nor does the average person know the pleasure and comfort of classy work until he has tried it. He judges all dental work by what he is used to and may permit himself to be satisfied with a standard far below what he might enjoy. If our work was not the best that is possible, do you suppose our offices would be crowded with patients willing to pay what good classy work is worth. We do work for many people whose brothers or other relatives are dentists, and guess once they say, "Such cases would hardly come to us if it were possible for brother, who is a good dentist, to do his work anything like the way we do it. He must pay us. Brother would do it gratis. We do the highest-class dental business in the world. It's a broad statement, "but true."

Alveolar teeth cannot be told from natural teeth, except, perhaps, they are so much more beautiful than natural. We cure it absolutely. It's a beautiful product that you may be suspected of having visited the Teeth Art Shop (311 to 314 Abington building).

If any one is wearing a partial plate or bridge, and has two or more teeth left in either jaw, we will supply a full set, without using plates or bridge work, that will be as firm in the jaw as nature's teeth and as permanent, and more beautiful.

The work is practically painless and carries our guarantee of satisfaction. Our healing Pyorrhea (loose teeth), a disease given up by other dentists as incurable, is another of our specialties. We cure it absolutely. It's a beautiful statement to make, but we can do anything that is possible in dentistry, and what we do is always of the very best class. Our booklets Alveolar Dentistry, are free. Write for one if you cannot call. We have samples of our work to show at all times.
