GEORGE H. WILLIAMS.

The first citizen of Oregon, a man of great and simple nature, yet of intellectual powers the highest, has passed on into history. His services, throughout a long and eventful life, both to the State of Oregon and to our common country, the United States, have been of high distinction and value.

His public career began at the early age of twenty-one when he was elected a Judge in Iowa. This was in the year 1847. In 1852 he was chosen one of the Presidential Electors of Iowa, and in 1853 he was appointed Chief Justice of the Territory of Iowa.

After the death of Chief Justice Hamilton, he was elected a Judge in Iowa. This was in the year 1847. In 1852 he was chosen one of the Presidential Electors of Iowa, and in 1853 he was appointed Chief Justice of the Territory of Iowa.

It is to be hoped that everybody in the United States will follow Mr. Williams' example in the matter of understanding between him and the Vatican. The occasion, as he says, is not one for rancor or bitterness, and whatever is said about it should be uttered in a calm and judicial manner.

Advice bestowed upon Antoinette is good. It is impossible to agree with Mr. Roosevelt that the incident is "merely personal." At the present time, though it may not be for long, the ex-President stands before the world as the representative of American civilization.

No doubt there are many good reasons for the sensitiveness of the Vatican authorities with reference to the case of Cardinal Merry Del Val and the additional assumption that, if he did speak there or anywhere, he would not do it "tactfully," was something worse than gratuitous. It verged upon insult.

Local ministers are planning union operations, but perhaps they mean "closed air," for the Ministerial Union is a tight little body of its own.

Now it is clear that Gifford Pinchot will see him, of course, because Pinchot asks it. Why not?

Now if Mr. Taft were to visit the Vatican, the same would pass him at the family entrance.

Aviation at 6000 feet is becoming as risky as automobiling on the surface.

every great man has failed. Yet his work remains. Great actions, in great crises, decide everything. For great actions, in great crises, great abilities are necessary, large comprehension of affairs, and powers of mind fit for the momentous occasion.

TRAINING THE BOY. The recent plea of an attorney for the discharge of boys charged with stealing milk in their homes, back doors on the ground that the milk should not have been left in an exposed place to tempt them was promptly disallowed by Judge Cleland and the predatory lads were remanded to the juvenile court for sentence.

THE PERILOUS MOTORCYCLE. The dangerous accident to Roy Hamilton on the Base Line road emphasizes the care which ought to be exercised in riding the motorcycle. This vehicle is so swift that a person mounted upon it easily falls under the action of the centrifugal force.

CONSUMPTIVE TEACHERS. A special duty devolves upon boards of education in regard to the campaign against tuberculosis that is being conducted throughout the state. Briefly stated, this duty consists in refusing to consider any application for the employment of a teacher who is manifestly suffering from this disease.

Another French aviator met death while making an exhibition with an aeroplane, Hubert Leblond, formerly noted automobilist, falling from a considerable height after his machine became disabled. Considering the comparatively small number of men who have taken to the air, the number of fatalities already charged up against aerial navigation is large indeed.

THE HOOD RIVER APPLE GROWERS' Union states that the 1910 apple crop of the far-famed valley will reach 500,000 boxes. It is also stated that in four weeks there will be required from 2000 to 4000 men to thin the fruit.

There are no strings on T. R. Not if he knows himself, and he thinks he does. He is not in Rome as a Protestant or a Catholic, a monarchist or a Republican, but as an American citizen abroad—his only passport to publication, the dignity of American citizenship.

Actual performances on the North Bank road continue to demonstrate why that famous gravity line was constructed at a time when the owners of the road already had two lines leading to tidewater on the Pacific Coast.

the actual saving on every 100 cars moved to tidewater by the North Bank line, as compared with the same number lifted over the Cascade Mountains, is enormous. It is this advantage which can never be overcome that has made Portland the greatest railroad center in the Pacific Northwest.
