MRS. E. PERRY, 83, IS DEAD

Pioneer Woman, Oregon Her Home 65 Years, Succumbs. Mrs. Elizabeth Crandall Perry, a pioneer of 1848, and one of the best-known and best-beloved women in Oregon, died yesterday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Brown, 1291 Haven street, University Park, in her 83d year.

English ancestry. At the age of 10 years she went with her parents to Ohio. Four years later her family removed to Iowa, settling in Muscatine County. On November 12, 1861, she was married to Francis Perry, a native of Vermont, who died on December 18, 1887. On April 8, 1848, Mr. and Mrs. Perry, started to Oregon, with one child, Frank C. born November 6, 1844, with ox teams, and arrived at Linnton on October 8.

They soon found their way to Dayton, Yamhill County, and remained there about four years. Early in 1850 Mr. and Mrs. Perry removed to what is now Columbia County, settling on Milton Creek, about three miles and a half west of St. Helens, where Mr. Perry cleared a farm and engaged to some extent in the lumber business.

Mrs. Perry was the mother of 14 children, a number of whom survive her. Before there were any physicians in Columbia and Clatsop counties, Mrs. Perry was often called on in cases of sickness, having knowledge of medicine, besides being an excellent nurse. She responded to every call, regardless of personal discomfort, or the distance she had to travel, sometimes on horseback, and some times in a skiff or Indian canoe. No record kept was taken in the committee, although three or four voices in opposition to confirmation were heard on the viva voce vote. Nevertheless there was no doubt as to its result.

REHEARING ORDERED, CIRCUIT JUDGES ACTING BEFORE, MAY BE INELIGIBLE.

Reargument on Standard Oil and Tobacco Suits Decided Upon. Wickersham Surprised—Long Delay May Be Result.
