OFFICIAL DEATH-PROBE ON

Coroner Investigates Today Unknown Man's Killing on N. P.

Official investigation will be made today by Coroner Norden into the circumstances of the death of an unidentified man, who was killed while walking along the North Bank Railroad tracks yesterday at a point one-half mile beyond the Northern Pacific mill. Outbound passenger train No. 2 ran over the man, mauling his body and causing instant death.

According to V. Ennis, a trackwalker for the North Bank Road, who was 100 yards in advance of the dead man at the time of the accident, the engineer gave no warning of his approach and after running down the man, did not stop. The trainmen were notified of the accident by telegraph at Vancouver, but professed ignorance of the occurrence.

The names of the engineer and fireman have not been learned. They will be summoned before a Coroner's jury to show cause of their failure to give warning of the approach of the train. The dead man was evidently a laborer. He had no money on his person. There were no papers or marks on his clothing to indicate his identity.

Italians Marched From Camp. BAKER CITY, Or., April 12.—Five Italians last night were escorted from the camp of the Commercial Mining Company, which owns the Rainbow mine, in Stormon Basin, and warned never to return. They came to the mine yesterday to work in a wood camp and last night dynamite was strung along the side of

WHO GAVE TITLE?

Did Baker City Man First Call Williams "Grand Old Man"?

Information is wanted

W. J. Lachner Says He Applied This Expression to Late Judge in 1900—Judge Williams Himself Could Not Tell.

Who was the first to apply the title of "The Grand Old Man of Oregon" to George H. Williams?

Philip Miller, Member of Pioneer Family, who Died in Portland Sunday After His Retirement from Active Work in Eugene.

Mr. Lachner enclosed the following letter from W. S. Dunaway:

Chairman W. J. Lachner, Baker City, Or.—Portland, Or., Oct. 22, 1900.—Dear Sir: Judge George H. Williams has just called at headquarters to express his regret that he will be unable to appear at Baker City on the 27th, as his business engagements remain his attention here at that time.

Mr. Lachner recently wrote Judge Williams, asking him the question and received the following reply: "I was four days before Judge Williams' death."

Portland, Or., March 31, 1910.—My Dear Sir: I have received your letter of the 29th and in answer am very sorry to say that I am unable to give you the information as to when or by whom the title applied to me.

D. ELLERY TAKES FIRST AND SECOND PRIZES IN EXHIBIT.

Complete List of Honors Given Out in Report of W. B. Dyer, of Hood River.

Following is a complete list of the prize winners in the fifteenth annual exhibit of the Oregon Camera Club, which is in progress this week at Sleighty Hall.

EXHIBIT—First prize, No. 21, "The Artist," by D. Ellery; second prize, No. 22, "Vines," by D. Ellery. These appear to me as possessing most satisfaction in the exhibition.

Second prize, No. 10, "Winter Moonlight," by Henry Berger, Jr. One of the most successful landscapes, with sheep in that I have seen.

STILL LIFE—First prize, No. 9, still life, by Henry Berger, Jr. Especially strong in its lighting and handling of light.

Second prize, No. 112, played to a finish by H. J. Thorne.

ANIMALS—First prize, No. 81, "Contentment," by Albert J. Myers. A beautiful print, most harmoniously framed, nicely balanced, and possessing of masses and space.

Second prize, No. 126, "Tommy," F. J. Richardson. His picture, embracing more of composition, made it a little more of a dog.

FLOWER—First prize, No. 83, "Elephant Leaf," by Albert J. Myers. A beautiful piece of most attractive lighting.

Second prize, No. 108, "Iris and Anemone," by H. J. Thorne.

Third prize, No. 107, "A scene in the Deep," by Henry Berger, Jr. "A scene in the Deep," broad in treatment and full of feeling.

Second prize, No. 111, "The Breaker," by H. J. Thorne.

GENRES—First prize, No. 77, "Firelight," by Major T. W. Moore. Especially successful in composition, feeling and fine quality.

J. H. SMOKE'S BAIL FIXED Sheriff Has Clew to Explosive and Fuse Used at Lents.

A complaint charging John H. Smoke, charged by Mrs. Smoke with having dynamited the house of Edsworth Piper in Lents at 1 A. M. Sunday, with assault with intent to kill, was sworn out in the justice court by Mrs. Agnes Le Piper, who was in bed with Mrs. Smoke at the time of the explosion.

Smoke's bail was fixed at $500 cash, or a $1000 bond. He will have his preliminary hearing at 2 P. M. today.

Mrs. Piper charges Smoke with having assaulted both herself and Mrs. Smoke. The complaining witness is 55 years old and is the mother of the owner of the house.

Smoke at the time of the explosion, was blown up to the ceiling. Mrs. Piper charges Smoke with having assaulted both herself and Mrs. Smoke.
