LAND-FRAUD SUIT TO COVER STATE

Government's Action Monday May Lead to Thorough Probing All Land.

DUMMY ENTRYMEN USED

Plans Under Way to Inquire Into Means by Which Title to Every Acre of Timber Land Has Ever Been Obtained in Oregon.

Attempting to amend his bill of complaint against C. A. Smith, the Minne sota millionaire, United States District Attorney McCourt yesterday asked the Pederal Court to sustain the right of the Government to bring suit for the recovery of the value of any lind which may have been obtained through fraud, the statute of limitations preventing the statute of limitations preventing either criminal prosecution or action to set anide patents.

Should the court sustain the point made by the Government prosecutor, it is believed that the Department of Justice will have opened the way to inquire into the means by which every acre of timber land has ever been obtained in Oregon, and wherever it can be shown that fraudulent connivance entered into obtaining patent to lands, a suit may be entered for the actual value of the land.

The question has never before been submitted to any court of the country. It will be argued on Monday, ex-Govarnor John Lind, of Minnesota, and Attorney J. E. Ueland, of Minneapolis, being now in Portland to appear on behalf of the defendant.

Corruption Is Widespread.

"All the land frauds ever perpetrated in Oregon were not confined to Puter, Horace McKinley and a few of the men who were caught in the last few years," said District Attorney Mc-Court yesterday. "Corrupt men have obtained valuable lands for years past through the use of dummy entrymen, forging names to applications filed in the land offices of the state and after-ward transferring them by deeds which must have been secured in the same way.

"In many cases the Government has ascertained that men were hired to make the filings and to allow the use of their names; in other cases which have been investigated the men and women actually went upon the land and compiled with the law, after making a contract with a corporation by which they were to receive a certain amount of money, as was done in the Los Angeles conspiracy case.

"In that instance men were sent to Freek County to secure land for the Papific Furniture Company for an av-

Pacific Furniture Company for an average price of about $800. As soon as litle was granted deeds were passed.

"Heretofore the Government has been helpless to recover against such men and corporations unless suit to cancel the patent was begun within six years following its issue or a criminal infollowing its issue, or a criminal in-dictment was returned within three years after the act was committed."

Millions May Be Recovered.

It is believed to be the Intention of the Government to enter upon an investigation of the thousands of timber dialms which have been acquired from time to time by the larger corporations operating in the timber belt at $2.50 per acre. Many of the claims were extremely valuable, possessing a market price of from $5000 to $20.000, and should the Government be able to make a showing of fraud in connection with the original entries it would mean the recovery to the National Treasury of many millions of dollars.

In the recent investigation of the Oregon Lumber Company, resulting in the indictment of David Eccles, the Salt Lake millionaire; Grant Geddes, of Baker City, and a number of employes of the company upon charges of having obtained a number of timber claims through the use of dummles who were supplied with necessary funds by the management of the lumber company, proof of 45 such transgressions of the law is sald to have been obtained. through confessions from those who lent their assistance to the scheme, but the Government found itself unable to proceed because of the intervention of the statute of limitations. The indictreturned upon three overt acts found to be alive.

It is asserted that the investigation of Oregon land frauds which began with the advent of Fraucis J. Hency five years ago, has placed the Interior Department in possession of informa-tion which may effect a number of the large companies heretofore escaping

NATURE OF JUNIPER ISSUE

Man Indicted for Cutting Wood Contends It Is Not Timber.

Indicted by the Federal grand jury upon a charge of having illegally out 1200 cords of juniper wood from the slopes of Jackass Mountain, in Harney County, William Hanley yesterday appeared in the United States Court in company with his attorney, Colonel C. E. S. Wood, and served notice of his intention to fight the case upon the ground that Juniper trees are not timwithin the meaning of the law, and for that reason have no value.

The millionaire sheep-owner from Burns believes that juniper is an overgrown species of sagebrush and announces that the present case is the first instance of record in the United States where a citizen has been arrested for cutting it.

s dredge being operated for the drain-age of swamp lands and bogs located in part on the patented land owned by the ranch company and partially on the Government domain, and fully 25 the Government domain, and thiny Is-miles from Burns. The plan contem-plated the reclamation and settlement of the lands, the soil being extremely rich. Several miles of the ditch had been constructed and about 500 cords of been constructed and about 500 cords of the wood consumed before operations were stopped through action of a spe-cial agent of the Land Office in selzing the remaining 700 cords. Since taking possession of the big woodpile the Government on two oc-casions had advertised the material for sale, but no bids were submitted. The Government demands $4.50 a cord for all the juniper removed by the defend-ant.

Mr. Hanley last year paid the largest fine ever imposed in Oregon for unlawfully fencing the Government domain.

A Word About an Old Resident of Portland, Whom Many Remember.

Dr. Roland D. Grant, well-known here in the pulpit of the First Baptist Church some 15 years ago or more-man of marked individuality of character and of unusual fluency and power as a speaker, writes from Waterloo, N. H., that he expects to be in Portland in a few weeks for a visit. First he will visit his daughter, Mrs. William Dixon Hopcraft, 1451 Thurlow street, Vancouver, B. C., where he may be addressed now by Portland friends. The following by Dr. Grant appears in the Boston Watchman. It is worth reading:

by Dr. Grant appears in the Boston Watchman. It is worth reading:

Mystery is the sweetest power in life. When things are uncovered they are often unseen. Realism may be less real than the idea! the hunt more pleasure than the quarry. Things to be revealed should be half-concaled. The sholle power of mystery holds the heart, and without it there can be no religion. It is not only the "horns of light from God's hand" in Habbakuk, but more potent is the "hiding of his power." Fymbolic language only can long live. Even grandle is only telling part, and the nude in art harms little while the suggestive in art may ruin.

Desire is oft more desirable than attainment: hence the millionaire can give away his millions and pinch the poor for a penny's margin. This is why the total revelation shocks, while a suggestion holds us firm to our doing or our undoing. This is why the prodigal son found the "famine" when he had "all that was coming to him: "but he could not wait for it to "come" and so lost it by getting it all.

That mad world rushes ever on from the seen to the unseen; to the novelty which when possessed thereby ceases to be possessed, and at the end of "all there is," lies the desert. Alexander the Great could only weep for other worlds to conquer when all worlds had surrendered to him. The rich may have more gratification in their accumulation but no more satisfaction than the widow with her mire, for gratification is not satisfaction. If a man gratifies an appetite then it will never satisfy him. An appetite likelf will satisfy him. An appetite then it will never satisfy him. An appetite then it will never satisfy him. In passing down the river the Manzanita collided with the dredge and tug, which were proceeding without proper lights. The Manganita sank two miles below Waterford Light. Captain Patrick Byrne was her commander. After being raised the Manzanita was purchased at public auction by the Columbia Contract Company and was rechristened the Daniel Kern, but the changing of names failed to remove the hoodoo.

The night of August 18, 1899, the Daniel Kern again went to the bottom of the river in collision with the George W. Elder within one and a half miles of the scene of the first accident. The vessel is now employed on the jetty being constructed at Fort Stevens.

Defendant in Suit Petitions Court to Apportion Judgment.

Asking that the owners of the steamer Oregona be assessed with a portion of the $12,000 judgment recently awarded Virgil & Poland against the steamer Ruth, the Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company yesterday appeared in the United States Court with a petition which recounts the story of the accident and states that the Oregona displayed just as much carelossness in the matter as did the Ruth. The Oregona is the property of the Oregon City Transfer Poland lost both legs at Clackamas Rapids on October 15, 1907, by becoming entangled in a cable which had been picked up by the wheel of the Ruth. Both boats were bound for Salem and in attempting to pass the rapids put out cables to attach to a "dead man" on the bank. The Oregona was in the lead and finding her cables short was compelled to drop down stream. When alongside the Ruth, the latter attempted to steam past the Oregona and picked up the

TUG SUNK, U. S. PAID HOW HE CURED Manzanita Case Lost by Port BLOOD POSON

I didn't find out I had contracted Contagious Blood Poison until it had made considerable headway. I had heard a great deal of the value of S. S. S. as a blood medicine, in fact had a friend who had cured himself of the same disease through its use, so as soon as I discovered the nature of my trouble I began taking it. I got along splendidly from the very first and my recovery was steady. When I first began the use of 8. S. S. my face was so full of sores and eruptions that I could not shave. Other parts of my body were similarly affected, but there is now not a blotch, pimple or any other sign of the disease. I was cured by S. S. S. and I know I am cured to stay cured as this was several years ago. There is nothing that equals S. S. S. for Contagious Blood Poison and I always recommend it in such cases. WALTER WEBER.

No. 430 % Fourth St., Evansville, Ind.

The acknowledged virtue of S. S. S. as a blood remedy induced Mr. Weber to commence its use when he found he had contracted Contagious Blood Poison. The good results he obtained is just another demonstration of its value as a cure for this disease.

Contagious Blood Poison is the most powerful and destructive of all blood disorders. Its virus permeates the entire circulation and this explains why any one afflicted with this malady usually finds its symptoms manifested in every portion of the body. From head to foot the insidious poison breaks forth. The hair and eyebrows come out, the mouth and throat ulcerate, skin eruptions and sores and ulcers break out on the body, the bones ache, glands in the groin swell, and frequently the nails on hands and feet are affected.

The only possible way to cure Contagious Blood Poison is to remove the cause by purifying the blood. This is just what S. S. S. does; and it is the only medicine that absolutely and thoroughly cleanses the circulation of every particle of the germs and virus of the disease. Mercury, Potash, etc., are often used by despairing sufferers in the hope that such strong treatment will kill the poison. But this cannot be done; the disease may be checked temporarily and the symptoms improved, but the old poison is slumbering in the blood, and when the treatment is left off the disease always returns.

The ability of S. S. S. to cure Contagious Blood Poison comes from its blood purifying properties. It goes into the circulation and removes every trace of the poison, makes the blood pure and healthy, and leaves no dregs of the virus to break out later on. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, each of which has a direct and specific effect in purifying the blood. S. S. S. does not contain a particle of mineral in any form to upset the stomach, affect the bowels, or inflame any of the delicate membranes of the body. It is Nature's blood purifier, potent and healthful, and so valuable are its tonic effects that when S. S. S. has rid the circulation of the Contagious Blood Poison the entire system is left in fine physical condition. We want to help every Contagious Blood Poison sufferer to get well, and for this purpose we have prepared a special book for Home Treatment. We will mail this book with any special medical advice free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.
