

BUSINESS MEN TO INVAD KLAMATH

Special Train Will Carry 100 on Visit to Many Cities in Southern Oregon.

TIME WILL BE WELL USED

Four Days Will Be Required for "Get-Acquainted" Jaunt, and All Long Runs Will Be Made at Night—Many Sign for Trip.

To cement business friendships and to learn in just what way the merchants of Portland can assist their brothers of the Willamette, Umpqua and Rogue River valleys and of Southern Oregon is the purpose of an excursion that will leave Portland Monday, April 18.

Trade Bonds Strengthened.

At Klamath Falls the excursion will be largely in the nature of a congratulatory visit on the completion of the railroad, and it will be an invitation to the Klamath men to tell the Portlanders their troubles and to induce them to throw their business, where possible, to Portland, the logical center.

The business men who are going on the excursion are representatives of large business interests. Prominent bankers, lawyers, wholesalers, jobbers and retailers in all lines make up the list.

Other Excursions Run.

Previous excursions have been run by the club lasting as long as the coming one, but by far the greater number have been one and two-day jaunts.

Leaving Portland in the evening of Monday, April 25, dinner will be served on the train and the evening spent at Salem. Leaving Salem after a renewal of acquaintanceship with the men of that city, a night run will be made to Grants Pass, where the morning will be spent.

SEVERAL SAW JAP DUEL

MAN DYING SAYS COUNTRYMEN WITNESSED GORY FIGHT.

None but Combatants Fired Pistols, Bystanders Didn't Interfere, Is Belief of the Police.

That several other Japanese witnessed the duel between the countrymen Wednesday night, but neither took part nor interfered, is the belief of detectives investigating the mortal combat.

The duel was fought in the clubrooms of the Japanese labor organization at 271 Everett street. The dead man, O. Murakami, was manager of the club, and a dispute over money in connection with the affairs of the organization, it was learned, caused the trouble. Murakami has a police record. He was arrested with three other Japanese on a charge of attempted extortion of money from a Chinaman three months ago. The charges were dismissed.

For the first time since the shooting, Ogata, the other duelist, who lies in a critical condition at Good Samaritan hospital, talked yesterday afternoon to Assistant District Attorney Hennessy, District Attorney King, and Attorney Henry King. The conversation, which was brief and unsatisfactory, owing to his weakness, was carried on through an interpreter. Ogata said there were several men in the room at the time, though he did not know whether any of them shot. He said he only fired one shot. Murakami was shot only once, through the heart. This disposed of the belief that others participated in the affair. Ogata was shot twice. The wounds in his breast many prove fatal.

Only one revolver has been found. It was the one used by Murakami, and four of the chambers were found fired. The revolver used by Ogata was not discovered.

K. Hama, cook at the club; G. Hirata, of the Mikado Hotel; S. Kawasaki, of 33 North Fourth street, and K. Ota, of 227 Everett street, are held as witnesses. Kawasaki was yesterday released on bail. The police promised to appear at Detective Headquarters today to give his version of the tragedy.

10,000 PENNIES TO PAY

PUBLIC OF HOBOKEN TO SHOW ITS DISAPPROVAL OF FINE.

Mayor Punished for Contempt of Court, but Verdict Does Not Appeal to People.

NEW YORK, April 14.—Ten thousand men, women and children in Hoboken are to be asked to contribute one cent each to pay the fine of $100 imposed upon Mayor George Gonzalez by Judge John A. Blair for contempt of court.

This popular subscription is not sought because the Mayor is unable to pay the fine, for he is a wealthy man, but as a protest against the decision of Judge Blair. The promoters of the plan say that when Mayor Gonzalez went before the grand jury to obtain the indictment of Frederick Stogeliter, former building inspector, for alleged embezzlement, he did so as Mayor, in the interest of the city, and that whatever took place in the grand jury room was the result of the Mayor's desire to act for the benefit of the city.

For that reason it is said it is proper for the people to register their disapproval of the action of the court by contributing to a general fund to pay the fine.

If the Supreme Court shall sustain the decision of Judge Blair when the case is heard on appeal the contributed pennies will be used to pay the fine. If the decision is set aside the money will go to charity.

Alfred Gahagan, Frederick Winchell, Robert Moore, Ernest F. Muzzi, Thomas P. Carr and William L. Driffin are in charge of the fund and will receive all contributions. Fifty-seven pennies can be posted on one yard of tape. The committee will at once purchase 176 yards.

When Mayor Gonzalez was asked about the plan to pay his fine he said he was much pleased that the people felt that he was representing them before the grand jury. He had not been consulted about the popular subscription, but thought it an excellent way for the people to express their feeling.

DEAL IN MINES BIG

Development Company Acquires Placers in Mexico.

12,000 ACRES INVOLVED

Many Portland Investors Hold Stock in Enterprise in Which W. E. Rogers and O. F. Greely Sell Out Their Interests.

Walter C. Watrous, of Portland, figured prominently in one of the largest mining deals ever negotiated in the Northwest, when he promoted a deal this week in Spokane for W. E. Rogers and O. F. Greely, of Altar, Mexico, involving a payment to his clients of more than $1,900,000.

The properties consist of large holdings in Mexico and were bought by R. K. Nell, who is now preparing to float a development company with a capital of $12,500,000. The deal is based on what is said to be the richest and largest placer deposits known in the world. The deal was financed entirely in Spokane by Mr. Nell and Mr. Watrous. The property is known as the Paloma placers and is in the Altar mining district in Sonora. It consists of 12,000 acres in one holding, which was acquired piecemeal during the last 12 months by Messrs. Rogers and Greely. The property has been worked intermittently by Yaquis since the Spanish conquest and has produced in conjunction with a few similar properties of less area, nearly $100,000,000 in gold, according to historical records. The Paloma placers are 15 miles east of the Gulf of California and 25 miles from Fort Lohos and are 150 miles south of the international boundary line. They lie 600 feet above sea level, below and south and west of a range of hills composed of porphyry, some with veins of gold-bearing quartz, on which are several producing mines. They include gravel deposits extending over hundreds of acres that have been worked in a crude way with little water to a false bedrock by the Yaquis, and a large tract of virgin ground which the former owners insist is just as rich.

The completion of the transaction was due largely to a report submitted by Mr. S. Dudley, a mining expert, who had made a thorough examination. Mr. Dudley has acted as the expert for the Ladd interest and on other properties on many occasions.

The land will now be developed by the new company, which is being incorporated as the Nell Development Company. Mr. Nell has announced a campaign of development more extensive than anything of the kind ever undertaken in Mexico. The property affected was not owned outright by Messrs. Rogers and Greely, but their stock in the holdings was sold. This is, however, the majority of the stock. The rest has been sold in various parts of the world and there are many stockholders in Portland.

GIRL BITTEN; MAKES PLEA

Child Bids Policeman Not to Slay Animal.

NEW YORK, April 14.—Although severely bitten on the right leg by a vagrant dog with which she sought to make friends, Thaisa D. Griffin, 11 years old, of 37 Montauk avenue, Brooklyn, tried to save the animal from being shot yesterday by a policeman. She patted the animal on the head upon its approach. With a snarl it sank its teeth into her leg. The child screamed and the dog ran off with several boys and men in pursuit. The men cornered the dog in a lot at Crescent and Magenta streets. Policeman Christopher Scrivens of the Liberty avenue station ran up, and hearing the circumstances prepared to shoot the dog, which with hair bristles and fangs showing backed up against a fence in the lot. The child's uncle, Henry F. Mackey, of 117 Weldon street, had also come to the scene, and he urged that the dog be shot. Then the little girl pleaded for the dog's life, but it was thought best for the protection of the community to kill the animal, and the policeman put two bullets in the dog's head. The child was then treated by a physician.

Bad Debt Collector Attached.

VANCOUVER, Wash., April 14.—(Special)—L. R. Cantonwine, formerly of Portland, a bad debt collector, who has been operating an adjustment company in Vancouver since 1901, has been made defendant in a suit for $102 in the Superior Court by W. R. Booth, over a note. A writ of attachment on the office furniture of Cantonwine was issued.

DON'T HESITATE—ACT!

For while you hesitate, the shrewd investors of the city are acting. They realize that if they act before April 15, they can save from $200 to $300 on every lot they purchase in Laurelhurst. Remember—

You Have Only 1 More Day Prices Advance April 15

$200 to $300 Per Lot in the N. E. Quarter

STUDY THE PHOTO CAREFULLY

This Is a Photo of the Sales Plat of the Northwest Quarter of Laurelhurst—Tags Show the Sales in This Section One Month Ago

Since this photo was made almost the entire balance of these lots has been sold. There are only a few scattering ones remaining. It is almost the same in the Northeast quarter, which is more than three-quarters sold. But this Northeast quarter contains a number of the most slightly residence lots in the entire city. The city is improving every street NOW—aspalt streets 28 to 48 feet wide, cement walks, 9-foot parking strips, shade trees, cluster lights, large-sized gas, water and sewer mains, etc. It is in this Northeast quarter that we shall advance the prices on April 15, from $200 to $300 per lot. Act now, don't temporize, for while you delay your opportunity is slipping from you forever. Purchase a $1000 lot now—$100 cash does it, and the balance is payable in monthly installments of only $20.00. On April 15 the value of that lot is advanced to $1200 or $1300 and you have made $100 earn from $200 to $300 in one day.
