

WEZLER SEEN ON TRAIN IN NORTH?

Young Schulz Sure He Caught Glimpse of Man Charged With Mother's Murder.

TRAIL IS HOT FOR A WHILE

Telegram From McIntosh Warns Sheriff, but Suspect Has Chance for Escape Before Officers Reach Depot Yards.

TACOMA, Wash., April 14.—(Special.)—The hunt being conducted by the police and Sheriff's office for Charles J. Wezler, Portland, wanted for the murder of Mrs. Fredericka Schulz, grew exciting this afternoon. For a time the officers had visions of getting him.

The pursuit was started by Henry Schulz, a son of the murdered woman, who came here from San Francisco to attend the funeral yesterday. Schulz was on the Shasta Limited yesterday on his way to Portland. He knows Wezler well.

At McIntosh station, 35 miles south of Tacoma, at 2 P. M., happening to glance out the car window, Schulz saw a man he is sure was Wezler looking out the window of a north-bound train, a special "show" section of No. 208, bound to Tacoma. Rushing out of his train, Schulz was not in time, however, to get on the special. He at once went to the telegraph office at McIntosh and wired to Sheriff Morris.

The "show" section of the train ran direct into the Half-Moon yards, and the telegram arrived too late for the Sheriff's men to intercept it until after it had arrived. Inquiry from the telegraph company brought the assertion that none but members of their company had been on the train.

Schulz returned to Tacoma on the next train, and insists absolutely he saw Wezler on that train at McIntosh.

Every steamship on the Alaska Coast has been notified by wireless of the crime, the description of Wezler and the $750 reward being offered.

Other developments today in the search for the murderer of Mrs. Schulz are a verdict by the coroner's jury reached at noon, finding Charles J. Wezler guilty of the crime; the story of Eugene S. Twadell, telling of a conversation with the murderer while the latter was on his way to kill Mrs. Schulz; confirmation of the theory that Wezler is a user of drugs, and a positive statement of Inspector H. A. Axette, of the Tacoma Railway & Power Company, that he saw Wezler in Tacoma later than 4:30 o'clock P. M. on the day of the murder. If Axette's belief is correct, the supposition that Wezler had a confederate in Portland seems established.

Eugene S. Twadell, a carpenter, said he rode on the steamer to Clatsop with Wezler a short time before the murder.

ent line or establish a steamboat line of their own.

Attorney Harold M. Sawyer, of Portland, delivering the last address of the afternoon, reviewed freight conditions in the Willamette Valley when the Southern Pacific and O. R. & N. were competing lines and the former company maintained a line of boats on the Willamette River.

He said an independent steamboat line would not remedy the existing condition, and told the convention its remedy lay in going before the Interstate Commerce Commission. He said a rate which has existed as long as the old 10-cent arbitrary rate came to be regarded in law as a reasonable rate which the railroad company was bound to maintain.

Captain A. B. Graham, of the Oregon City Transportation Company, and Harvey E. Lounsbury, of the Southern Pacific, attended. Oswald West, of the State Railroad Commission, was another interested spectator of the afternoon's proceedings.

Organizers Are Named.

The Open River Convention named the following committee to perfect the permanent organization of the Open River Association:

H. P. Thielson and Max O. Buren, of Salem; Victor Holt and F. A. Rankin, of Eugene; C. C. Hazleton and A. L. Briggs, of Cottage Grove; L. E. Hamilton and H. H. Hewitt, of Albany; T. C. Ryan and W. A. Siewman, of Oregon City; H. E. Hilleary and H. Wayne Standa, of Brownsville; E. M. Fanning and C. H. Lehman, of Sheridan; A. B. Fletcher, of McMinnville; E. C. Gilmer, of Portland; M. J. Lee, of Canby, and T. L. Dugger, of Seilo.

GIRL WOULD JOIN MARINES

Applicant Flees, However, When Told of First Requirement.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., April 14.—(Special.)—With all the assurance of the stronger sex, and with a determination to enlist that would have won for her, had not tests prescribed by Uncle Sam included a "stripping down" requirement, a young lady entered the local office of the military branch of the Navy today and applied for admission in the marines.

PROMOTERS INSURE FIGHTERS

$20,000 Policy Obtained in Case Accident Bars Contest.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—(Special.)—From today until it is time for James J. Fierries and Jack Johnson to step into the ring at Emeryville the afternoon of July 4, the two heavyweights will carry insurance that will guarantee Rickard and Gleason against loss in event that any accident happens to either fighter.

The insurance was placed yesterday through local agents by which the promoters will be compensated in the sum of $20,000 if there should be any hitch in the arrangements. This guarantee will be carried by Lloyd's of London, and for the insurance, Tex Rickard has already written his check for $2,000.

When Rickard announced a month ago that he would insure the fighters to protect himself against loss, there were many who thought it was a matter of present gain. But Rickard was in earnest. He figured out, as would any business man, that if either fighter should die or be taken sick or suffer an accident that would call off the big fight, he would be out the money used in the way of financing the battle.

Before the duo steps into the ring, Rickard estimates that he will have spent largely in excess of the $30,000 insurance he is carrying, but he says that will be something in the way of protection. As the policy is written, $30,000 will be paid only in event of the fight being called off on July 4 due to accident to either man or sickness or death. The promoters are to be paid only a sufficient amount to cover their losses to the date of postponement. For this protection, Rickard had to pay at the rate of 7 1/2 per cent.

GENERAL PENSIONS PROVIDED

Bill Would Give All Veterans $30 a Month; Officers, More.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—A pension bill of sweeping provisions under which all surviving volunteer officers of the United States Army who served six months or more would receive retired pay according to length of service, and all honorably discharged enlisted men over 70 years old and suffering a certain degree of disability, would receive a straight pension of $30 a month, was reported to the House yesterday by Representative Prince, of Illinois, from the committee on military affairs.

The scale of retired pay for volunteer officers as fixed by the bill is one-third of the initial active pay of corresponding regular officers for those who served two years or more, and for those of less time of service the pay is in proportion. Officers who lost an eye or limb in the line of duty or incurred disability as prisoners of war would receive the full benefits of the act without regard to length of service. No officer who served more than six months would receive less than $600 per annum and no officer may receive more than two-thirds of the present pay of a Captain of the regular Army.

A Healthful Hint.

John D. Rockefeller would go broke if he should spend his entire income trying to prepare a better medicine than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for diarrhoea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is simply impossible, and so says every one that has used it. Sold by all dealers.

JOYS OF UNCOOKED FOOD

Raw Fooder Finds Health Vastly Better Without Meat.

Good Housekeeping.

To the uninitiated it sounds brutal—raw food! But the raw fooder's answer is: "How can you eat meat raw?" But the uncooked food devotees eat no meat; they find their health is vastly better without it. They eat a variety of all manner of uncooked things that are really marvellously tempting. The raw fooder people never have colds, fever, stomach trouble, rapid liver, nervousness, or a lot of common, everyday ailments that the out-of-date, ordinary cooked food enters into.

The amount that a raw fooder eats at a meal is small. He is quickly filled. The reason is that the stomach seems to know its own limit. The amount of the elemental things from which it draws its strength, and telegraphs the fact to the taste, and the eater finds himself satisfied. On the other hand, with cooked food he goes on eating and eating, and the stomach delays its message, as it has to receive a vast bulk of uncooked material.

Raw onions are esteemed highly as a cleanser of the system, as well as a fortifier in other ways, and onion is blended into things so subtly that one does not detect its flavor. For example, a dish is made from the soft, inside part of figs, grated raw onion, olive oil, and grated nuts, in the proportion of one part fig, one part onion, two parts olive oil, one part grated Brazil or pistachio nuts, and one part lemon juice. The ingredients are carefully blended, and the taste of the onion is not detected. The flavor of the dish is delicious.

The raw fooder dotes on raw vegetables, and one of his favorite ways of preparing them is in the form of salads.

A favorite dessert with the raw fooder is made of uncooked put cheese with a large quantity of seeded, chopped raisins beaten into it, and a generous amount of orange and lemon juice and a very little of the grated orange peel. This is rich and nutritious, and of a novel and delicious flavor.

LOCKS IMPRISON VALLEY

The locks to loosen the shackles of the incus that now holds the Valley.

Southern Pacific Scored.

Following Mr. McFadden's speech the locks were discussed briefly by E. Hofer, of Salem, O. M. Kern, of Cottage Grove, and J. H. Cartwright, of Harrisburg. Mr. Cartwright attacked the Southern Pacific without mincing words, and declared the railroad not only raised rates, but impeded navigation of the Willamette.

L. H. Bingham, of Eugene, State Senator from Lane County, spoke on "An Open River From Portland South." He said that the manner in which the state had allowed a private corporation to control the locks at Oregon City was the worst blot on Oregon's record.

J. D. Matlock, Mayor of Eugene, T. F. Rolly, of Oregon City, and Max O'Brien, of Salem, spoke on the same subject.

H. S. Gile, of Salem, spoke on "Resurrection of the Old Freight Rate." He said there was no competition by river now, and that this fact caused the abolishment of the old arbitrary freight rate. To get the old rate again, he said, the valley must restore the conditions which gave it and furnish river competition, and valley business men must buy out the pres-

MARK TWAIN IS FAILING

HUMORIST RETURNS FROM BERMUDA WITH WEAK HEART

Angina Pectoris, Aggravated by Grief at Daughter's Death, Endangers His Life.

NEW YORK, April 14.—Samuel L. Clemens (Mark Twain) returned to New York from Bermuda today. It was said when the steamer Oceana, on which he was a passenger, came into port, that Mr. Clemens was confined to his berth, suffering from heart trouble and that he had been indisposed of court will begin April 25. At that during the entire trip northward. Judge Harris will be here to preside, as the cases against the local railway belonging to the Southern Pacific will be heard. Judge Coke was formerly interested as attorney and consequently cannot hear the cases. The suits against the railroad have been set for several other terms, but did not come to trial, always being continued.

HUG POINT ROAD READY

Seaside No Longer Obligated to Wait for Tide to Travel.

SEASIDE, Or., April 14.—(Special.)—Hug Point is no longer a terror to those traveling the road between here and Nehalem. The county has completed the work of cutting a roadbed out of the solid rock at this point. The road, formerly passable only at low tide, can now be traveled at high water without danger.

Contractor A. W. Duncan and his crew of workmen arrived here tonight and the mail stage to Nehalem will leave tomorrow without the usual precaution of timing its departure by the tides. The mail will now arrive at Nehalem several hours earlier.

The rock crusher purchased by Clatsop County for the improvement of local streets and roads was received here today.

Surveyors have established the course of the county road running through the town limits, and the road is to be macadamized for several miles.

Illhece Club at Salem Is Loomed.

SALEM, Or., April 14.—(Special.)—Salem's exclusive organization, the Ill-whose daughter last Winter told severely on him, went to Bermuda in the hope of regaining his health.

Dr. Edward S. Quintard, who has been Mr. Clemens' family physician for years, was summoned by wireless to meet the Oceana at the pier. He was accompanied by Dr. Robert H. Hatsey.

"I have made merely a superficial examination of Mr. Clemens," said Dr. Quintard. "When he gets home we will make a thorough examination of his heart. He has angina pectoris, which is a dangerous state for him to be in. He looks much better than I expected. He is now enjoying a refreshing sleep."

Court at Marshfield April 18.

MARSHFIELD, Or., April 14.—(Special.)—An adjourned term of the Circuit Court will convene at Coquille City April 18 with Judge Coke, of this county, presiding. The regular term pleted the work of cutting a roadbed out of the solid rock at this point. The road, formerly passable only at low tide, can now be traveled at high water without danger.

Contractor A. W. Duncan and his crew of workmen arrived here tonight and the mail stage to Nehalem will leave tomorrow without the usual precaution of timing its departure by the tides. The mail will now arrive at Nehalem several hours earlier.
