MINING MEN CRITICS

FORESTRY LAW OFFICER IS PLED WITH QUESTIONS.

Members of Oregon Branch of American Mining Congress Addressed by W. F. Staley.

A defense of the forestry bureau in the administration of its affairs in connection with mining projects and an explanation of laws governing their operation in forest reservations, was made last night at a special meeting of the Oregon branch of the American Mining Congress by W. F. Staley, chief law officer of this district. With Mr. Staley was his assistant, D. F. McGowan, supervisor of the Columbia reservation, H. O. Stabler, and C. S. Judd, Assistant District Forester. Immediately following Mr. Staley's address, the assembled mine operators, including President J. Frank Watson, of the Congress, fired volleys of questions at him on technicalities, which kept the forestry officials busy answering for half an hour. There was a display of some heat in the questions propounded and no little open criticism of individual rulings of the bureau with reference to mining claims in this and other districts was offered. In answering one of these questions, in which he explained the forestry officials were handicapped by the law on the question, Mr. Staley grew apologetic of the law. He said in some instances, though manifestly unfair, the forestry officials were forced to take action because of the law governing the case. On one whole the meeting was generally conceded to have been of value to both parties concerned. A vote of thanks was extended to the law officer and his associates for the address and answers to questions. "The forestry bureau welcomes fair

CRITICISM

DYNAMITE USED TO SCARE

Neighbors of Beaverton Farmer Do Not Believe Murder Intended.

BEAVERTON, Or., April 15.—(Special.)—With the evident intention of intimidating Tom J. Allen, a Beaverton farmer, an unknown man, supposed to be his secret enemy, exploded a stick of dynamite about 50 yards from his house at 9 o'clock Thursday night, causing one window in his house to be broken. Allen's neighbors say he is a man of pronounced opinions on many things, and his set views have aroused resentment among many with whom he is associated in Beaverton. It is the general opinion among these neighbors that whoever exploded the powder did not really intend to cause Allen physical harm, but simply wanted to intimidate him. The distance of the explosion from the house is taken as proof of this. "With the purpose of tracking down his unknown enemy, Allen sent to Salem yesterday to the State Penitentiary for a bloodhound, but the animal failed to locate the boom thrower. With the exception of breaking the window in the Allen house the dynamite did no serious damage. It was of considerable strength, however, and startled the people throughout the neighborhood. Edward's Brother to Visit Chicago. CHICAGO, April 15.—Reservations were made at a Chicago hotel today for the Duke of Connaught, brother of King Edward, who expects to visit Chicago.

PAVING IS DOWN NOTCH

BITULITHIC BIDS ARE CUT TO $1.85 YARD.

Offers for Several Large Contracts Are Received—Only One Firm After Asphalt Work.

When bids were opened at the meeting of the City Executive Board yesterday afternoon, it was disclosed that the Warren Construction Company and the Pacific Bridge Company, bidders of bitulithic pavement, had reduced the price of their material from $2 to $1.85 a square yard. This is in accordance with an agreement made between them and Mayor Simon last week. Asphalt bids were $1.90 a square yard, and there was no competitor, the Warren-Quinlan and the Oregon Independent Company having no bids in. It begins to look as though the Barber Asphalt Paving Company has completely routed its rivals, who have been threatening to invade the field, but who to date have done little but threaten. This applies especially to the Warren-Quinlan Company, as the other concern has secured a few contracts. Haseam is costing $1.75 a yard at its lowest rate, and Mayor Simon wants a reduction before long in this kind of work. For the first time, Edwood Wiles put in a bid for laying bitulithic, quoting the same rates as the other bidders on this work. Among the large jobs bid upon by the bitulithic people are East Couch and other streets, a district improvement, aggregating $2,000; Alberta and others, $4,000; Barber Asphalt Company on Saver street, $34,000. A Powell-street sewer system bid by A. Lind was $25,000, and another branch of the same by Jeffrey & Buffum was $24,000. All were referred to the sewer

CASHIER GONE, CASH SHORT

Western Union Employee Missing for Two Weeks.

R. M. Taylor, aged 28, for the past year cashier for the Western Union Telegraph Company, is missing from his work and his boarding-place under circumstances which have given rise to the report that he has embezzled the company's money. The police have been asked to locate him, for it is alleged, his accounts are short to the extent of $200. Local officials refuse to divulge any information about the case. It is known that Taylor has been missing for two weeks, and that experts are working on his books. Friends of Taylor in the city assert that he did not take any money for his own use, but finding his books involved and being unable to straighten them out, he got frightened and ran away. Taylor lived at the Yorks Hotel, corner of Twelfth and Burnside streets, but he removed all his belongings and paid his bill there two weeks ago. Since that time all trace of him is lost. Taylor formerly worked in the office of the company in Tacoma, and also in Seattle. He came to Portland from the position of bookkeeper in one of the Sound cities, and was promoted to the position of cashier here.
