SOUTH END HELPS

Committee Will Ask Mayor to Hasten East Side Vacations.

BOULEVARD THEIR OBJECT

As Part of Exchange for Freight Terminals, Railroad Company Offers Valuable Property in South Portland to City.

This morning a committee of ten from the South Portland Boosters will call upon the Mayor and the special committee of the City Council, named to consider the vacation of the streets asked by the Southern Pacific Company for freight terminals on the East Side. It will urge the immediate vacation of these streets.

The South Portland Boosters have held several meetings recently to discuss the street vacations and the offer made by the railroad company to exchange as part of the value of these streets a portion of its holdings in South Portland which is needed to complete the South Portland boulevard. This boulevard lies near to the heart of South Portland, and is one of the improvements the South Portland Boosters have pledged themselves to work for.

Included in the exchange offered by the railroad company for the privilege of building freight terminals on the East Side is the proffer of from 35 to 66 acres just north of the Terwilliger property which lies in the path of the proposed boulevard. This is estimated to be worth not less than $100,000, and the South Portland clubs, the Boosters, and the organization at Fulton, are extremely anxious that it be secured.

M. J. Clohesy is authority for the statements of the desire in these clubs, and told about the meetings that had been held. On April 14 the first meeting was called, he said, and a week later another, at which the committee headed by C. H. Feldman was appointed to wait upon the Mayor and the special committee. Between these two meetings another committee had gone to the East Side and looked over the streets which are desired for freight purposes and then at the property in the South End offered as part of the exchange. The report made at the second meeting was strongly in favor of the vacation.

Mr. Clohesy took occasion to call attention to the work of the South Portland Boosters, which he said included obtaining cluster rights for the streets in that end of the city, securing much paving, and improving the looks of the section materially. He also remarked that the spirit manifested by a certain clique of the

FATHER'S WORK FOLLOWED

Orphans' School Donor Learned Philanthropy From Parent.

Samuel Miller, who has given a 30-acre tract near George in Eastern Clackamas County toward the establishment of an orphan's home and industrial school, is following in the footsteps of his father in work along that line. His father was engaged in missionary work and the son Samuel was with him for many years, and believes in a literal interpretation of the Scripture, which says: "Give all thou hast to the poor." He owned about 300 acres, and has reserved 30 acres for this institution, which he desires to see established. The land is ten miles from the O. W. P., but is said to be very richly and fitted for the purpose. The school as planned will be run in connection with the Orphans' Home and will be for the purpose of developing an independent spirit on the part of the orphans who may be in the home. They will be taught to cultivate the soil. At present the land is somewhat wild, but the intention is to have it cleared. By some it is thought the land is too far away for the purpose, and in the end it may be sold and another location secured nearer Portland. Mr. Miller, who gave the land, is a resident of Montavilla.

PREACHERS LABOR TODAY

Pastors and Laymen Become Carpenters to Aid Revival Tabernacle.

Pastors and laymen from East Side churches will assemble this morning in Hawthorne Park with hammer and saws to assist in completing the tabernacle which is being erected there for the union meeting to start next Sunday. Unskilled in the use of the weapons of a carpenter there may be some mashed fingers, or torn hands from the saws, but no profanity will be tolerated on the premises, no matter how great the provocation. The women of the churches will be invited to furnish luncheon at noon. Rev. J. F. Smith, chairman of the general committee, will be foreman-in-chief and he says that he will insist on good work being done. His assistant superintendent will be Rev. E. Nelson Allen, secretary of the general committee. Rev. W. T. Euster will be boss carpenter and Rev. Clarence True Wilson has been elected water carrier. Rev. J. D. Knodell, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, will be his assistant.

Every family and especially those who reside in the country should be provided at all times with a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment. There is no telling when it may be wanted in case of an accident or emergency. It is most excellent in all cases of rheumatism, sprains and bruises. Sold by all dealers. To remove soreness from the face after shaving, apply a little Santeptic Lotion.

SPEAKERS ARE BUSY

Day Spent by Excursionists in Preparation.

'GET ACQUAINTED,' SLOGAN

Commercial Club Party of Willamette Valley and Southern Oregon Points.

Enthusiasm was the outstanding feature of all previous business men's excursions headed by the Portland Commercial Club, but in no instance was there such an unlimited amount of enthusiastic energy as is being expended on the excursion to Southern Oregon which leaves tonight from the Union Depot at 5.35.

Loaded with literature about the state to back up the remarks made concerning the advertising necessary for the state, all the famous spellbinders of the Commercial Club were yesterday weaving together the skeins of oratory that will be unwound on the trip. First and last the excursion will be one of oratory and acquaintance-ship. Along the line, too, brief and pithy speeches are being prepared by the welcoming hosts. The Portland business men have felt for a long time that a great country has been opened in Southern Oregon, with which Portland has not an adequate acquaintance. They feel that an excursion, such as this, will make the details of the country more familiar to the average man about town. "Know us; we want to know you," is the slogan of the trip. The turning point in the journey will be Klamath Falls. It is so recently that Klamath was joined with Portland by the railroad that congratulations will be in order on the new depot and tracks. All the big jumps are to be made at night and wherever possible stays will be extended to the last moment. However, it has been made quite clear that to avoid any misunderstandings the trains must depart on schedule time. Salem will be the only town made in the trip tonight. The train will arrive there at 7.25, leaving at 10.30 P. M. The night will be spent en route to Grants Pass, from which the following itinerary will be kept up: April 26—Arrive Grants Pass 8:40 A. M. BETROTHAL IS ANNOUNCED

Friends of Miss Lippit and Henry M. Goldsmith Attend Reception.

To celebrate the betrothal of Miss Sybil Lippit, daughter of Julius Lippit, of Portland, to Henry Mark Goldsmith, of San Francisco, a largely-attended reception was held yesterday afternoon at Mr. Lippit's residence, 70 Lucretia street. More than 300 prominent members of Jewish society in Portland called to offer congratulations. Mr. Goldsmith is a nephew of Representative Julius Kahn, of San Francisco. He is a junior partner of M. and J. Brandenstein, of San Francisco, the largest firm of tea importers in America. Mr. Goldsmith is extremely wealthy and Miss Lippit is considered the most wealthy young Jewish heiress in Portland. The health of the young couple was enthusiastically drunk and the reception continued until a late hour last night. Roses and carnations were prominent in the decorations. While no date has been set for the wedding, it is announced it probably will occur early in the Fall.

Music Was "Family Style."

Music "family style" was given at a banquet for the Chinese merchants held at Second and Pine streets last night. When the Celestials asked permission of Captain Bailey to hold a little dinner they told of wanting to entertain their guests with some musical selections. Known among them as "family style," the police captain professed ignorance of that particular brand of music, but granted the desired permission with the stipulation that if "family style" music proved obnoxious the police would quickly quarantine the noise-makers.

SPEEDERS ARE CAUGHT

MOTORCYCLE "COPS" HAVE MOST SUCCESSFUL DAY.

Arrest of Twenty-seven Autoists Violating Ordinance Impresses Police With New Way.

Mounted on motorcycles, two police officers yesterday made the biggest catch of automobile speed violators ever made in a single day in Portland. From noon to 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, 27 were overtaken and notified to appear in Municipal Court this morning.

Among those caught in the dragnet was Councilman Vaughn. Two others were David Honeyman and Fred Jennings, prominent business men.

Numerous and constant for two years past have been complaints made to police headquarters of violations of the speed ordinance. Many have come from Union avenue and Belmont street. Mounted Sergeant Parker, who has general charge of "speeding," yesterday asked if he might secure a motorcycle and try that plan. Patrolman Simms was detailed to assist him. The officers stationed themselves on the streets most traveled by autoists and when approaching automobiles appeared to be exceeding the limit, they started their machines and intercepted them. This plan has been adopted by all the larger cities of the country and it is probable that motorcycles may be purchased for the local department.
