AMUSEMENTS.

BUNGALOW THEATER (Twelfth and Morrison)—Ois Skinner, in "Your Humble Servant." This afternoon at 2:15 and tonight at 8:15.
ORPHEUM THEATER (Morrison, between Sixth and Seventh)—Vaudeville. This afternoon at 2:15, and tonight at 8:15.
RAKER THEATER (Third, between Hill and Taylor)—"The Gingerbread Man." This afternoon at 2:15, and tonight at 8:15.
GRAND THEATER (Park and Washington)—Vaudeville. This afternoon at 2:15; tonight at 7:30 and 8:15.
STAR THEATER (Park and Washington)—Motion pictures. Continuous, from 1:30 to 10:30 P. M.

PRINCIPALS WILL BE GOVERNED—The East Side Business Men's Club will give the principals of the East Side city schools a banquet tonight in the Princess Hotel, Third and East Burnside streets, when the children's parade for the Rose Festival will be discussed. Superintendent Rigler and Professor Krohn will be present and address the meeting on the subject, "The Children's Parade." Arrangements have been completed so that the children will be drilled outside of school hours and their parades will not be interrupted; an arrangement that has been approved by the Board of Education and the school directors of the children. The club has all its arrangements well in hand for the parade and will undertake to eclipse all former efforts.

PAVING ON DIVISION STREET SOON—The Pacific Bridge Company, which has the contract for laying hard-surface pavement on Division street, between East Tenth and East Forty-first streets, has started at East Tenth street. This improvement is one of the most important undertaken in the South East Side, but it has been delayed on account of water mains and sewers not having been laid. By beginning at East Tenth street, the improvement can be made for a considerable distance without encroaching on that part of the street in which sewers and water mains have not been laid.

MRS. COLBY WILL SPEAK ON SUFFRAGE—Clara Berkeley Colby, president of the Fellowship and 25 years editor of the Woman's Journal will deliver a free address to the Truthseeker's Conference, at 622 East Morrison street on Friday evening. She will speak on the "Militant Women and the British Government." Mrs. Colby was recently in London, England, adding the various colleges and will relate her personal experiences. On Wednesday the regular meeting will be held at the same address.

RECEPTION TO BE GIVEN TODAY—A farewell reception will be tendered to Brother Zenophon-Cyrl, F. S. C., provincial of the Christian Brothers of the Pacific Coast, this morning between 10:30 and 12 o'clock just prior to his departure to California. He has been inspecting the various colleges in the Northwest under the direction of the Christian Brothers, and has just completed his inspection of the Portland institution on Grand avenue and Clackamas street.

WOMEN TO HELP MAKE OREGON DRY—At the all-day meeting of the Albina W. C. T. U. yesterday at the home of Mrs. M. E. Pugh, 561 Emerson street, Alberta district, it was decided to assist in making Oregon dry in 1909 by the distribution of literature throughout Multnomah County. Mrs. Hoxter presided and plans for active work in the campaign were considered. In the afternoon several addresses were delivered on the life and work of Frances E. Willard.

MISSTRELS WILL RENEBRSE—The first general rehearsal for the American Beauty Minstrel show will be held this afternoon at the Army at 2 o'clock, and it is urged that as many members of the chorus who are interested in the movement toward the building of the Portland Auditorium, should be present. The Monday Musical Club and the Daughters of the Confederacy, under whose auspices the big benefit will be given, are very enthusiastic over the show.

HIVELAND SPEARS WITH TOWN—W. A. Hovelman, formerly owner of the Bank of Estacada, which recently was purchased by the Estacada State Bank, was in Portland yesterday. Mr. Hovelman will embark in the real estate business in Estacada. "Prospects for a great year are good in Estacada," he said. "I intend remaining here, despite the fact that I have sold my bank."

NOTICE—Prices in Ladd's Addition will advance, May 1, 30 per cent, only four days more, taking effect, Friday afternoon; now you cannot make $200 any easier than to buy your lot this week. For full particulars see F. W. Torieker, 100 Skerlock building, Strong & Co., Concord building; also agents on ground.

MRS. E. J. RIESLAND'S FUNERAL HELD—The funeral services over the body of Mrs. Elias J. Riesland, who died at her home, 1130 East Morrison street Sunday, was held yesterday at the chapel of the Portland Crematorium, near Sellwood. Mrs. Riesland was 43 years of age, and the wife of Dr. F. J. Riesland.

ROAST BEEF HASH, Chinook salmon croquets, with green peas, fried oysters, asparagus with drawn butter, stuffed egg salad, sliced tomatoes, artichokes and mayonnaise, queen of puddings, preserved Royal Anne cherries at Wagon Exchange today, 186 Fifth street, near Yamhill.

BRIDGE IS NOT READY—The Madison-street bridge should have been turned over to the city yesterday for acceptance, according to the terms of the contract. On the contrary, it will be several weeks until this is done owing to the slow work of the contractors.

COUNCIL OF JEWISH WOMEN TO MEET—The Bible class meeting of the Council of Jewish Women will be held today at 2:30 o'clock, in the assembly room of Temple Beth Israel.

LOW RATES ARE GRANTED
Railroads Give Special Inducements for Northwest Conventions.

Under what is known as the certificate plan, the Northern Pacific and the Spokane, Portland & Seattle railways will give a round trip rate of one and one-third times the one-way fare to a series of meetings and conventions to be held in Washington and Idaho this Summer. In the case of the Washington State Grange, held at Pullman, the O. R. & N. will act as joint agent. To obtain advantage of the rates, the outward bound first-class one-way ticket must first be bought, and a receipt obtained from the agent. When this receipt is endorsed by the secretary of the convention, it entitles the holder to obtain a return ticket for one-third the usual rate. The dates on which tickets will be on sale are from day to day, to each convention, and the initial days of each convention. The rate will apply from all stations to the spot of the Sportsmen's Association of the Northwest, to be held at Walla Walla, May 17 to May 19. All North Bank stations in Washington will obtain the benefit of the reduced rate to the following meetings: Western Washington Conference of Seventh Day Adventists, at Vancouver, May 29 to June 6; meeting of the G. A. R., Hoquiam, Wash., June 20-22; annual meeting of the grand lodges, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, North Yakima, Wash., June 6-9; grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, Aberdeen, Wash., July 12-15; Washington State Grange, Pullman, Wash., June 6-11. From White Salmon and all stations east of that point, the rate will apply to the following: Washington State Grange, Fraternal Order of Eagles, North Yakima, Wash., July 12-15; annual convention of the Inland Empire Grange, Walla Walla, Wash., May 19-22; Inter-scholastic Track Meet, Pullman, Wash., May 12 and 14.

George McCabe Returns Home.
George McCabe, member of the railroad contracting firm of A. J. McCabe & Co., returned to Portland yesterday after an absence of over three months. Mr. McCabe is just recovering from a serious illness and spent three months at Hot Springs, Ark., recuperating. From Hot Springs he went to New York by way of New Orleans and the steamer Mornus, returning from New York to Portland direct. Mr. McCabe was accompanied by his wife and children.

COMET NOT YET VISIBLE

ASTRONOMER SAYS PORTLAND SPECTATORS MISTAKEN.

Venus Causes Deception, Says Professor Daniels—Vigils Confirm His Conclusion.

Is the comet a comet? That is a much mooted question just now in Portland and a premature report of scientific testimony on the negative side of the issue. Numerous reports have been made by persons who have asserted that they have seen Halley's comet. However, Professor J. W. Daniels, who occupies the chair of astronomy at the Hill Military Academy, last night said no one had seen the comet from Portland.

Professor Daniels also declared the report that the comet was seen from First street by scores of persons, to be a mistake. It would be impossible to see the comet at that hour, he said. "As it appears to us from the earth," he declared, "the comet is now going toward the sun. Some time ago it would have been possible to see it going away from the sun if the sky had been clear. I took my blankets, and with friends spent too many cold, sleepless nights on Council Crest to be in error about its movement."

"What people have been seeing from here is beautiful Venus, which rises behind Mount Hood. Now there is no resemblance between Venus and the comet, and there is no need of working an alarm-clock overtime in an effort to see the comet. Hearing this report, a day or so ago, I again went to Council Crest and spent the night, but all I, or anyone else, saw was Venus."

Bermuda Is "Comet Crazy."
NEW YORK, April 26.—Passengers on the Royal Mail steamer Packet Orontava, just in from Bermuda, kept a lookout on their way northward for Halley's comet. On Sunday morning about 2 o'clock their vigils were rewarded. Although there was a light mist, they caught the flare of the comet and distinguished the visitor for a few moments. At that time they were about 500 miles south of New York.

COMET INNOCENT OF STORMS.
NEW YORK, April 26.—S. A. Mitchell, assistant professor at Columbia University, has come to the defense of Halley's comet with the assertion that the fieriest visitor to no way to blame for the remarkable series of weather disturbances which have been common of late throughout the country. "No," said the professor. "It is an absolute certainty that the comet is as innocent as I am of the weather of seasons. It can have absolutely no effect on weather conditions."

MISS CLINTON, 1913, WINS

Highest Sophomore Honors of Bryn Mawr Go to Portland Girl.

The highest scholarship of the sophomore year at Bryn Mawr has been awarded to Miss Marion Dorothea Clinton of the class of 1913. This was the James E. Rhodes memorial scholarship, founded in 1887 by the Alumni Association of the college and has a value of $250.

Miss Clinton is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Clinton, until recently a resident here for the Polk Directory Company. She was graduated last year from Portland Academy with the highest honors and also won the highest Bryn Mawr scholarship for the freshman year.

SECRET CONFERENCE HELD

Mayor, Councilmen and Road Manager Discuss Concessions.

Mayor Simon and the members of the special council committee on Broadway bridge concessions yesterday afternoon held another session with General Manager O'Brien, of the O. R. & N. Co., at the latter's office. The exact nature of the subjects discussed was not made public at this time because the negotiations between the company and city are not complete.

Within 48 hours, it is expected, a definite reply will be had from Mr. O'Brien as to what concessions his company will make to the city in exchange for the vacation of certain streets on the East Side, wanted by the railroad for terminal purposes.

FISHERMEN TO QUIT

Oregon City Attorneys Hoist Clients' White Flags.

FISH AUCTION PLANNED

Attempt Will Be Made by Catchers to Secure Money From Sale. Rumors of Compromise in Salmon War Vigorously Denied.

Developments yesterday in the war now being waged by Master Fish Warden McAllister and his deputies against the gillnetters and other fishermen of the Willamette and Clackamas rivers indicate the contending fishermen have virtually acknowledged defeat. The contraband fish, weighing about 15 tons, seized in Oregon City, were sent to Portland yesterday afternoon and were taken in charge by Mr. McAllister. They will be sold at public auction today and the proceeds will be sent to the state fish market unless some legal step by Attorney John E. Logan, for the fishermen, interposes.

Attorneys in Oregon City yesterday virtually hoisted the white flag for their clients and announced that no more fishing would be done until after the date set by the Fish Commissioners.

Cases Postponed.

In the Justice Court here yesterday the cases of the two gillnetters, Sam Marovich and Steve Damyovich, were postponed until Friday afternoon, at 1 o'clock, owing to an agreement between attorneys for both sides. Master Fish Warden McAllister is in the city and will remain until the hearing is held. I. H. Van Winkle, assistant to the Attorney-General, is remaining in the city to assist in the prosecution. Attorney John E. Logan, said yesterday that it was possible that the money realized from the sale of the fish brought down from Oregon City would be fought for by the fishermen. Steps will be taken today to have this money tied up legally so that the Master Fish Warden cannot send it to the State Treasurer or the fish market.

A rumor was heard yesterday afternoon that an agreement had been arrived at between Mr. McAllister and attorneys representing the fishermen, but this was denied by Mr. McAllister. "I am a party to no agreement or compromise," said he. "There is only one thing I will agree to and that is the strict enforcement of the law."

Answers Are Filed.

Master Fish Warden McAllister and Deputy Rathbun filed in the Circuit Court yesterday morning their answer to the reply in suit brought by the Portland Fish Company, represented by John E. Logan, against them. They say the plaintiff was found with fish in possession, unlawfully taken from the river, and that the closed season from March 1 to May was declared by the Board of Fish Commissioners by virtue of the power conferred in them by the Governor, and that it was regularly announced by the posting of notices and by publication. They say the fish confiscated was worth only $2500, instead of $3500, the amount claimed by the fish company.

FISH SOLD TO GET RID OF THEM

Chinook Salmon Bring Only $1 for 14; Fishing at Standstill.
OREGON CITY, Or., April 25.—(Special)—Fishing for chinook salmon was here today at the rate of 14 fish for $1, simply to get rid of them and prevent their spoiling on the banks of the river, where they had been taken from the boats last night.

Fishing is practically at a standstill here, as there is no market for the fish and the officers having effectually barred the way into the Portland markets, and unless the dealers are permitted to sell the salmon, the season will be closed tight. As a means of raising funds for the entertainment of delegates to the National convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians to be held here July 19 to 25, a ball will be given at the Armory May 4, under the auspices of the various Catholic societies of the city. This was decided upon at a meeting of the convention committee last night. All 30 members of the committee were present and each was furnished with a list of from five to ten names of prominent Portlanders to solicit for funds. The city has been thoroughly canvassed for the fund, which now amounts to $9000.

McMinnville to Have New Bank.
OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, April 25.—The application of Ar-chieve to whom it may concern, nota bene:

Buyers of Property at The Short Sand Beach Have Not Been "as Rare as an Angel's Visit!" The attractiveness of the place is too well known for that.

Also listen to this:
On my last trip to the Coast I sat down by the roadside on a woopile one day to wait for the Nehalem stage. Along came an Old Resident, full of reminiscences, but otherwise sober, and inquired what brought me to that part of the country. "The Short Sand Beach over on the side of Neah-kah-nie Mountain, between the mountain and Cape Falcon," I replied, "and I am preparing to put it on the market for Summer homes."

"Oh, I know that place," he said, his face lighting up. "I used to live over near there." Then he proceeded to relate various bits of local history pertaining to it. "A neighbor of mine once undertook to drive a herd of cattle from Nehalem around the mountain," said he. "The leader of the herd, feelin' cantankerous that mornin' and possibly havin' a grudge agin some of the cattle behind him and the trail bein' narrow—not more'n 10 or 12 inches—and the descent into the ocean almost perpendicular at that pint, it occurred to the ornerly beast to contest the right of way and dispute the passage with the herd behind him. So he turned round and begins hookin', and, be gosli, in the melee that ensued 19 fell into the ocean. The owner was plumb discouraged and packed up and moved away. He said he was goin' to live where his cattle wouldn't fall off the earth."

"What I'd like to know," said the demure person to whom I was repeating this narrative on my return to Portland, "did the ornerly one fall in, too?"

For further particulars regarding this interesting episode also tracts for Summer homes at The Short Sand Beach, see the owner, Helen S. Gray, at the Nortonia Hotel.

This entire property has been contoured. To prevent the erection of cheap and unsightly shacks, there are building restrictions. Also other restrictions. Certain improvements are guaranteed. Then, too, with a lot the buyer gets devoted to him without any extra charge "all and singular the tenements, hereditaments and appurtenances thereunto belonging or in any wise appertaining." Just think of that!
