HEINZE JURY READY

Standard Oil Fight Renewed in Examining Talesmen.

BOTH SIDES SATISFIED

Thirty-eight Counts Remain to Be Decided. After Seven Have Been Quashed—Jury Chosen at Last Is Locked Up.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The jury to try F. Augustus Heinze on charges of misapplying the funds of the Mercantile National Bank and overcertification of funds drawn upon the bank was chosen today, after the old fight of Heinze and the Standard Oil and the Amalgamated Copper Company had been made manifest in the examination of the talesmen.

The banking relations of Heinze and Morse were gone into also. Heinze was president of the bank in 1907, when the transactions now questioned took place.

Seven counts in the indictments against Heinze were quashed yesterday by Judge Hough, but 31 were left on which to try him and the Government attorneys expressed their readiness to proceed.

Questions Are Suggestive.

In the choice of jurors, John B. Stanchfield, counsel for Heinze, had many interesting and suggestive questions to ask. One of these was if the talesman would be prejudiced against Heinze because Charles W. Morse was chairman of the executive committee of the mercantile bank during the period covered by the indictments against Heinze. Morse is now serving a 15-year term on conviction of violation of the banking laws. Even more interesting ground was touched upon when Mr. Stanchfield asked: "Have you any connections with the Standard Oil Company or have you read of the long series of suits Heinze had with the Standard Oil Company?"

United States District Attorney Wise objected to the question and Judge Hough would not allow it to be answered. Mr. Stanchfield also wanted to know of the jurors if they had known H. H. Rogers or H. H. Rogers, Jr., and if they owned copper stock. On a court ruling he was unsuccessful in trying to get the jurors to say if they had read any articles about the fight between Heinze and the Standard Oil Company in Montana.

Suspicion Excuses Talesman.

Anson F. Robinson, financial secretary to F. S. Flower, of Flower & Co., bankers, was one of the jurors tentatively passed. Mr. Stanchfield asked him: "Isn't your employer known in the street as the Standard Oil Company?"

When Mr. Robinson said he preferred not to answer, Mr. Stanchfield challenged him for cause and he was excused.

"I want it to appear on record," said Mr. Stanchfield, "that Mr. Heinze has been fighting the Standard Oil Company for 15 or 20 years. The interests of this defendant and the Standard Oil are diametrically opposed, as are his interests and those associated with Amalgamated Copper."

$500,000 IN GEMS STOLEN

Swindle Revealed After Dummy Packages Returned to Cover Tracks.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 26.—Developments up to date indicate that through a great swindle, manufacturers of jewelry in Rhode Island and other states have been robbed of goods valued at $500,000. Ten arrests have already been made in Alabama and Texas, and one of the alleged conspirators was ready to cross into Mexico when he was taken into custody.

Details of the swindle were made public today by Representative Harry Cutler, of this city, who was a member of the committee of the New York Jewelry Board of Trade, appointed to capture the conspirators. The scheme was to buy jewelry throughout the country and ship it to Montgomery. After the reports say, dummy packages were sent from a Montgomery firm to other stores controlled by it. These were then credited as the real shipments of valuable goods and so listed. The stores were then set on fire, it is alleged, and the dummy packages were listed as lost assets by the firm in bankruptcy proceedings.

IDAHO HOPES FOR 400,000

This Population Will Give State Two Representatives.

BOISE, Idaho, April 26.—(Special.)—If the census now being taken in Idaho can show a gain of 250,000 this state will secure its second Congressman. This probably is the greatest prize in store for Idaho as a result of the present census.

In 1900 Idaho had a population of 161,772, equal to a good-sized city. Irrigation was just coming into its own at that time, however, and since then, or in the past 10 years, reclamation of arid land has been the greatest inducement to influence immigration to this state and settlers have been coming in by the thousands. The mining industry has also done its share toward attracting population, until it is confidently expected the desired 400,000 mark can be reached.

F. Augustus Heinze, on Trial in New York on Charge of Misapplying Bank Funds.

10 years there can be no speculation as to whether or not the Congressional mark will be reached. In 1900 the population of Boise was about 8000. Today it is between 25,000 and 30,000.

PEACE CAUSE AIDED

Taft and Carnegie Dedicate $1,000,000 Bureau Home.

REPUBLIC OF CANADA SEEN

Donor of Magnificent Marble Building to Bureau of American Republics Expresses Hope That Dominion May Enter Family.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The magnificent new marble building of the International Bureau of American Republics—within a stone's throw of the White House—was dedicated in the name of universal peace today.

President Taft joined with Andrew Carnegie, Secretary Knox, Senator Root and Senor de la Bera, the Mexican Ambassador, as representative of the Latin-American republics, in prophecies of peace among the 21 American republics, and pledged themselves to strive for that happy state. Mr. Carnegie went so far as to express the hope that Canada, with the consent of Great Britain, some day would join the family of peaceful American republics.

Echo of Controversy Heard.

The President called out general laughter by referring to the controversy between Theodore Roosevelt and Mr. Carnegie two years ago at the laying of the corner-stone of the building dedicated today.

"They differed as to the methods by which peace should be obtained," said the President, "but that both were earnest and strenuous in their determination to have peace there was no doubt."

"Hear, hear," shouted Mr. Carnegie as the laughter died away.

The new building, a gift of Mr. Carnegie, won the admiration of all who passed within the bronze portals this afternoon and at the reception tonight, at which President Taft and Mr. Carnegie headed the receiving party.

"Great Honor," Says Taft.

"I esteem it a great honor to the United States of America," said the President at the dedicatory exercises, "that the other 20 American republics should decide this home of international union should be on this soil. As the result we take great pride in the fact. We are anxious each member of the family should know we have an absolute equality in every member of the family. We insist on no preference because we are the elder Nation and for the time being can count more noses."

Just preceding the benediction by Right Reverend Bishop Harding, which concluded the afternoon exercises, occurred one of the most unique and interesting features of the programme, when President Taft, and Mr. Carnegie, jointly planted a "Peace Tree" in the patio, or courtyard.

New Home Worth $1,000,000.

The new home of the bureau represents the expenditure of $1,000,000, of which sum Mr. Carnegie contributed $500,000 and the 21 American Republics the remainder. It is described by the best critics of architecture and construction as one of the most artistic official buildings in the world. It occupies one of the most commanding sites of the Capital overlooking the Potomac Park and river, facing the open grounds below the White House, and near the Washington monument.

It will afford a commodious home for the Bureau of American Republics, which has been developing with remarkable rapidity within the last few years, and is doing much to strengthen the ties that bind together the American Republics and to encourage commerce, friendship and peace.

BANK BILL IS ENDANGERED

Republican Conference Proposed to Consider Measure.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The situation of the Postal Savings Bank bill in the House appears to be one calling for radical measures of relief. Inquiries among those responsible for its status in that body develop the fact that action of any sort upon the bill is unlikely until after all other administration measures, including railroad, anti-injunction, and conservation, have been put through the house. It is proposed now to call a Republican conference at an early date to consider the anti-injunction bill, which also is in a bad situation.

"There will be nothing done with postal savings until after that caucus is held," said a prominent majority member of the House committee on post-offices and postroads. "If the Republican members go into that caucus and get together successfully, we will then have a caucus on the postal savings bank bill. Then, when we have agreed upon something we will come into the House with it."

The same member declared that neither the Senate bill, nor any bill similar to it, could ever pass the House. The bill will remain in the committee on post-offices and postroads until some agreement is arrived at. Just now but two members of that committee are in favor of the Senate bill. Representative Murdock, insurgent Republican from Kansas, is one of these.

"Unless the House passes the postal savings bank bill, practically identical as it passed the Senate," said he today, "the bill will be thrown into conference between the two houses, where, in the hands of conferees unfriendly to the measure, it will have a mighty hard time."

WHOLESALE MURDER, PLAN

Cuban Negro Leader and Associates Indicted in Havana.

HAVANA, April 26.—Indictments were returned today against General Evaristo Estenor, the negro leader, and 22 other negro prisoners, charging them with the crime of inciting rebellion and instigating anti-white violence. The evidence indicated that extensive preparations had been made for a general uprising against the government on May 24.
