CATHOLICS OPPOSE KODOL WORKS RESERVATION SALE

Sectarian Aspect of Fight for Transfer of Walla Walla Property May Defeat It.

POINDEXTER GROWS AFRAID

Representative Says Because of Catholic Opposition He Can No Longer Support Bill-Fake Offers Said to Be Made.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Wash

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU. Washington, April 28.—The bill authorizing the sale of the Walla Walla military reservation to Whitman College at $150 per acre has become the subject of a sectarian fight, and indications now point to its probable defeat.

Representative Poindexter today informed friends of the bill he could no longer support it, that it was being fought because of the Catholics of his district and he did not wish to incur their opposition. He pointed out that most of the telegrams sent to the milimost of the telegrams sent to the mill tary committee protesting against the bill came from prominent Catholica,

Another interesting development came today. A telegram was received by the chairman of the military committee two days ago, signed "First National Bank of Walla Walla," and saying that John Ankeny, H. W. Martin and Robert Johnson and deposited in that bank 22 50 to gran. had deposited in that bank $92,500 to guarand deposited in that bank $2.500 to guar-nantee they would buy the military reser-vation at $300 per acre. Today a tele-gram was received from the cashier of the bank saying no such deposit had been made with his bank and that the original telegram was not sent with the knowledge or consent of the bank authorities. Along with this telegram came other messages saying that no offers to buy the reserva-tion at prices above $150 an acre were bona fide, but that the senders were merely undertaking to prevent the passage of the bill for sectorian reasons, or in hope that the Government would again restore troops to Fort Walla Walla if the reservation was not sold. This com-plication will have a deterrent effect upon the committee, which will again consider

PROTECTS THE SHIPPERS

Mr. Cornwall Favors Section of Proposed Railroad Rate Bill.

PORTLAND, April 28 .- (To the Edilor.) In The Oregonian of today I note an editorial on the subject, "Too Much Power," criticising section nine of the proposed railroad rate bill now

By the provisions of this section the Interstate Commerce Commission is empowered to suspend the imposition of any new classification or interstate tate before Seconting effective. This wise and necessary provision to insure the shipper a right to be heard before his rates or classifications are changed, has not only the sanction of the great shipping and manufacturing interests of the country, but is in the interest of remembered by every citizen of Oregon and Washington. The destruction and cessation of business incident to rate state act was introduced by Senator Fulton, to clothe the Commission with The power to suspend a rate prior to the determination of its reasonableness. The only recourse open to a shipper to prevent the imposition of a new rate is to secure, if possible, an injunction from a United States Circuit Court. This is a doubtful alternative and a remedy that is not always available. It in-volves furnishing a heavy indemnifying bond, and a single shipper in most cases could not stand the expense of the litigation.

The subject of enlarging the power of the Interstate Commerce Commis-sion was unqualifiedly advocated and supported by ex-President Roosevelt and President Taft in special messages and the National Republican convention at Chicago indorsed the idea. The Interstate Commerce Commission and practically every commercial body in the United States has petitioned Congress to confer this necessary power on the Commission, in order to s guard the commercial interests of country. A court without the right to exercise injunctive power is practically shorn of its most important function and is impotent to prevent impendin only criticism that the writer would offer to the proposed amendment is that instead of making it 90 days before a rate which is protested could become effective, it should be left to the discretion of the Commission, who, through reason of excessive business, may not be able to reach the question

In the short time designated.
Any rate which has been in effect for a long period can be fairly regarded as a remunerative rate, and the time necessary to hear and determine the reasons for the advance should not work a great hardship on the railroad, while the damage to the shipper from the change might prove irreparable.

Probably to The Oregonian more than to any other agency, the splendid educational campaign that has been waged in the advocacy of this most meritorious measure throughout the United States, is due. In a former se-ries of articles which went to the marrow of the proposition, The Oregonian , took the splendid stand that "a railroad tariff is in effect a contract be-tween the rallroad and the shipper, and its terms should not be changed without both parties being heard." This is the last word on the question. The out both parties being heard." English language is incapable of pre senting the subject more clearly and

The reference made to "the absurdity as well as the danger of placing such unlimited power in the hands of a few men can be understood when it is noted that the making of new schedules and classifications, even by the most expert railroad men, is in operation at all times, attended by the chance that they will not stand the fire of a practical test and will need changes to meet requirements and conditions that cannot be thoroughly understood in advance."

It is with a view of meeting just the proposition as stated that the Cummings amendment is offered. A rate is as much a part of the business as the business itself. Rates absolutely determine the extent of distribution

That Is Why It Acts So Quickly in Cases of Dyspepsia and Indigestion.

Undigested food is a dead weight on the stomach. You must get rid of it if you want to feel good. Don't get rid of it by purging, for in that way the needed nourishment is lost. the weight by helping the digest the food. The greatest help known to science is Kodol because it digests all the food at all times, and under all conditions. Every tablespoonful of Kodol digests 21/4 pounds of food. Kodol is a scientific preparation, pleasant to take, and is a liquid. It must be a liquid, because some ele-ments for perfect digestion must go in fiquid form.

Pepsin digests some foods, but not all foods. There is Pepsin in Kodol, but we cannot depend alone upon Pep-sin. We rely upon other ingredients or else digestion would not be complete else digestion would not be complete. Some preparations digest partly and they are only part good. Kodol contains the natural digestive juices that are found in a healthy stomach. It digests as Nature digests. The penalty of Indigestion is nervous chronic dyspepsia that leads to catarrh or cancer of the stomach. Nearly all serious diseases are traceable to Indigestion. Help your stomach do its work. into a non-competitive territory. No railroad traffic man, however able, can possibly hope to understand or appreclate all the conditions, which sur-round the marketing of competitive products of every commodity. The delegation of power to traffic men arbitrarily to change a system of rates or classifications, is a power too great to confer upon any body of men, without the imposition of a reasonable right of eview prior to the new rate's becoming effective. Upon a former occasion, where rates were to be advanced, a well-known traffic official attempted to justify his actions before his superior by alleging that if the new rates did not allow the traffic to move they could be restored, and were largely "experimental." Partially to safeguard against a repetition of the terrible dis-asters which flow from rate disturb-Cummings' amendment is of-Canada and Mexico have incorporated in their railroad regula-tion the provision which insures tariffs being supervised before becoming effective; and surely the United States cannot afford to do less.

TABERNACLE TO BE READY

Hawthorne Park Revival Services to Begin Sunday.

The tabernacle which is being built in Hawthorne Park for revival union meetings in May will be completed by Saturday evening, ready for the open-ing services Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Lewis F. Smith, chairman of the general committee, is superintending the work. Men were wiring the building for the electric lights yesterday and water-proof roofing was placed yesterday. More than 100 electric jets will illuminate the confirmation. tric jets will illuminate the auditorium and colored lights will be placed at the entrances. Rev. H. C. Hart and Rev. Arthur Magaan, the evangelists, passed through Portland yesterday on their way to Seattle for a short stay, but will return today and be present at the general reception to be given in their honor tonight.

Arrangements have been made to arrangements have been made to seat 300 singers just back of the speak-ers. Lists of singers are being sent in from the 14 churches which have joined in the union meetings. At the reception to the evangelists tonight the union choir will have its first rehearsal in charge of Rev. Mr. Magaan. Forty ushers have been appointed.

the part of Master Fish Warden Mc-Allister to enforce the closing of the Willamette and Clackamas Rivers, in accordance with the orders of the Fish Commissioners of the state, two arrests were made yesterday after-noon by Constable Wagner, on war-rants issued from the Justice Court. John Meehan, president of the Portland Fish Company, and John Kelly, one of the company's employes, were arrested for unlawfully having in possession and transporting salmon fish, caught and taken during the closed season. Kelly, as the agent of the company, is said to have broughta large quantity from up the river on Saturday. He was taken into custody for actually committing the act, and President Meehan for being the of-ficial head of the corporation. Each gave $250 cash bail and was released. They will have a hearing before Justice Olson today.

The recent decision of the Supreme Court, in which the power of the Fish was quoted yesterday by Deputy District Attorney Fitzgerald, as showing the contention of the fishing interests that because proper notice has not been served upon the fishermen they were not liable to the law, and also that the

The part of the decision referring to his issue reads as follows: this issue reads as follows:

In the case before us the statute is valid and the order of the Board was made in conformity with the power conferred; and therefore, was not an infringement of a civil right of plaintiffs. They have no right to fish for salmon during the period during which fashing is forbidden by the order and notice, and whether they are criminally liable for a violation of the order, by reason of the insufficiency of the service of the notice, equity will not entertain jurisdiction to determine, the remedy being complete at law. This same principle is recognized in tax sale cases. It is only when the tax is void for jurisdictional defects that equity will interfere.

Mr. McAllister yesterday announced his belief that all unlawful fishing op-his belief that all unlawful fishing operations have ceased. He will now turn his attention to properly regulating the lawful operations of the salmon fishers, which will commence nex Monday, He will leave today by launch for a trip down the river to Astoria, inspecting conditions and instructing his deputies.

CURB CHANGE QUESTIONED

Authority of City to Charge Cost to Abutting Owners Doubted.

City Engineer Morris has raised an mportant question in regard to the removal of curbs by order of the City Council, the question of law being whether the city has authority to change the curb lines and charge the cost of the abutting property-owners, City Attorney Kavanaugh has been in-structed to investigate.

A large number of curbs have been changed by order of the Council from time to time, but Mr. Morris has de-curb, once ordered by the Council and paid for by the abutting property, if removed and replaced by a new one put in simly to change the lines, must be paid for by the city.
