STORY OF POVERTY RELATED ON STAND

In Want, La Fayette Grover Appeals to Those Whom He Befriended.

MRS. HAWTHORNE WITNESS

In Court She Relates How Money Was Supplied to Mr. and Mrs. Grover in 1902—Suit Submitted to Judge Today.

How Lafayette Grover, the first man elected to represent the State of Oregon in Congress, the Governor of the state for six years, followed in 1877 by his becoming United States Senator—how this man and his wife were reduced to such extreme want as to be forced to apply for money to get the common necessities of life four years ago, was brought out in the Circuit Court in the trial in which Mr. and Mrs. Grover are contesting with the Hawthorne estate for valuable land near the City Park.

This want of funds on the part of the Grovers was hinted at by Mrs. Grover while she was on the witness stand, and confirmed by Mrs. Hawthorne on the witness stand yesterday morning. Mrs. Hawthorne was reluctant in mentioning the matter, but was forced to do so through the questioning of the attorneys.

thorne in 1902, and which is on file as an exhibit in the case now being tried, had a hard time in meeting his financial obligations ten years ago.

The letter sent by Mr. Grover to Mrs. Hawthorne in 1902 was accompanied by a long document, which bears the title of "Historical Memorandum," written also by Mr. Grover.

This document relates to the history of the strong friendship that existed between Mr. Grover and Dr. J. C. Hawthorne, whose estate is involved in the present suit.

The historical memorandum begins by saying that after his return from Congress in 1859, Mr. Grover became a practicing attorney in Salem for two years, after which he came to Portland, met Dr. Hawthorne and became his close friend.

After telling how he had saved Dr. Hawthorne from financial ruin by using his influence as Governor to keep the state from building an asylum and thus ending its contract for the care of insane with Dr. Hawthorne, Mr. Grover in his memorandum says:

"My course toward Dr. Hawthorne in maintaining the asylum in his hands was purely the act of a friend—I was a friend in need, and became a friend indeed. But it cost me money, and it cost me friends. For all those in that town (Salem) who moved to secure the asylum there in 1872, opposed my administration throughout, scandalized my public work, opposed my election to the United States Senate, and came near defeating me."

DECISION IS CITED

McCourt to Meet Defense of C. A. Smith in Land Cases.

ALL KNOWLEDGE DENIED

Government, However, Will Contend That Minnesota Millionaire Is Responsible for Acts of His Acting Agents.

Relying on a recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, District Attorney McCourt will be prepared today to meet the defense offered in the C. A. Smith cases, wherein the Government is endeavoring to cancel the patents to 50 timber claims in Linn and Lane Counties. The property is alleged to have a present value of $802,000, and the charge is made that it was obtained through a conspiracy in which C. A. Smith, Frederick A. Krebs, Steven A. D. Puter and Horace G. McKinley were the moving spirits.

It is held by the defense that Puter and McKinley may have conspired to obtain the lands through fraud and the use of dummies, but that Smith had nothing to do with the case until three months after the filings were made in the land office at Roseburg.

Should the court hold that Smith was a party to the conspiracy by reason of the action of Krebs, his agent, the attorneys for the Minnesota millionaire hope to have the cases thrown out of court because the title is now in the Linn-Lane Timber Company, which was not made a party to the suit until after the statute of limitations expired.

morning to testify. He will be the last witness used by the Government.

CHOICE OPAL AMONG PROCEEDS OF MYSTERIOUS ROBBERY.

Where and when the jewels were stolen is not publicly known, but although the police have succeeded in keeping secret these facts, as well as the name of the owner of the lost jewels, it is generally understood that the social position of the woman who was robbed is of the highest in this country and in Europe, and that she was one of those prominent in the circles which formed a part of the Drexel-Gould wedding.

The rare opal among the missing gems is centered in a brooch and surrounded by eight two-carat diamonds valued at $5000. The other stolen articles include a pair of diamond earrings valued at $3000, each containing
