

SWAY OF STRIKERS TERRORIZES TOWN

breakers in Flight.

MOULDERS START TROUBLE

Authorities Keep Secret for Ten Days—Guard Is Placed Over Imported Men, but When Mob Marches They Steal Away.

MOUNT VERNON, Ill., April 29.—(Special.)—Almost 3000 striking workmen from the Mount Vernon Car Works have had undisturbed control of the town for 10 days. The plant has been dynamited twice and a force of workmen imported from Pittsburg to take places of the strikers has been driven from town and not a word of the affair has been made public.

Local authorities have advised that the matter be hushed up and that no word of the riots be sent to metropolitan papers for fearing hurting the town.

Moulders Start Trouble.
The Mount Vernon Car Works is an independent concern, employing more than 2000 men. Ten days ago 40 moulders demanded an increase in pay from 23 to 32 cents an hour. This was refused and they walked out without further warning. Within a week practically every department of the plant was closed, the men striking in sympathy.

Party workmen were brought here Tuesday from Pittsburg, the officers of the plant thinking their presence would discourage the strikers, and they would return to work. It had the opposite effect, and before the strikebreakers had finished a day's work, they were warned to leave town.

Strikebreakers Are Beaten.
None of the local boarding-houses would provide accommodations for the strikebreakers and when they appeared on the street after working hours they were hissed and jeered and in some instances attacked and beaten. They appealed to their employers for protection and were taken inside the plant and armed guards were placed about the buildings.

While the officials were conferring on how to protect their men, word was received that the strikers were forming to march on the plant and kill the strikebreakers. It was decided to send the men out of town and they were taken to a water tank several blocks from the station and concealed until an eastbound train arrived.

They were taken aboard the train just as the strikers approached the cars.

RAYMOND SEEKS RATE CUT

Lumber Shippers Complain Against Differential.

RAYMOND, Wash., April 29.—(Special.)—A meeting of the lumber manufacturers was held at the Hotel Donovan last night to take steps to secure a reduction in the same freight rates for lumber from the Willapa Harbor points that the Grays Harbor points enjoy by absorbing the differential rates between these points and Tacoma.

It was also shown that Astoria enjoys lower rates than other of these places and has a decided advantage over them in shipping lumber to Northern and Eastern points.

A committee consisting of A. N. Riggs, of McCormack; B. H. Lewis, of Raymond; and T. E. Pearson, of South Bend, was appointed to arrange for a monster excursion to Portland and Seattle to take this matter up with the officials of the roads concerned, and ask for a fair adjustment of the matter.

It was seen at once that he was seriously hurt and a call was sent through the house for doctors. McCarthy still is unconscious, 11 minutes after being sent to the floor and the doctors are not able to bring him around with powerful stimulants. They fear he will die.

He says Bryan asked him to marry Ruth. Tonight Leavitt wired Bryan he had no intention to stop the wedding, all he wants is the children.

SUNDAY SCHOOL GROWING

Enrollment at Christina Church
Bulges to Three Hundred.

The thorough manner in which the Roxey Avenue Christian Sunday School has been advertised by its members has increased the attendance from 60, the mark a year ago, to over 300, the number in attendance last Sunday. An effort is being made to even surpass this number tomorrow.

Rev. T. G. Pickett, pastor of the church, is known as a Sunday School specialist and has devoted considerable time to the betterment of the school. Sunday May 8, will be known as "Children's Day," and the intention is to set a mark, class by class, that has never been exceeded in the school. A special programme, embracing orchestral and musical numbers will be given. The school has an enrollment of 225 and uses the graded lessons.

HALF-INCH LEAD WINS MEET

Whitman Defeats Idaho by Taking
First Place in Broad Jump.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., April 29.—(Special.)—When Charlie Lewis, of Whitman College, this afternoon made 22 feet two and one-half inches in the broad jump, beating by just one half inch the best that Idaho's man, Hunter, could do, the dual meet between Whitman College and the University of Idaho was won for the local school.

It was all over, but the broad jump and the relay, and the latter was conceded to Idaho. Whitman had 57 points, Idaho 51. If Idaho won the relay, as it was conceded she would, that would make the score 57 to 56. To win the relay, Whitman must have first in the broad jump. To do it all her forces were marshalled. Barnes, who is manager, but who formerly won this event, defied his citizens club and put on track regalia. Bowers, Kitt, Barnes and Lewis entered. And Lewis won.

Whitman played hard luck in not having Captain Foster, who was out on account of studies.

Fearing Law, Bucketshops Close.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Results already have been accomplished by the crusade of the Department of Justice against the bucket-shop business. In addition to the offices affected by the indictment against a number of principals, scores of houses in the Middle West have closed their doors and others are expected to follow. Should the efforts of the Department towards breaking up the business entirely prove unavailing by prosecution under existing laws, it is said that new legislation will be asked of Congress.

a strict enforcement of the law limiting to 15 per cent the proportion of Jews admitted to the commercial schools,
and authorized the admission temporarily of Jews to the proportion of 45

Jews were strong financial supporters of the schools.

BUILDERS GRAFT, SAYS DR. EUSTER

Sunnyside Preacher Blames
New Church Plans for His Unpopularity.

DO JOBBERS OVERCHARGE?

Pastor Who Is at Issue With Some of His Parishioners Says Contractors Have Been Fighting
Him for Years.

That the plans Dr. William T. Euster suggested for the building of the new Sunnyside Methodist Church are responsible for his falling out with the building committee of the congregation was his statement last night. The committee and the executive board have sought Dr. Euster's resignation.

Dr. Euster did not charge contractors or handlers of building material in the city with having poisoned the minds of members of the committee against him, but he did say that ever since he began, 21 years ago, to build churches, the contractors have been fighting him. One reason for this, he said, was that he has told many preachers about to raise the money for church buildings about the "velvet" which contractors and jobbers in building materials make in putting them up. In speaking of it last night, he characterized it as "graft." As an instance, he said he could secure for 75 cents a foot opalescent glass which a less experienced preacher might pay $1 or $2 a foot for.

Cost Too Great, He Says.
He remarked that the recently-dedicated Methodist Church South, which cost $200,000, might have been erected for $200,000 and that Centenary Methodist Church, which he said cost about $38,000, should not have cost much more than $20,000.

"The churches are simply being robbed by the contractors," he remarked, "and the preachers and their flocks are so gullible they don't know it."

Dr. Euster did not return to Portland from Salem until yesterday afternoon, and when seen last night after the prayer meeting in the new Tabernacle, East Twelfth and Salmon streets, said: "I am surprised at the impressions abroad, which are certainly erroneous, which have a fine locality over in Sunnyside. We have a good church and good officers and first-class district superintendent and bishop. It is a strict law of our church that we are not to interfere with any charge after being appointed to another charge."

Some Trouble Had.
"I have found some trouble in my work during the last 21 years, and in my church-building experiences, especially since getting out my book on church-building called 'The Philosophy of Church-Building.' I have been bothered by firms which are combined for the purpose of sustaining artificial prices and by contractors and men interested in firms of this order. The new church at Sunnyside will certainly go on to completion. The building is all paid for as far as it is built. I understand there is some money still in the bank, and no building will be more beautiful."

A. L. Fraley, secretary of the building committee of Sunnyside Church, framed the resolution at the last quarterly conference asking Dr. Euster to resign.

Charges Go to Conference.
The discipline requires that charges against pastors must be presented in regular form at the annual conference, not the quarterly conference, and that only the bishop or the district superintendent acting in his stead may suspend a pastor after charges are proven. District Superintendent Hollingshead, who presided at the quarterly conference, therefore, refused to put the resolution to a vote, at which his decision was appealed from, and the resolution was not voted upon.

It is said the building committee threatened to resign unless Dr. Euster was removed. Bishop Charles W. Smith is in the East on conference business and will probably return late next month.

LAKE SHORE, Wash., April 29.—(Special.)—Prunegrowers of Lake

the Interstate Commerce Commission to become effective June 1.

This is the first step taken by the railroads indicating a purpose generally to increase freight rates throughout the country to meet increased operating expenses.

Already tariff schedules have been filed for Western roads increasing the rate for the transportation of wool from Minneapolis and St. Paul to New York and other Atlantic seaboard points. The present rate on wool from Minneapolis to New York is 43 cents per hundred pounds. Under the provisions of the tariff, the rate will be 64 cents a hundred pounds, an increase of nearly 50 per cent.

An increase also has been made in the freight rate on live hogs between the Twin Cities and Chicago of 2 1/2 cents a hundred pounds. This is an increase of about 12 per cent over the present rate. While no tariff has been filed with the commission increasing the rate on wheat products from Chicago to the Eastern territory, it seems likely the rate on hog products from Chicago to Eastern points will be increased.

The tariffs already filed with the commission are for all the roads in Western Freight Association territory and the rates will become effective simultaneously on all of them.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—Freight tariffs showing considerable increase over the present rates from Western territory to the Atlantic seaboard will be filed with
