THE FACTS ABOUT COPPER

As An Investment

Copper stands today as the most staple of all metals, and its uses are growing greater all of the time. This country is alone using 600,000,000 pounds of copper every year, and while about 50 per cent of this amount is used in connection with electrical developments, the other half is being consumed in building materials, art work and hundreds of different articles that were in the past made from wood, steel and iron. The copper wires alone in electric work consume 200,000,000 pounds of copper, while some 150,000,000 pounds are used yearly by this industry in other forms than wire. Thousands of pounds of copper are being used daily in the construction of motor cars and yachts; one Connecticut factory consumes 12,000 pounds daily making eyelets and balls for shoes, while one American watchmaker is stamping out 100,000 brass watch dials every day, and one manufacturer of talcum powder is using 6,000,000 brass cans a year. These figures are taken from statistics and are printed merely to show the amount of this metal that is being used in commercial lines in the United States alone, and it must be remembered that the entire world is looking toward America for its copper.

The great resources of the Kupreanof Copper Mine that is now preparing its first shipment to the smelters, are not a matter of guesswork—the value is proven. On one of the four claims there lies ready for shipment and being transported to tidewater as this is written, 15,000 tons of copper ore and on the same claim there lies 100,000 tons of Copper Ore in sight. On March 27 a new rich strike was made on the "Buckhorn" claim, lying just above, another new distinct ore body being discovered, an assay of this new ore showing it to run 15½ per cent Copper, or $43.47 a ton. These statements are facts that will be proven when you call at the office. While we have shown you a few figures from statistics on the use of copper in this country alone, we have also shown you that the Kupreanof Mine is one of immense proven wealth and unlimited resources. Mining has been going on here for some time and the first smelter shipment is now being prepared and will be received at the smelter on June 1. This ore is being taken out over trail, and while it is a slow process of handling this first shipment will leave a good margin after paying all the operating expenses on the property. The Treasury Stock that is now being sold is to cover the cost of building a tramway less than two miles in length for the transportation of Kupreanof ore from mine to tidewater, the tram being guaranteed to handle 250 tons every day and not costing more than 5 cents a ton in transportation.

Kupreanof Treasury Stock is now offered to you at 25 cents a share, fully paid, non-assessable, with a par value of $1. The price of this stock will go to 50 cents a share on the 1st of June, at which time the first shipment will be received at the smelter. By investing at this time you make a clear profit of 100 per cent, and this stock will doubtless go to par in six months. When you purchase stock in the Kupreanof you join a company of the most responsible men in the entire Northwest, you purchase stock in a working mine of known wealth, and one that is covered by Patents issued by the United States Government.

Investigate fully this company, its officers, its properties, and its methods of doing business. When you have done this you will agree that this is the best opportunity for investment that you have ever had offered to you. If you will call at the offices, 200 Chamber of Commerce building, every detail will be shown you, and you will be given a copy of the "The Story of the Kupreanof," a book containing every detail concerning this property. The number of shares to be sold are limited; you should act at once.

TODAY LAST CHANCE TO BE ENUMERATED

If You Have Been Missed, Send Oregonian Coupon to Supervisor.

CHECKING IS NEARLY DONE

Of 127 Districts 40 Have Been Gone Over, and Rest Can Be Finished Today—Count Outside City Not to End Until May 15.

When the sun goes down tonight the last opportunity to be included in the big Portland family of 1910 will have passed. If you have an uneasy feeling that perhaps you have not been counted, cut out The Oregonian coupon and mail it with full particulars to Seneca C. Beach, Supervisor of the Census, Lumber Exchange building. The agony will be over for another 10 years with the close of business hours today.

Through an order of the supervisor the enumeration has been kept open three extra days so that mistakes of commission and omission may be rectified. With the close of the official work tonight all Portland districts will have been checked in the wake of the "yellow ribbons" and every doubt officially and effectually removed as to the correct tabulation of every inhabitant of the city, from Snow Town to Portland Heights. Fourteen days' careful canvass of the various districts were made by the regulars appointed by the Census Bureau and one day by both regulars and 700 volunteers. If anybody was missed it is believed he was dodging the Fish Warden and was thus unable to appear in public.

Last night the work of checking had progressed far enough to close the 127 districts, and it is believed at headquarters that the remainder will be finished during the day.

The count in the rest of the Second Congressional District will continue until May 15, except in Astoria and Baker City. In these towns it will end Thursday. It will require more than a month to secure all the data pertaining to agriculture, mining and stock-raising in Oregon.

It is planned by Supervisor Beach to close the headquarters on June 1. Before then it is believed all the blanks will have been shipped to Washington. Mr. Beach was yesterday in receipt of a letter of thanks from F. P. Bodinson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Baker City, in recognition of his action in extending the time for a proper enumeration of that Eastern Oregon town.

Among those who have endeavored to keep in close touch with the operation of the Census Bureau it is still predicted that the population of Portland proper will reach 200,000. With all the suburban towns added, divided from the parent city by imaginary lines only, the number of inhabitants is placed at 230,000. Mr. Beach refuses to be quoted on the subject or to furnish anything in the way of reliable information.

OREGON APPLE DAY, PLAN Chamber of Commerce Seeks Celebration Like "Raisin Day."

Oregon is to have an apple day if the plans started by the Chamber of Commerce materialize. At the regular monthly meeting of the board of trustees yesterday, Secretary Gillner was instructed to commence a line of campaign calculated to have a day set and officially recognized in this state to be known as apple day.

The idea is taken from raisin day in California. In that state April 30 has been set apart for the payment of homage to its principal fruit industry, the raisin. Every resident of the state is asked to be sure and eat raisins on that day at all events and every other day of the year, if possible. Raisin festivals are held in many of the central markets for the fruit and, instead of using carnival confetti, fun is created by showering raisins on each other by the participants.

Apples being the principal fruit product of Oregon, it is thought a like observance of that fruit would add much to its popularity and assist in spreading the fame of Oregon apples over the country. Secretary Gillner will write letters, setting forth this plan to the various commercial organizations of the state. The full details of the plan have not as yet

JUSTICE POSTPONES CASE

Counsel Interprets Law to Mean That During Closed Season Possession of Fish Is Evidence of Statute's Violation.

That whenever there is a closed season on salmon in any part of the state anyone in any other part is liable to arrest for having fish in his possession; and that the burden is on any such person to prove his fish were not caught in closed waters, is the contention the attorney for Master Fish Warden McAllister is seeking to establish in a case now pending before Justice of the Peace Olson.

MRS. M. D. WISDOM IS DEAD

Woman Well Known Throughout Oregon Had Been Ill Some Time.

Mrs. M. D. Wisdom died early yesterday morning at the home of her sister, Mrs. Samuel White, 619 Wedder street, after a protracted illness. She was widely known throughout the state. She is survived by two sons, Stanton and Ereston Wisdom; two step-sons, Layton and Merion Wisdom, and two sisters, Mrs. Samuel White and Miss Ella Brown.

Funeral services will be held at Trinity Church this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

of a shipment of salmon from Oregon City, seized on Ross Island during the recent war up the Willamette.

It was the contention of the defense that the men were protected by Judge McBride's decision upholding the right of the fishermen at Oregon City to ply their trade. To this the prosecution rejoined that even if the fish were legally caught, they were illegally brought to Portland and that the burden was upon the defense to show that they were not caught out of season.

Justice Olson expressed a strong desire to see the fishing laws rigidly enforced, but was in doubt as to the justice of the prosecution's contention. He therefore set the case over to May 9, and the attorneys will file briefs.

CATCHES CONTINUE GOOD

Water Conditions Not Favorable for Trap Fishing.

ASTORIA, Or., May 3.—(Special).—The catches of salmon by the gillnetters were excellent again last night and in some instances even better hauls were made than on the previous day. It is yet too early to tell whether there is a run of fish entering the river or whether those caught are salmon which have been "loafing" about the bay for some time before proceeding on their way to the spawning grounds.

However, one fisherman caught 600 pounds near the mouth of the river last night, and this is an indication that the salmon are just coming in from salt water. The Bay traps did not make any large catches, but this is not surprising, as the water conditions are not favorable for trap fishing. Shad are making their appearance in larger numbers than usual for this early in the season and are retailing at 4 cents a pound.

MEMBERS WILL TILL SOIL

Four Acres on Mount Tabor Put in Potatoes by Y. M. C. A.

Four acres of land east of Mount Tabor will be used by the Young Men's Christian Association this summer in connection with its open-air campaign. The use of the land was donated by the owner, C. F. Fisher, who is interested in the movement started by Educational Director French and Physical Director Grilley, of the Y. M. C. A. The entire tract will be planted to potatoes by members of the association.

The planting of this acreage will be additional to the potato-growing contest that is being conducted by the Y. M. C. A. In the contest, each member of the association, who desires, is planting to potatoes a single lot, in competition for a silver cup, offered for the largest quantity and best quality of potatoes produced.

Groups of men will be taken out each Saturday afternoon to the Fisher tract. There they will prepare the land, plant and cultivate the potatoes. This work will be part of a system originated by Mr. Grilley to induce men, employed in offices, to spend more of their time in the open air.

CHARGE OF PIRACY FAILS

B. H. Smith and E. H. Botich, Are Acquitted in Police Court.

Acquitted by a jury in the Municipal Court yesterday of a charge which practically amounted to river piracy, B. H. Smith and E. H. Botich were also cleared on a charge of violating the harbor regulations.

The men were arrested by Harbor Master Speier for having in their possession two piling belonging to Relfour, Guthrie & Co., and after an attempt to convict them of the larceny of the piles had failed, they were brought into court for violating the ordinance which requires that all valuable articles picked up while floating in the river must be turned over to the harbor master.

A jury of five men heard the evidence, the taking of which consumed the whole afternoon, and refused to convict the two accused.
