This is the accepted slogan for Oregon, and according to records of sales of farm lands made in the last few years, investors and homeseekers show their faith in the prediction.

A tract of 2000 acres, located most favorably in the line of rapid development in the Willamette Valley, 30 miles east of Portland, 15 miles from Gresham, is offered for sale by the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company at a low price per acre on favorable terms.

A projected railroad line is to pass through or near this tract, a county road already furnishing means of entry and exit for vehicles, including automobiles.

In the wooded portion 22,000,000 feet of good saw timber stand ready for the woodsman's ax, and the timber at present prices would go far toward paying for the entire tract. There is a lumber mill within three miles in operation.

There are fully 900 acres of level or gently sloping farming land, available when cleared, and from 700 to 800 acres of fine grazing land now waiting the farmer or dairyman.

Two good-sized creeks, with numerous tributaries, furnish an abundance of water.

The tract will be disposed of as a whole, though a new owner could subdivide to great
