JURY CHOSEN TO HEAR GOHL CASE

Men Selected With Less Difficulty Than Was at First Expected.

CALM DESERTS DEFENDANT

Great Precautions Being Taken to Prevent Jurors Having Any Contact With Outside World During Progress of Trial.

MONTESANO, Wash., May 4.—Late to-day a jury was secured to try William Gonl, charged with the murder of Charles (Herman) Hadberg, at Abendeen, Wash., on or about December 23, 1969. The selection of the 12 jurymen was accomplished with considerably less diffi-culty than was anticipated, and from statements made by counsel in the case, the trial should not require much over a week to dispose of.

The men who will try Gohl are:
G. C. Mosk, dentist, Montesano.
William Isaac, millworker, Elma. E. Winston, engineer, Oakville.
V. T. Neeley, rancher, Oakville.
H. W. Smithson, logger, Hoquaim.
W. Wood, farmer, Satsop.
O. Stewart, farmer, Oakville. Edward Hackett, logger, Summit, J. N. Simpson, farmer, Elma. O. L. Murray, farmer, Elma. J. H. Foster, farmer, Montesano. W. L. Byng, city employe, Aberdeen.

Challenges Exhausted.

In securing the jury, the defense exhausted all of its 12 peremptory challenges and the prosecution exercised all but one of its peremptories. As soon as the jury was sworn in, it was given into the charge of four balliffs, who were instructed to take every precaution to prevent any communication between the members and persons out-in order further to make certain there shall be no clandestine intercourse with the jurymen, a dwelling has been rented in which the jury will be confined while not in attendance at the trial. Their meals will be taken in the dining-room of a local hotel, a portion of which has been partitioned off for their use.

State Will Begin.

Tomorrow morning, the state will make fits opening statement. A similar statement presenting the contentions of the defendant will follow, after which the introduction of evidence will begin.

The first evidence to be introduced by the state will seek to prove the death of Hadberg and the identification as Hadberg's of the corpse recovered February 3, last, from the mud flats at the mouth of Indian Creek.

of Indian Creek The strain occasioned, perhaps, by the monotony of the selection of the jury, is apparently beginning to tell on Gohl. Monday and practically all day yesterday the defendant maintained a cheer-day the defendant maintained a cheerful demeanor. Today, however, Gohl appeared to be worried.

Mrs. Gohl, the prisoner's wife, occuples a seat near her husband, at all the sessions of the court.

As was the case the first two days, crowds filled the courtroom, and there is every indication that when the taking of testimony begins, standing room will be at a premium.

TAX COMMISSION ON TOUR

Segregation of Properties to Be Principal Topic Discussed.

SALEM, Or., May 4.-Tax Commissioners Galloway and Eaton left today for the interior of the state for the purpose of meeting the different county assessors. of meeting the different county assessors. The law provides that the State Tax Commission shall visit each county in the state at least once a year and give forth any information desired by the respective assessors. The main subject to be discussed by the commission upon this trip will be the segregating of the properties to be assessed by the counties and that to come under the commission's supervision.

The late tax law takes the assessment of railroads and telegraph and telephone lines in regular operation out of the hands of the County Assessors and leaves the assessment of such corporation utili-ties and holdings to the State Tax Com-mission. In several of the counties, this mission, here missenstrued by the malaw has been misconstrued by the aslaw has been misconstrued by the aslessors in that a certain number of railread, telegraph and telephone lines havebeen overlooked by the local assessor with the understanding the commission would make the necessary assessment. The corporation holdings thus omitted consist of legging railways, temporary portable saw mills. This matter will be taken up with the assessors thoroughly this week and it is probable instructions will be mailed out within a short time relative to the corporation utility assess-

Right of Secretary of Interior to tional forests and Indian reservations. The indictments were returned last Fall. The most important legal point involves a test of the right of the Secretary of the Interior to enforce rules laid down by him in the governing of the forest It is asserted by counsel for the defendants that the act of the Secretary of the Interior prohibiting the sale of the liquor was not authorized by Congress and is contrary to the Constitution.

The unique defense is set up that one saloon stood upon a mining claim located under the laws which provide for the segregation of all mineral lands from the forest reserve, and was under the jurisdiction of the state laws.

Apple Crop Heavy.

SALEM, Or., May 4 .- (Special.)-Fruitgrowers in the vicinity of Salem are growers in the vicinity of Salem are alarmed at the appearance of a new pest, pronounced by authorities at the Oregon Agricultural College to be bud moth. The pest is a little brown worm that destroys the bud.

So far the worm has been found principally in the blossoms of Bartlett pears, but in the opinion of fruit men, there is no reason why cherries, prunes and apples may not be affected by the same pest.

C. A. Park, County Fruit Inspector, has taken the matter up with the entomologists at the Oregon Agricultural College and Professors Jackson and Bidwell are expected here temorrow to make an examination of several orchards that a single property of the county's actual expenses for the large that a single property of County Clerk Hormologists at the Oregon Agricultural College and Professors Jackson and Bidwell are expected here temorrow to make an examination of several orchards that all nature are always seminanted by physicians. L. M. Gilbert, whose orchard is located

L. M. Gilbert, whose orchard is located in the hill country south of the city, estimates that he will have 25 per cent of a cherry crop, while his Italian prunes will yield about half a crop. He states that in many orchards prunes were poorly cultivated last year and that prune trees did not set fruit spurs. Mr. Gilbert states, however, that the indications are that the sizes of prunes will be larger than usual and that this probably will make up for what is lost in quantity.

GAMBLER TAKES OWN LIFE

Jack Price Commits Suicide in His Cabin; Tires of Inactive Life,

GRANTS PASS, Or., May 4.—(Special.)
—Known as a gambier, his only occupation, Jack Price committed suicide some time Sunday night in his cabin, about nine miles from Leland. He shot himself, blowing off his head. He was found lying on his bed, which was saturated with blood. Price had a mining claim on Grave Creek, where he occasionally went for a rest from his season at the gaming tables in and about this part of the country.

No reason can be assigned for the deed, as it is believed Price was well fixed with this world's goods. So far as known he was not despondent, though residents have expressed the hellef that he had grown tired of the inactive life he had been leading for years.

Apple-Growers Will Be Present. ALBANY, Or., May 4—(Special.)—From present indications there will be a big attendance of apple-growers of the Williamstte Valley at the meeting to be held here next Friday, May 6.
