It threa-tened to run on endlessly until the ulti-matum came from the County Court and forced a prompt settlement. When the matter was finally brought up before Mr. Reynolds and Mr. Lom-hard, three different proposals were made. Mr. Reynolds offered to divide the prop-erry, each taking half; offered to sell his interests at a stated figure to Mr. Lom-bard or to buy Mr. Lombard's interest at the same figure. Mr. Lombard did not want to sell, and finally accepted the proposition to buy, paying Mr. Reynolds on the basis of $1250 an acre for the 101 acres.

TRAIL IS MADE TO HEAD

Seaside Turns Out With Axes and

Shovels to Complete Work.

SEASIDE, Or., May 5.-(Special.)-Under the leadership of F. Dresser, president of the Seaside Commercial Club, the trail to Tillamook Head was completed Wednesday by a large party of workers. All business houses and factories in town closed and the men were divided into squads, one taking the trail where it begins on the beach, and felling logs along the line. Another followed with spades and shovels to level the hollows too shallow for bridging.

It was hard work at first, for many roots and stumps had to be got out of the way, but towards the summit the work grew lighter. Late in the afternoon the last bridge was com-pleted about 100 yards from the edge of the precipice overlooking the ocean.

Lunch was served at noon by the lady Maccabees and other women. W. S. Henniger, president of the Seaside Lumber & Manufacturing Company, donated sufficient lumber to erect a building at the summit of the trail. Conations of $25 each were made by Dan J. Moore, T. W. Welter and J. E. Dates, which will be used for furnishig conveniences along the trail.
