urgency. It is a catchword... with to designate the ravages of the personal designs of men who think it popular to go off on their own hook in politics, without regard for the purposes for which men associate in party and hold government responsible, and who insist that they are to have their way what they want.

Now the whirlwind. On the first page of the Seattle Daily Times for Sunday, May 8, appears in large headlines the following: "Seattle, 230,000; Portland, 210,000."

Now, of course, we don't believe that there is any great scheme for a bogus census. It is not as if we don't know that there will be no count there above the regular one.

SUNDAY ACCIDENTS. The eagerness with which pleasure-seekers flock to the open country, on the first bright Sunday in Spring, is, unfortunately, not at all times watched or attended by the caution essential to safety.

A BACKSET TO AVIATION. The military prospects of aviation do not look quite so brilliant as they did a few weeks ago. Then every body was prophesying that the next war would be fought in the air.

OUR BELOVED DRUGS. Persons who rail indiscriminately at "faith cures" of all sorts often lose sight of one very important aspect of the subject. It is a valuable influence which all the methods of faith cure, by prayer, or so-called "miracles" in common that discourage the use of drugs.

NATURAL RESULT OF NON-PARTISANSHIP. Fate of the railroad bill in Congress displays the logical result of non-partisanship. "Independent," insurgent politicians.

WILL CLEAR THE DECKS. Secretary Ballinger's announced determination to engage in housecleaning, or "snake-killing," in his department will no doubt be seized on by the "muckrakers" as an opportunity for further slander and vilification.

Being Fair. Troy Times. To say unpleasant things in a pleasant way is a fine art. A certain writer of the Boston Herald has developed talents along this line, and his verdict on the great of his chosen period is much like that of the New Hampshire parson at the funeral of a politician.

More in the Future Than the Past. Kansas City Star. James Bryce says Americans don't know much about their own country. The billboard funds will not give them a chance.

of the disease, and therefore ceases to catch. Meanwhile the ravages of the malady continue unchecked, and death is in fact hastened by the remedy. Should the patient by chance recover, he finds himself addicted to some drug which makes him a hopeless slave all his life.

SCARLET FEVER. Than scarlet fever there is no disease more justly dreaded in the family and the community. Of the class known as filth diseases, it is distinctly preventable and actively contagious.

The owners of the British bark Donna Francisca, which sailed out of the Columbia yesterday, found for Europe. They just completed a useful but expensive experiment with the laws of supply and demand.

Another bridge was planned to be erected across the Columbia River at Ringgold Bay. The Ringgold bridge is not there; the line that we started to connect with it has been stopped; the grass is growing over them.

Now, the merchants of this town to a large extent are associated in favor of letting the roads come in here without this terminal rate provision. There is no question about that.

Chicago Record-Herald. "What was the cause of your quarrel?" asked the judge, addressing the lady who wanted a divorce.

Who's always on the jump and go? Who tells the wind which way to blow? Who looks no friends and fears no foe? Now, what's the use of asking that!

Who loves to hit a stinging crack? Who pretends to be coming back? And what will happen then? Alack! The Lord only knows!

Who of the White House has a lease? Who used to boss New York's police? Who's now for universal peace? Why, you know, of course!

face the punishment which they have earned. Now that the investigation has disclosed the great handicap under which Mr. Ballinger labored, with mutiny, treason and insubordination permeating his department, the necessity of his announced policy for the future can be fully appreciated by all fair-minded people.

Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, is one of those unreasonable men who possess that old fogy notion that "it's a poor rule that won't work both ways." The Senator from the cotton belt wants to know why the Department of Justice has suddenly discovered that it is a crime to speculate in cotton.

MR. BALLINGER SHOULD REMAIN HIS WORK IS NOT YET ENDED, AND HE SHOULD FINISH IT. The report that Hon. Richard A. Ballinger, Secretary of the Interior, will find an excuse for resigning soon after the conclusion of the Ballinger-Pinchot hearing has no semblance of probability.

It is impossible to believe that Mr. Ballinger will seek occasion to retire. It would be proof of a weakness that he has never shown. No doubt he has felt, at times, that public officials should be held to a higher standard of conduct than ordinary citizens.

Now, there are miles and miles of that grade out in that canyon and beyond upon where the grass is growing today, and whether it will ever be finished or not, I don't know.

Decision to Remain a Private Citizen Averts Tammany Conflict. New York Evening Post. If the statements in a Washington paper, quoted in our dispatches today, are correct, the Tammany Club will not be able to accept as correct, they would furnish renewed evidence of the ex-President's political sagacity.

INTELLIGENT CARE OF BOOKS. Suggestions for the Owner and the Borrower. Boston Herald. Milwaukee Wisconsin. Never hold a book near a fire. Never drop a book upon the floor. Never turn leaves of a book over.

Chicago News. The near-great man imagines he is the real thing. Some men are proud of their ability to tell a lie that passes for the truth.

Stars and Stripes for Church. Baltimore News. While several churches in Baltimore have had electric signs of "Welcome" placed over their entrances and some have entered other outward signs to attract the people to services, it remained for the Baltimore Union Baptist Methodist Episcopal Church, Cross street, near Covington, to have a flag raised in its edifice.

Reflections of a Bachelor. New York Press. It's so natural to lie it's astonishing how few people do it well. "The more you think he can have being out nights the more his wife knows she can't."

LIFE'S SUNNY SIDE. A man in West Newton, who has many friends, was puzzled the other day when one of them called him to account for neglecting his wife.

"What in the world is the trouble?" said the friend. "You used to be madly in love with Mrs. Blank. Don't you care for her any more?"

"Well, if you love her, how does it come that you haven't spoken to her for the last six years?" asked the friend.

"Oh, that," said the man. "The fact is, I hate to interrupt her."—Boston Traveller.

"As every one who has visited London knows," said a young man formerly attached to our embassy at the British capital, "the number of passengers carried in certain buses is limited by regulation."

"Once a kindly Irish conductor, though quite aware that his bus was full, had permitted a young and sickly woman to squeeze on. The bus had not proceeded far before the usual crank spoke up, 'Conductah! he exclaimed, 'You've one over your number, and that's the law!'"

"Have I, sir?" asked the conductor with affected concern. Then, beginning to count from the opposite end, leaving the complainant on the last, he repeated: "Wan, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fourteen,
