FISHERMEN ARE FINED

TWO FIFTY DOLLAR PENALTIES ECHOES OF SALMON WAR.

Cases of John W. Kelly and John F. Meehan Are Disposed of in Justice Court.

Convicted of fishing for salmon in the Willamette River during the season provided by law to be closed, John W. Kelly, master of the launch Bonnie, and John F. Meehan, of the Portland Fish Company, were fined $50 each in Justice Court yesterday. The two salmon operators were arrested by Sheriff Stevens, and Sheriff White, of Columbia County, April 24, after a spectacular chase down the Columbia River.

Salmon bigger, better and more plentiful than for 29 years, is the report that reached Master Fish Warden McAllister from all points along the river. Not only is the supply large but the fish are running to cold-storage size, big fat 35-pound fellows being very plentiful and nearly all Chinooks.

The size and quality of the fish is taken by the warden to indicate that they are hatchery-born, it being held that artificial and protected brooding give the fry better chance than they have in the open and permit more rapid development.

That the good effects noted this year will be found in much greater measure next year, is predicted, as there is every indication that more fish got by the various impediments and passed on up to the spawning grounds than ever before since the fishing industry developed.

The superintendent of the hatchery on the McKenzie River reports to Mr. McAllister that he has between 2000 and 3000 behind the racks at his station and this gives promise of a take of 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 eggs at that hatchery. With these favorable prospects, the fish warden expects to see a geometrical progression of the number of fish in the river each year until a maximum is reached and the life of the industry is put beyond the power of the greedy to curtail.

12 NEW CLERKS NEEDED

PORTLAND POSTAL BUSINESS OUTGROWS FACILITIES.

Official in Search of Room for Division Headquarters Finds All Buildings Full.

Application was yesterday made by Assistant Postmaster Williamson for the appointment of 12 additional clerks for general duty in the Portland Postoffice. A strong effort will be made to secure the salary allotment which will be required to meet the additional expense. The phenomenal growth of the postal business of Portland for the first four months of 1910, will be urged as the chief reason.

For January, February, March and April the postal receipts show a clear gain of 21 per cent over the same period for the previous year.

George L. Van Dyke, assistant superintendent for the division of salaries and allowances, was in Portland yesterday, and received an object lesson in the necessities of the postal service at this point. Van Dyke came to Portland to establish a new division headquarters for Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and Alaska. After securing the Postoffice building and endeavoring to jam one more office into the Custom-House building, Mr. Van Dyke was compelled to telegraph the Postmaster-General that he could not secure quarters in Portland without paying rent.

The incident will be seized upon by supporters of the appropriation for a new postal building to sustain their argument.

For the first three months of 1910 Seattle was enabled to show an increase in postal receipts amounting to 14 per cent, divided as follows: January 7 per cent, February 3 per cent and March 5 per cent. The phenomenal showing in March, the last month of the fiscal year, enabled Seattle to pass the million mark of yearly receipts.

Experts on such matters around the Portland Postoffice are of the opinion that the monthly statement to be issued by the department will cut Seattle to an average increase of about 8 per cent for the first four months of 1910.

CLOUDS OBSCURE COMET

SKYGAZERS ARE DISAPPOINTED ONCE MORE.

Reports of Those Who Obtained Good View Sunday Morning Get Many Out of Bed.

Portland astronomers, amateur and professional, failed to obtain a clear view of Halley's comet yesterday morning. A few there were in the southern part of the city who could faintly discern the outlines of the visitor, but those living on Portland Heights and in the downtown district failed to see it.

The clouds rose slowly above the horizon, and while there were a number of gazers awaiting a view of the comet which had appeared so brilliantly the day before, the chance was not afforded yesterday. In the most southern portions of Portland, however, there were a few who reported they could see the outlines of the comet, but even here the haze was such that the comet gazers could make nothing of the tail other than a faint blur, while the head was scarcely more discernible.

On Sunday morning there were hundreds who obtained a clear view of the comet in all its glory and the stories told by these awakened the interest of their auditors so that there were many who stayed up only to be disappointed yesterday morning. With the return of clear weather, the comet will again be easily visible, although it is now rising later and later each day.

END WELLS-FARGO INQUIRY

Testimony Regarding Rates Concluded Before Commission.

Evidence was concluded yesterday afternoon in the inquiry of the State Railway Commission into the merchandising and extra special express rates of Wells-Fargo & Co. out of Portland to various Oregon points on the Southern Pacific. The session yesterday was held in the office of Wallace McCann, attorney for the express company, in the Electric building. No decision was announced.

It was an adjourned session from that recently held in Salem, when Eugene Shelby, Pacific Coast superintendent of the company, and Norman Titus, chief clerk of the local office, were witnesses for the company.

Mr. Titus and Harvey Beckwith, Portland agent, testified yesterday, after which Mr. McCann addressed the commission. All the members of the commission, Thomas K. Campbell, Oswald West and C. B. Hitchison, were present.
