FIVE-DAY STEAMER SERVICE ASSURED

Schwerin Promises Portland to Run Three Splendid Vessels on Coast.

ASIATIC LINE IS FOR SALE

Manager of Steamers Says Trans-Pacific Service Loses Money. Docks to Handle New Steamers Will Be Next Thing Provided.

That a five-day service between Portland, San Francisco and San Pedro, with three steamers, will be maintained by the San Francisco & Portland Steamship Company is the assurance given by R. P. Schwerin, general manager of the line, who arrived last night on the new steamer Bear from San ager of the line, who arrived last night on the new steamer Bear from San Francisco.

The steamships Bear, Beaver and Rose City will be used on the run as soon as the latter two have had a thorough overhauling, such as the Bear has just undergone. The Kansas City, now laid up for repairs, is not provided for in the plan.

The Beaver leaves today for San Francisco, where she will undergo a thorough renovation, made necessary by her trip around the Horn, and will have oil-burning furnaces installed. As soon as she is in condition to return to service the Rose City will be given an overhauling after having had two years' hard buffeting. When all three boats have been thoroughly overhauled the five-day service will be commenced and will continue as long as business warrants it, says Mr. Schwerin.

"That takes time, you know," said he, "but we will have the three boats running to San Pedro as soon as it can be done."

Asiatic Line Is Losing.

Asked if any improvements were contemplated in the Portland & Asiatle service, Mr. Schwerin replied with a very emphatic "no."

"We lost $200,000 on the liners last year and have carried steadily increasing balances on the wrong side of the ledger," he said. "Do you think it is right, because the Portland Flouring Mills burned, that we should incur further loss by making additions to a service that has not paid for a long time? If there is any Portland merchant or body of merchants that thinks it can make the line pay, he can have it at a most reasonable price.

"We are going anywhere and every-it can make the line pay, he can have it at a most reasonable price.

"We are going anywhere and everywhere to find business for the line. The Selja on her present trip out is going to Manila for the reason that there was a little additional business for her there, but you know as well as I do that no steamer line can depend on lumber shipments and maintain a schedule. Portland has not been fair to the P. & A. in this matter. I don't think there is anyone else who would sustain a continued loss just to help out Portland, and that is what we are doing. Even at San Francisco we have not been getting enough through businot been getting enough through busi-ness to fill our ships.

Does Not Agree With Malcolm.

Mr. Schwerin spoke of original bills of lading being required by Collector of Customs Malcolm as a thing which needed no discussion. When asked if he had taken the matter up with Washington, he replied that he could not speak of it, but continued: speak of it, but continued:
"I did take the matter up with the Treasury Department and was told that, if Collector Malcolm insided upon the original bill of inding, he was within his rights When told that Mr. Malcolm contended that the collectors at Scattle and San Francisco were following the same polley as he did, Mr. Schwerin simply

"At any rate, my bond is good in San Francisco, but I can't get them to take It here," he said.

The steamer Bear, which arrived at the Alaska dock at 6:30 last night, is an exact duplication of her sister ship, the Beaver, except that she is ship-shape to the last strand of marlin and fresh and sweet with new paint. She made a beautiful sight as she swing into her dock with all her business for made a beautiful sight as she swing into her dock with all her bunting flying. She made only fair time up the coast, as her oil burners have not yet "found themselves." The trip was uneventful and devoid of very rough weather. All told there were 336 passengers. Mrs. J. M. Arthur and her daughter, Mrs. F. H. Irwin, were among them.

Another unusual offering is that of Ethel Young, a slender slip of femininity who sings in a baritone voice. Her numbers are not pretentious, unless one discounts a melodramatic melody about what the church bells said. It sounds had enough to have been written by Charles K. Harris.

THE act that went biggest yester-day at the Grand Theater was day at the Grand Theater was that of Matt Keefe and Joe Bruno. Keefe is billed as "vaudeville's sweetest songster" and Bruno is a talented harpist. Because of a cold which has laid him off in other cities recently, Keefe sang only two songs, too few to satisfy the audience. Bruno accompanied him, played solos and gave imitations on the harp of a banjo, flute and music box.

A return to the old wheat-shipping rate of 27 shillings and sixpence by the Salling Ship Owners' Association is indicated by a rumor circulating in shipping circles yesterday. Shippers were generally disposed to scout the story as improbable on its face, in view of the present offerings.

Already we are beginning to be cramped for room here, and when the new railroad bridge is built and cuts off a pleec of the Alaska dock, do not know what we shall do. "Four years ago I suffered severely with a terrible eczema, being a mass of sores from head to feet and for six weeks confined to my bed. During that time I suffered continual torture from itching and burning. After being given up by my doctor I was advised to try the Cuticura Remedies. After the first bath with Cuticura Soap and application of Cuticura Ointment I enjoyed the first good sleep during my entire illness. I also used Cuticura Resolvent and the treatment was continued for about three weeks. At the end of that time I was able to be about the house, entirely cured, and have felt no ill effects since.
